Undo Bill

Q. Can you tell me the current status of state Senate Bill 35? I haven't seen much news coverage of it. A.A.H., Lakewood.

A. This bill— authored by Sen. John Schmitz, R-Tustin — is scheduled to be read before the state Assembly subcommittee on school finance June 2. The measure passed the Senate Feb. 20, and was sent to the Assembly on the same day. The bill would eliminate a recently passed statute allowing school districts to establish maximun school tax rates. Schmitz' bill would transfer this power back to the voters. The law it would annul — Assembly Bill 272 — was supported on the basis that it would give school districts needed flexibility in financing much-needed buildings and classes, according to a spokesman for the Legislative Bill Room in Sacramento.

Since then, I have been required to register with U.S. Customs each time I leave the country, and check in with them when I return. Is there any way I can be relieved of this requirement? H.B.W., San Pedro.

A. The law — Customs Code 1407 — has no statute of limitations for the registration requirement, so it has been interpreted to mean that persons in your situation must register indefinitely. Oscar Polsuch, customs agent in charge at Terminal Island, said there is nothing his office can do to change your status, but that he would be glad to talk with you and perhaps forward your case to the U.S. Customs Bureau in Washington, D.C. Fishing Vessel Seized

Peru-Tuna Boat Incidents Draw Washington Ire

LIMA, Peru (UPI)—Peru Friday seized another U.S. fishing boat on charge of violating Peruvian fishing water. The seizure drew immediate criticism in Washington and a move to end the sale of Peruvian fish products in the United States.

Peru, the largest fish producing nation in the world, claims its territorial waters extend 200 miles offshore. The U.S. recognizes only a 12-mile limit.

U.S. Embassy sources here said the boat captured was the Western King, seized at about 3 a.m. about 25 miles off the coast of Peru.

Informed sources said the ship had paid a $10,000 fine and purchased a Peruvian fishing license for $5,000 and was now free to leave port.

* * * *

THE SOURCES said Sheridan Dickenson, U.S. consular agent at Piura, in Northern Peru, has been sent to the Port of Talara to investigate the capture.

In Washington, Rep. Thomas Pelly, R-Wash., said hearings will be held June 4 on a bill he introduced earlier this year which would ban Peruvian fish imports if another U.S. fishing boat was seized.

Chairman Edward A. Garmatz, of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, blasted "the continuing hostility of Peru towards U.S. fishing boats," and said he would meet soon with top State Department officials "to explore the entire question."

The Western King, owned jointly by Seattle, Wash., and San Diego seamen, was the fourth American fishing boat seized by Peru this year.

SUNNY DAYS WILL STAY ALL WEEK

Merrymaking May weather will continue through the weekend and into next week, according to forecasters, with mountain resorts having the best of it.

Low clouds and fog in night and morning hours along the coast, including Long Beach, should hold temperatures in the upper 60s and low 70s and ocean breezes will be brisk at times.

In the deserts, the thermometer is expected to climb beyond 100 degrees today and Sunday. Mountain resorts are expecting temperatures near 80.

Tear Gas Used at Stanford

Associated Press

Police used tear gas Friday to break up a demonstration by about 400 persons, most of them Stanford University students, protesting war-related research at the Stanford Research Institute.

Elsewhere, many of the college campuses troubled by disorders earlier in the week were relatively quiet. An orderly sit-in by student activists and sympathizers continued at a Midwestern seminary.

About 150 policemen in Stanford resorted to tear gas after the protesters set fire to a street barricade, broke windows and ignored a warning that there would be arrests if they did not disperse.

There were 14 arrests.

* * * *

MOST OF THE demonstrators are part of the April 3 Movement on the Stanford University campus — a group which staged a sit-in last month at Stanford Research Institute to protest its war-related projects.

SRI and the university have had close ties over 23 years and have the same board of directors. As a result of the protests, the university has announced it will sever its ties with the research institute, but not abruptly.

After they were routed by the police march down Hanover Street, the demonstrators retreated about a mile north from the industrial park to White Plaza on the Stanford campus. There they planned weekend strategy meetings and renewed picketing of SRI Monday.

* * * *

THE EIGHT men and six women arrested, most of them Stanford students, were jailed — the men in Palo Alto and the women in the Santa Clara County women's facility at Milpitas.

Their friends on campus started a paper-bag collection to raise bail. For each of the women and most of the men the amount was $315 and the charge failure to disperse. One or two men, police said, were charged with disturbing the peace.

More than 100 Los Angeles police and California Highway Patrol officers moved through a demonstrator - jammed street at UCLA Friday, dispersing the crowd which had earlier disrupted a meeting of University of California regents.

Officers reported two arrests and two minor injuries in the four-hour fracas which at one point drew an estimated 1,200 student demonstrators.

One of the injured was UCLA chancellor Charles Young, struck on the leg by a demonstrator's placard as he attempted to reason with the students. The other injured man was Los Angeles Times photographer George Fry, struck on the head by a rock.

Officers went into action after the UCLA chancellor — twice drowned out by jeering as he tried to address the demonstrators — told a lieutenant, "I'm through trying to talk to these people."

THE REGENTS meeting began at 10 a.m. with Gov. Ronald Reagan praising the University of California's administration for acting "promptly and decisively" in quelling an earlier campus disorder.

Nine persons were shot by Berkeley police, using shotguns.

Reagan told newsmen the real solution to the problem of campus violence "lies with the university and college administrations."

He said a report by the Assembly Select Committee on Campus Disturbances "contained substantially everything that we've been saying." The committee's report, however, suggested some of the legislation urged by Reagan for dealing with campus turmoil be modified.

Fuel Leak Corrected, Apollo on Schedule

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla., Saturday (AP)—A suspected leak in the Apollo 10 command ship was closed early today and launch officials reported the countdown was proceeding toward a Sunday blastoff for a flight around the moon.

Officials said the trouble was traced to a loose electrical connection, which was tightened. The space agency reported no further problem.

A Saturn 5 rocket is to hurl three astronauts toward an orbit around the moon to pave the way for two Apollo 11 astronauts to make a lunar landing in July.

The trouble cropped up Friday night when the launch crew noted a gradual drop in helium pressure in the ship's reaction control system, a series of jets used to maneuver the craft in space.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the pressure indicated a leak and sent in specialty crews who located the trouble and fixed it.

Officials ordered the countdown to continue while the problem was being studied.

It cropped up only six hours after the Apollo 10 mission director ordered final preparations to proceed for the lunar orbit journey.

Mission director George Hage gave a go-ahead for the final countdown following a 2½-hour discussion on the astronauts, spaceship, flight crew operations, recovery forces and weather.

Astronaut Donald K. Slayton, director of flight crew operations, said Apollo 10 pilots Thomas P. Stafford, John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan were ready for their eight-day flight to pave the way for a July lunar landing.

Working in spacecraft trainers, the pilots practiced how to escape if their huge Saturn 5 rocket should misfire during launch. They then met with scientist-astronaut Dr. Harrison Schmitt, an expert in geology, about lunar features they should look for during 2½ days they are to orbit the moon.

"The most important thing for them to do is to recognize the landing site area chosen for Apollo 11," Schmitt said. "If they can do it, the Apollo 11 crew can do it."

Unit OKs Reagan Budget

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly Ways and Means Committee Friday approved its version of Gov. Ronald Reagan's record $6.2-billion budget and sent the spending program to the full Assembly on a unanimous voice vote.

The final act by the committee was to approve a 5.5 per cent pay boost effective July 1 for 183,500 state employes, including professors at the University of California and the state colleges.

Shortly before the final vote, the committee forbade expenditure of any money for state scholarships, loans, fellowships and grants-in-aid for any student convicted of participating in a violent demonstration.

The budget was $2.3 million higher than the $6,225,633,118-budget proposed by Reagan.

The Senate Finance Committee is about two weeks away from passing its version of the spending program.

The Ways and Means action sets the stage for the first Republican-controlled Assembly in a decade to debate the Republican governor's budget as early as next week.

Mother Who Gave up Baby Finds Him Facing Execution

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A 21-year-old convicted killer, sentenced to die in Louisiana's electric chair, held a tearful reunion by telephone Friday with a mother he hasn't seen for 20 years.

Mrs. Arthur G. Sutton of Greenfield, Ind., said she had been searching for years for the son she gave up for adoption when he was 11 months old.

"I hope you don't hold it against me," Mrs. Sutton told Larry Joe "The Rat" Purkey. "I didn't want to give you up."

A reporter told Purkey moments earlier that his mother had been located. Purkey telephoned Indiana from the office of Lawrence Leonard, assistant warden of the Orleans Parish Prison.

PURKEY was convicted last fall of the Mardi Gras 1968 slaying of Taylor West McLaurin Jr. of Charleston W. Va., and sentenced to die. His case is on appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Hijackers Face A New Threat

NEW YORK — A device that can "see" the metal hidden in your pockets was put into operation at Kennedy Airport Friday, to determine if it might be useful in preventing the hijacking of airliners. It consists of two aluminum rods which detect metal magnetically and signal a record of the amount to a recording device. If a passenger happens to go through the gate with a fully loaded pistol hidden in his hip pocket, the device will "see" it but won't tell anyone. The Federal Aviation Administration is using the device only to get data on the amount of metal the average plane passenger — who doesn't want to go to Cuba — carries on his person. "No conclusions will be drawn. The data will be evaluated with that obtained at other airports.

Ahhh, There's Good News Today

MIAMI — Violence was ignored by the Miami News Friday as the newspaper devoted its pages to the "good news" of the day. "We just got tired of all the reader complaints about the violence in newspapers," said Howard Kleinberg, managing editor.

Among items kept out of the paper were three comic strips, a review of a Broadway play and some television listings. Above the masthead was an editorial by Sylvan Meyer, the editor who wrote: "So, this is a one-day only breather. It deals with what a world might be like without violence. But it doesn't change the world; and only changing the world will give us papers like this every day."

Daughter Born to Slain 'Samaritan'

Combined News Services

A daughter was born to Mrs. Raymond Sansoucie Friday, 4½ months after the father was slain while doing a good deed that touched the heart of the nation. The 8-pound, 7-ounce black-haired girl was named Ruth Ann. "I'm real happy it's a girl because he wanted a girl. And he wanted her named after me." Mrs. Sansoucie told Lena Mercer, Sansoucie's sister. Sansoucie, a 30-year-old Potosi, Mo., automobile assembler, was shot to death New Year's Eve in St. Louis. He had stopped his car and was sprinting after a youth who had snatched a purse from an elderly woman. His wife reached him in time to hear his last words, "I love you." Authorities later charged 17-year-old Lonnie Randolph with second-degree murder. Officers said Randolph told them he saw Sansoucie chasing the purse snatcher and attempted to prevent Sansoucie from catching him. He said the shooting was accidental.

A fund started by the St. Louis Grand Jury Association drew contributions from across the nation and has swelled to more than $93,000 so far. The widow and her daughter will rejoin four older children—two boys and two girls—at the family's home in Cadet, Mo. The two-story structure and a 14-acre tract were purchased with some of the funds. Most of the money went into a trust fund for the family. Besides the trust fund, the Variety Club, a charitable organization, will pay for Mrs. Sansoucie's hospital expenses and contribute $100 monthly to the newborn daughter's support until Ruth Ann is married or has completed her education.

Jan Jubon, 22, a telephone laboratory technician, presented his speeding case in municipal court with documented papers from the FCC that the department's license expired two years ago. Operating radio transmitters such as radar without FCC license is punishable by a maximum of $10,000. "I really didn't expect they wouldn't have a license, but I thought, what the heck, I'll just check into it for a couple of laughs," Jubon said. The FCC revelation surprised the courtroom and magistrate John C. Howe conferred briefly with police and reserved decision on the speeding ticket until next week.

Associated Press

Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty listed his net worth as $171,444 Friday. His opponent in the May 27 runoff election, Councilman Thomas Bradley, said Yorty's financial statement raises more questions than it answers. Yorty said the same about one Bradley issued earlier.

Yorty, seeking a third-term, said he was making his personal financial situation public "to put an end to scurrilous rumor, idle speculation and innuendo fostered by unscrupulous sources.

* * * *

BRADLEY released his financial statement March 20, showing a personal net worth of $47,317. Since then he had demanded Yorty issue a similar statement.

After the mayor listed his assets, Bradley listed several financial questions he felt were not answered and challenged Yorty "to make public disclosure of his income tax returns for the years he has served as mayor."

One Bradley question: Did Yorty receive any personal income from $100-a-plate dinners

* * * *

"TO DEMONSTRATE my good faith in issuing this challenge," Bradley said in a written statement, "I will make public my own income tax returns since I have held public office. I will distribute copies of these returns to the news media on Monday."

Yorty's financial statement listed his assets this way:

—"Our Fifth Street home was purchased in 1940 for $8,300 and is presently assessed at $32,000. It has an outstanding trust deed against it in the amount of $5,508." Asset of $26,492.

—"Our Studio City home was purchased in 1961 for $46,500. It is presently assessed at $55,000 and is subject to a trust deed in the amount of $33,400." Asset of $21,600.

—"We own 10 acres of unimproved land in Arizona purchased in 1959 for $2,100 per acre. It is worth about the same today." Asset of $21,000.

—"We own one odd shaped acre near Lancaster, the remainder of four acres purchased in 1946 for $110. Because of its irregular shape I do not know whether or not it has any market value. Useable land in the area is now worth about $2,000 per acre. This acre may be worth $1,000". Asset of $1,000.

—"We own listed securities with a net value of $74,000 as of May 12, 1967." Asset of $74,000.

—"We have approximately $5,000 in checking and savings accounts." Asset of $5,000.

—"We have contributed to the city employes retirement system." Asset of $22,352.

Yorty said his monthly take home pay was $1,700. He said he did not know the value of his furniture but described it as "nothing unusual."

Of this stock investment, the mayor said it is handled "on a discretionary basis by a close friend in New York who is outstanding in the investment business." Yorty gave no listing of his securities.

Yorty suggested that Bradley's March 20 statement was incomplete in that it did not list his funds in the City Council Pension Account.

"Also, let him list the value of his law partnership and submit a list of clients," Yorty added.

WITNESS CLAIMS

Noguchi Made Death Threat

By MARY NEISWENDER
Staff Writer

Ousted County Coroner Thomas T. Noguchi threatened to assassinate the county's chief administrative officer, threw his chief toxicologist out of his office, and made derogatory statements about minority race members as well as all Americans, the most damning witness against the former coroner testified Friday.

Dr. Yamesh C. Gupta, head of the forensic toxicology department of the coroner's office for the past 2½ years, told a three-member Civil Service Commission hearing the case against Noguchi that because of Dr. Noguchi's actions he complained to Lindon Hollinger, the county's chief administrative officer.

Dr. Gupta, 12th witness in the case against the ex-coroner and chief medical examiner, said three days after Noguchi became coroner he called him into his office and said "Never trust an American." The statement was made, the toxicologist said, with a "serious face, and although it looked like a casual remark, I cannot describe it as a joke."

Under cross-examination, Dr. Gupta said his former boss never even said "hello," but just pulled up a chair next to his and made the statement. The defense contended it was a facetious remark between two minority race members.

Gupta attributed other statements to the Japanese-born pathologist:

"If you're not happy here, you can go back to Ontario (his place of employment before coming to Los Angeles) or India (the place of his birth.)

"If you do a good job I will help you, if you do a bad job I'll send you back to India.

"You know that Hollinger (County Chief Administrative Officer Lindon Hollinger) was sick to his stomach . . . I will personally perform an autopsy on him, but I may have to assassinate him first.

"That Hollinger is not going to do anything (about the budget) I should have assassinated him long ago."

It was during these budget talks, Dr. Gupta told the commission, that Dr. Noguchi "shocked" him by saying: "Go ahead and resign," then ordered him to get "out, out, out" of his office.

"The next day," the India-born medical man said, "I decided to go to Mr. Hollinger."

The appointment with Hollinger, he said, was made by Dr. Noguchi's administrative assistant, Herbert McRoy, the chief prosecution witness.

Backing Dr. Gupta's testimony was Edward Day, senior investigator with the county coroner's office, who described the coroner as having a "very elated expression" during the autopsy of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, a "slight smile" at the helicopter crash in the county which killed 25, and an "expression of joy" when the coroner's office was jammed with the bodies of flu victims.

Final witness was Dr. Donald A. Stuart, a hearing officer for the coroner's office, who said he heard Dr. Noguchi say on two occasions that he wanted a jetliner to crash, fully loaded.

Dr. Stuart said in the 10 months he was at the coroner's office, Dr. Noguchi's actions "deteriorated."

"His speech became rambling, his ideas disoriented, asocial moods became more frequent and pronounced and the moods of depression became lengthier," Dr. Stuart testified.

Only person to come to the doctor's defense was Dr. William G. Eckert, a nationally known pathologist, who described Dr. Noguchi as "outstanding . . . a brilliant mind . . . an intellect which we have too few of."

Dr. Eckert of Wichita, Kan., who holds several medals from foreign countries for his achievement in forensic medicine, testifying for the defense, said in the nine years he has known Noguchi he never heard him make an erratic statement, never knew him to discriminate, swear or seek glory — all charges brought against him by the county.

"Anyone in the country would help him if he had a problem . . . He is an excellent example of a practitioner of forensic medicine. He was in the process of developing the Los Angeles County operation into one of the most outstanding in the world."

The hearing resumes Monday at 9:30 a.m. in the hearing room of the Hall of Administration. Two more doctors are scheduled to testify for the prosecution, capped by the Hollinger.

The defense is expected to open its case by Wednesday.

2nd Death Sentence for Killer

Jesse James Gilbert, already under a 75-year federal sentence for a series of bank robberies, was formally sentenced to death a second time Friday for killing an Alhambra policeman.

Los Angeles Superior Court Judge George M. Dell refused to reduce the death penalty first decreed for Gilbert by a jury last March 12. He also denied a motion for a new trial and another to stay the sentence.

Gilbert, 44, was first sentenced to death in September 1964 for the murder of Sgt. George Davis, 35, who was shot through the head during an $11,492 bank robbery in Jan. 1964.

Following the first death pronouncement against Gilbert, the Supreme Court reversed the sentence in a landmark decision. It was ruled that a suspect must be advised of his right of counsel at a police lineup.

Last Feb. 27, after a second trial, the jury convicted Gilbert of first degree murder and first degree robbery. They recommended death.

Farm Bureau Asks Halt in DDT Use

The state's largest farmer organization, the California Farm Bureau, is calling for a one-year moratorium on use of DDT and a thorough study of the ecological effects of using the pesticide.

Farm Bureau President Allan Grant said Friday the organization's executive board earlier this week voted on the ban-study approach to the controversy. He said the bureau has 60,000 member families.

A BILL is being considered in the state Senate to ban the pesticide in California, which counts more revenue from agriculture than any other state in the nation.

There have been complaints from conservation and other interests that DDT is contaminating parts of the environment.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has outlawed 10 pesticide chemicals for all use in food production and has tightened limitations on 56 others because of residue on food products.

Dr. Harry W. Hays, director of pesticide regulation, said the cancellations affect companies which received one-year extensions in 1968 but did not submit new information or progress reports.

A department spokesman said the 10 pesticide chemicals for which federal registration is canceled include; Anthracene oil, citronella, EMMI, nabam, phenylimercury, monoethano, ammonium acetate, phenylmercury nitrate, phenylmercury urea, potassium cresylate, 8-quinolinol benzoate, and sodium cresylate.

Demonstrators Help Enemy, General Says

By BUCK LANIER

America's student protesters and other anti-war demonstrators are betraying their country and playing into the hands of the enemy in Vietnam.

This was the keynote message delivered Friday at an Armed Forces Day luncheon by Lt. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, assistant commandant of the Marine Corps.

The rugged combat veteran told the luncheon audience at the Century Plaza Hotel in Westwood that Viet Cong and North Vietnamese prisoners are misled to believe all America is in uproar against the war.

News clippings of student disorders and other antiwar incidents are distributed to enemy troops to convince them the people of this country oppose the war effort.

The two-time Navy Cross winner, soon to don his fourth star, lashed out at the tactics and conduct of those "who use mob rule and bigotry in the name of academic freedom."

GEN. LEWIS WALT
Protests Protesters

"This (antiwar) minority has caused (the enemy) to misjudge the true character of the American people — the big majority who are silent supporters of the cause of freedom, but rapidly getting fed up with this type of conduct," he said.

Enemy leaders are finding out that "America means business," Gen. Walt added. "They have lost over 400,000 men and are hurting badly . . ."

The general said the South Vietnamese Army is not yet ready to take over the total defense and security of the country, "but is well on its way."

With the equipment and training being received from the U.S., it appears the South Vietnamese should be ready to do the full job in about a year.

President Nixon's proposal of phased withdrawal, Gen. Walt said, appears to have "every chance in the world of working."

He praised the Long Beach-based battleship New Jersey crew and her role as "Big Mother" in supplying "vital and damn accurate gunfire support" for his Marines and other U.S. and Free World forces ashore in Vietnam.

"We miss those 16-Inchers now, but they will be welcome when she returns for what we all hope and pray will be the final stages of our struggle," he said.

Associated Press

Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty listed his net worth as $171,444 Friday. His opponent in the May 27 runoff election, Councilman Thomas Bradley, said Yorty's financial statement raises more questions than it answers. Yorty said the same about one Bradley issued earlier.

Yorty, seeking a third-term, said he was making his personal financial situation public "to put an end to scurrilous rumor, idle speculation and innuendo fostered by unscrupulous sources.

* * * *

BRADLEY released his financial statement March 20, showing a personal net worth of $47,317. Since then he had demanded Yorty issue a similar statement.

After the mayor listed his assets, Bradley listed several financial questions he felt were not answered and challenged Yorty "to make public disclosure of his income tax returns for the years he has served as mayor."

* * * *

"TO DEMONSTRATE my good faith in issuing this challenge," Bradley said in a written statement, "I will make public my own income tax returns since I have held public office. I will distribute copies of these returns to the news media on Monday."

Yorty's financial statement listed his assets this way:

—"Our Fifth Street home was purchased in 1940 for $8,300 and is presently assessed at $32,000. It has an outstanding trust deed against it in the amount of $5,508." Asset of $26,492.

—"Our Studio City home was purchased in 1961 for $46,500. It is presently assessed at $55,000 and is subject to a trust deed in the amount of $33,400." Asset of $21,600.

—"We own 10 acres of unimproved land in Arizona purchased in 1959 for $2,100 per acre. It is worth about the same today." Asset of $21,000.

—"We own one odd shaped acre near Lancaster, the remainder of four acres purchased in 1946 for $110. Because of its irregular shape I do not know whether or not it has any market value. Useable land in the area is now worth about $2,000 per acre. This acre may be worth $1,000" Asset of $1,000.

—"We own listed securities with a net value of $74,000 as of May 12, 1967." Asset of $74,000.

—"We have approximately $5,000 in checking and savings accounts." Asset of $5,000.

—"We have contributed to the city employes retirement system." Asset of $22,352.

Yorty said his monthly take home pay was $1,700. He said he did not know the value of his furniture but described it as "nothing unusual."

Of this stock investment, the mayor said it is handled "on a discretionary basis by a close friend in New York who is outstanding in the investment business." Yorty gave no listing of his securities.

Yorty suggested that Bradley's March 20 statement was incomplete in that it did not list his funds in the City Council Pension Account.

"Also, let him list the value of his law partnership and submit a list of clients," Yorty added.

WITNESS CLAIMS

Noguchi Made Death Threat

By MARY NEISWENDER
Staff Writer

Ousted County Coroner Thomas T. Noguchi threatened to assassinate the county's chief administrative officer, threw his chief toxicologist out of his office, and made derogatory statements about minority race members as well as all Americans, the most damning witness against the former coroner testified Friday.

Dr. Yamesh C. Gupta, head of the forensic toxicology department of the coroner's office for the past 2½ years, told a three-member Civil Service Commission hearing the case against Noguchi that because of Dr. Noguchi's actions he complained to Lindon Hollinger, the county's chief administrative officer.

Dr. Gupta, 12th witness in the case against the ex-coroner and chief medical examiner, said three days after Noguchi became coroner he called him into his office and said "Never trust an American." The statement was made, the toxicologist said, with a "serious face, and although it looked like a casual remark, I cannot describe it as a joke."

Under cross-examination, Dr. Gupta said his former boss never even said "hello," but just pulled up a chair next to his and made the statement. The defense contended it was a facetious remark between two minority race members.

Gupta attributed other statements to the Japanese-born pathologist:

"If you're not happy here, you can go back to Ontario (his place of employment before coming to Los Angeles) or India (the place of his birth.)

"If you do a good job I will help you, if you do a bad job I'll send you back to India.

"You know that Hollinger (County Chief Administrative Officer Lindon Hollinger) was sick to his stomach . . . I will personally perform an autopsy on him, but I may have to assassinate him first.

"That Hollinger is not going to do anything (about the budget) I should have assassinated him long ago."

It was during these budget talks, Dr. Gupta told the commission, that Dr. Noguchi "shocked" him by saying: "Go ahead and resign," then ordered him to get "out, out, out" of his office.

"The next day," the India-born medical man said, "I decided to go to Mr. Hollinger."

The appointment with Hollinger, he said, was made by Dr. Noguchi's administrative assistant, Herbert McRoy, the chief prosecution witness.

Backing Dr. Gupta's testimony was Edward Day, senior investigator with the county coroner's office, who described the coroner as having a "very elated expression" during the autopsy of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, a "slight smile" at the helicopter crash in the county which killed 25, and an "expression of joy" when the coroner's office was jammed with the bodies of flu victims.

SOME CAMPUSES ARE STILL QUIET

"There is absolutely no request from students for more voice in running the Police Academy," said Pearse Meagher, deputy inspector in charge of the academy, which trains patrolmen.

"We haven't had any unrest yet," he added.

The calm is evident at several other New York City schools.

The president of the McAllister School of Embalming, for example, said, "Our school has been very quiet, no unrest at all."

The Bartenders' International School reports "moderation is the key," and says there's been no problem there either.

TEAR GAS USED

About 20 windows were smashed in the SRI's Hanover Street facility, and walls were painted with slogans, some in letters eight feet high.

At Berkeley, a show of strength by National Guardsmen and California Highway Patrolmen cooled a march on City Hall and broke up a forbidden rally at the University of California Friday.

The action came in the wake of a riot Thursday over use of a university vacant lot as a park.

The Thursday disorder took on an ominous note with disclosure that, of 68 persons hospitalized, at least five were wounded by rifle bullets, apparently fired by demonstrators.

Sheriff's deputies used shotguns lightly loaded with birdshot, which wounded nine persons, but Sheriff Frank Madigan said none of the officers had rifles.

Sixty policemen required first aid. More than 40 arrests were made Thursday.

On Friday, 50 highway patrolmen tossed three tear gas containers and clubbed four or five demonstrators in Sproul Plaza.

A crowd that swelled to about 2,000 followed the patrolmen shouting, "Pigs off campus," and "We want the park."

The crowd marched several blocks to City Hall, followed by 175 guardsmen on foot and others in 13 trucks.

Finding about 500 guardsmen lined up in front of the hall, the throng marched back to the campus, closely followed by guardsmen with bayonets.

At Cambridge, Mass., Harvard graduate student Carl L. Offner of Darien, Conn., was given a one-year jail sentence for assaulting Dean Robert B. Watson during seizure of University Hall April 9.

Offner was the first person charged with assault in the case.

About 170 defendants have been convicted of trespassing in the building takeover and fined $20, as was Offner.

At City College of New York, preparations were made by Acting President Joseph J. Copeland to resume negotiations with dissident Negro and Puerto Rican students seeking a separate school of black and Puerto Rican studies and an increase in enrollment of minority students.

Copeland, despite a plea by the school Faculty Senate, has refused to ask police to leave the campus.

At East Lansing, Mich., a group of Michigan State University students, members of the Reserve Officers Training Corps, claimed a "military" victory over militant Students for a Democratic Society.

The SDS, attempting Thursday to invade the ROTC headquarters, were repulsed after fist fights, shoving and pushing.

Occidental Suspends 42 Students

The suspensions were voted by the Interim College Council following a marathon meeting that lasted 11 hours.

The students were suspended for the remainder of the academic year, or until June 15.

* * * *

ANY SENIORS or graduate students seeking degrees will not be able to graduate, a spokesman for the college reported.

Arson Officers Investigate Fire

Arson investigators Friday sought the cause of a $5,000 fire that gutted a bedroom, bathroom and closet at 7941½ Imperial Highway and forced evacuation of the apartment complex.

Early morning Imperial Highway traffic was tied up for almost two hours because of fire fighting operations, California Highway Patrol officers reported.

LICENSE-LIFTING

Assembly Hits Medi-Cal Cheats

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly passed a bill Friday which would allow the Senate to lift the license of any doctor suspended from the Medi-Cal program.

An identical measure was killed Thursday by the Senate Finance Committee.

Without debate, the Assembly agreed to substitute the roll call on another bill, approved 63-0, to the Medi-Cal measure and another which would set up procedures for suspending a doctor or medical service provider from the program.

* * * *

BOTH MEASURES introduced by Assemblyman Gordon Duffy, R-Hanford, are supported by the Reagan Administration.

Meanwhile, the Senate Friday approved two other bills, one to crack down on conflicts of interest by doctors in the Medi-Cal program the other to make defrauding the program a specific crime.

The author, Senate President Pro Tem Howard Way, R-Exeter, said the bills are supported by the California Medical Association and the California Hospital Association.

* * * *

THE SENATE Finance Committee killed Thursday a bill by Way which would do the same as one of Duffy's bills: make suspension from the Medi-Cal program grounds for suspension or revocation of the practitioner's license.

The main opposition came from Sen. Stephen Teale, D-West Point, a physician who said, "I'm not going to vote to suspend a man's ability to earn a living just because he got himself crossways with an agency."

The committee suggested some changes in Way's bill to set up procedures for suspending a doctor of medical service provider from the program.

SENATORS' PROBE 'SENSATIONALIZED'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Medical Association's president Friday called the U.S. Senate Finance Committee's investigation of Medi-Cal payments to doctors a "sensationalized replay."

Dr. Albert G. Miller said the same ground was covered last fall in a report by the California attorney general.

Dollar amounts reported in the press as paid to physicians' offices for health care services are extremely misleading Dr. Miller said.

He said a Modesto Physician was listed as receiving $105,513 in Medi-Cal payments during 1968.

* * * *

"THE TRUTH of the matter is that this payment represents the services of five physicians and 50 employes in the practice of pathology and clinical laboratory," Dr. Miller said.

He contended confusion arose because some health care providers submit claims under a single provider code number, as in group insurance.

The U.S. Senate Finance Committe is investigating soaring costs in medicaid programs providing free health care for the poor in 38 states, including California.

Venice Canal Foes Are Saved a Trip

Hippies and other foes of the $19-million Venice Canal project were advised Friday that there is no need for them to make a trip to Los Angeles City Hall on Manday.

City Council president L. S. Timberlake said consideration of the canal controversy will be postponed because of the need for further study.

ton was making plans to drive immediately the 800 miles to New Orelans so she could see her son. "I always knew I'd find him someday, or we would run across each other on the street, but I didn't think it would be this way," Mrs. Sutton sobbed on the telephone.

She explained she was 15 when her son was born and her mother forced her to put him up for adoption. "I didn't want to give up my baby, but my mother said I was too young."

* * * *

THE BABY was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Purkey, who now live in New Albany, Ind., and renamed Larry Joe. His own mother had named him Laurence Eugene Baker.

"I had written a letter to the Indianapolis Star and I told them I was awaiting death sentence and I'd like to find my real mother and if anybody knew her I'd like for them to contact me," Purkey explained to a newsman.

He said he was told that "I was adopted when I was 16 years old. "He didn't think his real mother "had tried to find me or could find me. My adoption papers were sealed when I was adopted."

Larry Joe, who has a number of tattoos on his arms, including the word "death" in script, told his mother he was positive he would be freed one day. "If not, I would not have tried to find you."

* * * *

HE TOLD an interviewer he is seeking a new trial on grounds his confession was obtained under duress.

Purkey told a newsman Friday he ran away from his foster parents in Jeffersonville, Ind., after a dispute with the elder Purkey. He served a jail term in Florida for auto theft.

"If I get out of here, mama," he told Mrs. Sutton. "We'll have plenty of time together."

He had a surprise for Mrs. Sutton. He told her he had met a girl through one of his fellow inmates and plans to marry her "as soon as I can get two rings and a license."

"I want to clear my name, marry her and set tle down and live a decent life."

UCLA DEMONSTRATORS

The Coalition placed about 50 placard carriers in UCLA's main quad, shortly after the regents began meeting. By noon, the throng had swelled to more than 1,000.

* * * *

COALITION targets in the demonstration Friday included abolition of campus ROTC units, a ban on city police presence on campuses, wider enrollment of minority and poverty students, elimination of all defense-oriented research from the campuses, representation of students on the regent board and pledges that no repetition of the Berkeley buckshot assault of Thursday would be allowed.

Students chanted "pigs off campus" and "ROTC must go" as they rallied in the large Quad. Right-wing elements attempted to disrupt the demonstration but were largely unsuccessful.

At 1:30 p.m., the growing throng marched the 100 yards to the Faculty Center where about 75 of their number were admitted to the building. Those allowed inside demanded the right to address the regents but the board voted the proposal down. The regents called for a recess. And the students held their ground.

* * * *

SHORTLY BEFORE 2 p.m., Chancellor Young ordered the building closed to everyone except the regents, the press and other university officials and gave the demonstrators five minutes to leave.

The ejection of the students produced new unrest among the more than 1,000 who jammed a patio area outside. Fist fights and rock and bottle throwing broke out between the demonstrators and right-wing elements.

By 2:30 p.m., campus officials admitted the situation was out of hand and called the Los Angeles Police Department's West Los Angeles station for aid. Police quickly declared a tactical alert and moved more than 100 officers onto the campus.

Windows were broken in the center and some of the demonstrators pounded on doors and walls, hurled rocks from tree limbs and shouted epithets at those inside the center.

In addition to the broken windows at the Faculty Center, major property damage was to newsmen's autos parked along Buenos Ayres Drive.

Demonstrators snapped radio antennas off virtually all the cars, let the air out of some of the tires and walked on the hoods and fenders of many of them.

Police stood by, waiting for the demonstrators to wear themselves out. When it became apparent this wasn't going to happen, Los Angeles Police Lt. Waldo Nesbitt ordered the students to disperse, telling them they had five minutes to comply. That was at about 4:30 p.m. and 15 minutes later, the lieutenant ordered the combined LAPD-CHP force to move out up Hilgard Avenue.

* * * *

CARRYING billyclubs at "port arms" position, the officers met no resistance, the demonstrators moving quickly away from the advancing lawmen. Behind the officers were an LAPD prisoner bus and a sound truck. There were no announcements from the truck.

The regents weren't around for the street clearing operation. Most of them drove away at about 3:45 p.m., with angry students banging on hoods and fenders as the cars pulled out of the parking lot. More cursing accompanied the fender banging.

By 5:30 p.m., the last of the off-campus police forces had left the street and UCLA security officers were again in charge. The demonstrators also left the campus, heading for nearby Mulholland Park and a session to plan new strategy for the Westwood campus.

Heart Implant Pioneer Fired

HOUSTON (UPI) — An Argentine-born researcher who developed the first artificial heart implanted in a human has been fired from his job at the Baylor College of Medicine in Houston for violating federal ground rules for use of the plastic and dacron device, it was disclosed Friday.

At the same time, a committee investigating use of the artificial heart in the Illinois transplant patient by Dr. Denton A. Cooley neared the end of its study to determine if the famed surgeon followed ethical guidelines in using the device.

The National Heart Institute said in Washington that Cooley failed to consult Baylor's Committee for Human Investigation before he performed the operation, in violation of the guideline of having human "experimental" devices approved by the group.

The NHI said Dr. Domingo Liotta, 44, a native of Cordoba, Argentina and an assistant professor of surgery at the Baylor College of Medicine, had been released from the school's heart program and his federal grant funds were cut off.

The institute said the Liotta case "is the first instance anybody knows of involving a violation" of federal ground rules in the research or use of artificial organs.

Cooley implanted the heart developed by Liotta in the chest of Haskel Karp, 347, of Skokie, Ill, April 4 at St. Luke's Hospital in Houston.

The device kept Karp alive for 65 hours until a human heart donor could be found. On April 7, the artificial heart was taken out of Karp's chest and the heart of a Lawrence, Mass., woman was implanted in his body.

The Illinois man lived twice as long with the artificial heart as he did with the transplanted human heart. Karp died April 8 of rejection.

Dr. Frank Hastings of the NHI said after the April 4 operation that any medical innovation such as an artificial heart developed with institute funds must go through rigorous tests and evaulations by persons other than the developer before it can be used on a human.

A St. Luke's spokesman, Lois Hill, said Cooley, who has performed 18 human heart transplants — more than any other surgeon — had not been notified of possible disciplinary action by the Baylor committee.

"Up to now he has personally received no communication from Baylor," Mrs. Hill said. "He is awaiting the decision of his superiors in the college."

Mrs. Hill also said Cooley defended use of the artificial heart to keep Karp alive because of humanitarian reasons.

"He said it was a last ditch attempt and Karp would have been dead . . . if he had not used it," she said.

SOME CAMPUSES ARE STILL QUIET

"There is absolutely no request from students for more voice in running the Police Academy," said Pearse Meagher, deputy inspector in charge of the academy, which trains patrolmen.

"We haven't had any unrest yet," he added.

The calm is evident at several other New York City schools.

The president of the McAllister School of Embalming, for example, said, "Our school has been very quiet, no unrest at all."

The Bartenders' International School reports "moderation is the key," and says there's been no problem there either.

TEAR GAS USED

About 20 windows were smashed in the SRI's Hanover Street facility, and walls were painted with slogans, some in letters eight feet high.

At Berkeley, a show of strength by National Guardsmen and California Highway Patrolmen cooled a march on City Hall and broke up a forbidden rally at the University of California Friday.

The action came in the wake of a riot Thursday over use of a university vacant lot as a park.

The Thursday disorder took on an ominous note with disclosure that, of 68 persons hospitalized, at least five were wounded by rifle bullets, apparently fired by demonstrators.

Sheriff's deputies used shotguns lightly loaded with birdshot, which wounded nine persons, but Sheriff Frank Madigan said none of the officers had rifles.

Sixty policemen required first aid. More than 40 arrests were made Thursday.

On Friday, 50 highway patrolmen tossed three tear gas containers and clubbed four or five demonstrators in Sproul Plaza.

A crowd that swelled to about 2,000 followed the patrolmen shouting, "Pigs off campus," and "We want the park."

The crowd marched several blocks to City Hall, followed by 175 guardsmen on foot and others in 13 trucks.

Finding about 500 guardsmen lined up in front of the hall, the throng marched back to the campus, closely followed by guardsmen with bayonets.

At Cambridge, Mass., Harvard graduate student Carl L. Offner of Darien, Conn., was given a one-year jail sentence for assaulting Dean Robert B. Watson during seizure of University Hall April 9.

Offner was the first person charged with assault in the case.

About 170 defendants have been convicted of trespassing in the building takenver and fined $20, as was Offner.

At City College of New York, preparations were made by Acting President Joseph J. Copeland to resume negotiations with dissident Negro and Puerto Rican students seeking a separate school of black and Puerto Rican studies and an increase in enrollment of minority students.

Copeland, despite a plea by the school Faculty Senate, has refused to ask police to leave the campus.

At East Lansing, Mich., a group of Michigan State University students, members of the Reserve Officers Training Corps, claimed a "military" victory over militant Students for a Democratic Society.

The SDS, attempting Thursday to invade the ROTC headquarters, were repulsed after fist fights, shoving and pushing.

Occidental Suspends 42 Students

Occidental College in Los Angeles suspended 42 students for their roles in a demonstration last month that barred a Navy recruiter from the campus.

The suspensions were voted by the Interim College Council following a marathon meeting that lasted 11 hours.

The students were suspended for the remainder of the academic year, or until June 15.

* * * *

ANY SENIORS or graduate students seeking degrees will not be able to graduate, a spokesman for the college reported.

Arson Officers Investigate Fire

Arson investigators Friday sought the cause of a $5,000 fire that gutted a bedroom, bathroom and closet at 7941½ Imperial Highway and forced evacuation of the apartment complex.

No one was injured in the blaze, which broke out earlier in the day in the apartment of Wayne Frahm.

Early morning Imperial Highway traffic was tied up for almost two hours because of fire fighting operations, California Highway Patrol officers reported.

Assembly Hits Medi-Cal Cheats

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly passed a bill Friday which would allow the Senate to lift the license of any doctor suspended from the Medi-Cal program.

An identical measure was killed Thursday by the Senate Finance Committee.

Without debate, the Assembly agreed to substitute the roll call on another bill, approved 63-0, to the Medi-Cal measure and another which would set up procedures for suspending a doctor or medical service provider from the program.

* * * *

BOTH MEASURES introduced by Assemblyman Gordon Duffy, R-Hanford, are supported by the Reagan Administration.

Meanwhile, the Senate Friday approved two other bills, one to crack down on conflicts of interest by doctors in the Medi-Cal program the other to make defrauding the program a specific crime.

The author, Senate President Pro Tem Howard Way, R-Exeter, said the bills are supported by the California Medical Association and the California Hospital Association.

* * * *

THE SENATE Finance Committee killed Thursday a bill by Way which would do the same as one of Duffy's bills: make suspension from the Medi-Cal program grounds for suspension or revocation of the practitioner's license.

The main opposition came from Sen. Stephen Teale, D-West Point, a physician who said, "I'm not going to vote to suspend a man's ability to earn a living just because he got himself crossways with an agency."

The committee suggested some changes in Way's bill to set up procedures for suspending a doctor of medical service provider from the program.

SENATORS' PROBE 'SENSATIONALIZED'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Medical Association's president Friday called the U.S. Senate Finance Committee's investigation of Medi-Cal payments to doctors a "sensationalized replay."

Dr. Albert G. Miller said the same ground was covered last fall in a report by the California attorney general.

Dollar amounts reported in the press as paid to physicians' offices for health care services are extremely misleading Dr. Miller said.

He said a Modesto Physician was listed as receiving $105,513 in Medi-Cal payments during 1968.

* * * *

"THE TRUTH of the matter is that this payment represents the services of five physicians and 50 employes in the practice of pathology and clinical laboratory," Dr. Miller said.

He contended confusion arose because some health care providers submit claims under a single provider code number, as in group insurance.

The U.S. Senate Finance Committe is investigating soaring costs in medicaid programs providing free health care for the poor in 38 states, including California.

Venice Canal Foes Are Saved a Trip

Hippies and other foes of the $19-million Venice Canal project were advised Friday that there is no need for them to make a trip to Los Angeles City Hall on Manday.

City Council president L. S. Timberlake said consideration of the canal controversy will be postponed because of the need for further study.

REUNION

ton was making plans to drive immediately the 800 miles to New Orelans so she could see her son. "I always knew I'd find him someday, or we would run across each other on the street, but I didn't think it would be this way," Mrs. Sutton sobbed on the telephone.

She explained she was 15 when her son was born and her mother forced her to put him up for adoption. "I didn't want to give up my baby, but my mother said I was too young."

* * * *

THE BABY was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Purkey, who now live in New Albany, Ind., and renamed Larry Joe. His own mother had named him Laurence Eugene Baker.

"I had written a letter to the Indianapolis Star and I told them I was awaiting death sentence and I'd like to find my real mother and if anybody knew her I'd like for them to contact me," Purkey explained to a newsman.

He said he was told that "I was adopted when I was 16 years old. "He didn't think his real mother "had tried to find me or could find me. My adoption papers were sealed when I was adopted."

Larry Joe, who has a number of tattoos on his arms, including the word "death" in script, told his mother he was positive he would be freed one day. "If not, I would not have tried to find you."

HE TOLD an interviewer he is seeking a new trial on grounds his confession was obtained under duress.

Purkey told a newsman Friday he ran away from his foster parents in Jeffersonville, Ind., after a dispute with the elder Purkey. He served a jail term in Florida for auto theft.

"If I get out of here, mama," he told Mrs. Sutton. "We'll have plenty of time together."

He had a surprise for Mrs. Sutton. He told her he had met a girl through one of his fellow inmates and plans to marry her "as soon as I can get two rings and a license."

"I want to clear my name, marry her and set tle down and live a decent life."

UCLA DEMONSTRATORS

The Coalition placed about 50 placard carriers in UCLA's main quad, shortly after the regents began meeting. By noon, the throng had swelled to more than 1,000.

* * * *

COALITION targets in the demonstration Friday included abolition of campus ROTC units, a ban on city police presence on campuses, wider enrollment of minority and poverty students, elimination of all defense-oriented research from the campuses, representation of students on the regent board and pledges that no repetition of the Berkeley buckshot assault of Thursday would be allowed.

Students chanted "pigs off campus" and "ROTC must go" as they rallied in the large Quad. Right-wing elements attempted to disrupt the demonstration but were largely unsuccessful.

At 1:30 p.m., the growing throng marched the 100 yards to the Faculty Center where about 75 of their number were admitted to the building. Those allowed inside demanded the right to address the regents but the board voted the proposal down. The regents called for a recess. And the students held their ground.

Battle Expected Over Proposed Spending Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon Administration headed Friday for a collision with House Democratic committe chairmen by rejecting a proposed $192.9-billion ceiling on federal spending.

Budget Director Robert P. Mayo told the Senate Appropriations Committee he is opposed to the ceiling voted Thursday by the House Appropriations Committe, even though it is the same as the budget submitted to Congress last month by President Nixon.

He testified the administration thinks a limitation unnecessary in view of its action in cutting $4 billion from the budget of the Johnson administration.

And he said also the measure does not provide sufficient flexibility to deal with unpredictable changes in spending on Vietnam and for uncontrollable items such as farm price payments, veterans and Social Security benefits and interest on the national debt.

While Mayo was received politely by the five committee members present, he may get a wholly different reception next Tuesday when he appears before the House Ways and Means Committee.

* * * *

ITS CHAIRMAN, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., had made it clear he wants a spending ceiling in exchange for congressional approval of President Nixon's request that the 10 per cent income tax surcharge be extended.

In addition, Mayo's stand puts him in opposition to Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., the Appropriations Committee chariman.

Mills said in an interview he cannot conceive of any emergency that might come up that could not be handled under the flexible ceiling arrangement.

"This is much better than what we did last year for handling what might develop in an emergency," he said.

He indicated he thinks the Administration does not understand the new proposal and said it will be discussed extensively when Mayo and other officials appear before the Ways and Means Committee.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said he still favors the ceiling proposal. He said Nixon at a White House conference with Republican congressional leaders had accepted the idea in principle, although details had not been discussed.

Actually, the new spending limit is somewhat more flexible than the one passed by Congress last year as its price for passage of the tax surcharge. That provided exceptions for Vietnam and uncontrollable items.

The new proposal provides that, if Congress revises pending appropriations bills or refuses to provide new revenues such as the Administration requested in raised postal rates, the ceiling would be revised.

Thus, if Congress cut the appropriation for an agency by $100 million, the ceiling would drop to $192.8 billion.

* * * *

THE PROBLEM, Mayo pointed out, is that if extra funds are required for such uncontrollable programs as farm price support payments or Vietnam, the Administraion would have to juggle funds from other programs to stay within the limit until Congress provided the extra funds and adjusted the ceiling.

If a limit is needed, he said it should contain last year's exceptions.

Inflation Pace Seen Subsiding

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several economic indicators churned out by government agencies Friday suggested the economy has begun running at a less inflationary pace, but economists cautioned against making too much of the apparent slowdown.

"This isn't a turning point," one analyst said. "the economy has been bumping against the ceiling and this may just be temporary. Next month it may bump again."

But it's too easy to get burned, he said, by crowing about favorable data. Administration economic strategists for the time being will just keep their fingers crossed and hope the trend continues, he said.

The indicators released Friday reported:

— An April rise of 0.3 per cent in the industrial production index, second smallest increase in eight months and about half the size of the February and March rises.

— An increase in the nation's personal income last month only half as large as those in several preceding months.

AFL-CIO Rejects Farm Labor Offer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The AFL-CIO rejected as unacceptable Friday the Nixon Administration's farm labor proposals to permit farmers to unionize, bargain collectively and strike for their demands.

George Meany, the AFL-CIO president, told a Senate labor subcommittee that organized labor is pleased the Administration supports those principles but that "what is given with one hand is taken away with the other."

The proposals, he said, really amount to "a number of special rules and procedures to make it more difficult for farm workers to form unions and to secure recognition than for other workers."

Meany urged instead that migrant as well as resident farm hired hands be given the same rights and privileges under the National Labor Relations Act as those enjoyed by industrial workers.

NIXON ASKS PRAYER DAY ON MAY 30

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon Friday proclaimed May 30 as Memorial Day, and called for "a day of prayer for permanent peace."

He designated 11 a.m. as a time for uniting in prayer and directed that the flag be flown at half-staff all day at all federal government installations, instead of the customary forenoon period. He requested private citizens to do the same in displaying flags at their homes.

McGovern Asks War Profit Tax

By WARREN WEAVER JR.

WASHINGTON — A group of Democratic senators led by George S. McGovern of South Dakota is organizing to press for an excess profits tax on Vietnam war contractors as a substitute for the income tax surcharge.

McGovern has drafted a bill that he plans to introduce in about 10 days to apply to industries profiting from the present military effort the same sort of standards that prevailed during World War II and the Korean War.

"There is no reason why the profits growing out of the increase in prime military spending should be treated differently than excess profits during every previous war this century," McGovern wrote to colleagues whose support he is soliciting.

About 15 Democrats have agreed to co-sponsor the tax measure, including the majority leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana, Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and J. William Fulbright of Arkansas. Senator Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts has not yet decided whether to lend his name to the cause.

* * * *

WHILE IT is undeniably attractive as a matter of politics, the McGovern plan is likely to run into considerable opposition. For one thing, economists generally regard past attempts at an excess profits tax as administratively unmanageable, difficult to enforce and shot through with exceptions.

For another, Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, chairman of the House

EXCLUSIVE
N.Y. Times Service

Ways and Means Committee, is believed to entertain serious doubts about the wisdom of any such approach, and his views would be likely to endanger any House approval.

The political profits that might be realized, however, from substituting an excess profits tax for the 6 per cent surcharge include:

—Relieving income taxpayers of about two-thirds of the $10 billion a year that the surcharge now produces; the rest is paid by corporations.

—Pleasing critics of the Vietnam war by reducing the possibility that its continuation was enriching anyone.

—Broadening the attack on the military-industrial complex that has moved forward with the campaign against the antiballistic missile program.

* * * *

AMONG THE other Democrats who have been attracted by the McGovern proposal are senators Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico, Frank Church of Idaho, Philip A. Hart of Michigan, Gale W. McGee of Wyoming, Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota, Frank E. Moss of Utah, Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin, Ralph Yarborough of Texas and Stephen M. Young of Ohio.

Under the McGovern plan, corporations would pay in taxes 37 per cent of "that amount of income which is attributable to war-induced profit levels," but those profits would be exempt "which are a natural yield on capital and ingenuity."

MOORHEAD ACCEPTS

Rivers Angered; Issues Challenge

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Armed Services Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, offended by allegations that his committee is soft on Pentagon spending waste, has challenged a fellow congressman to defend his views before the panel.

The object of Rivers' anger is Rep. William S. Moorhead, D-Pa., who has spotlighted cost increases for the C5A supertransport and contract details for the ill-starred F111 fighter-bomber.

Moorhead has charged both in speeches and on national television that Congress at present is incapable of keeping a tight rein on military spending.

Rivers watched a television news program Tuesday night and wrote Moorhead Wednesday, committee sources said.

They said Rivers accused Moorhead of making the "very serious" charge that members of the House Armed Services Committee have "become the handmaidens of the Department of Defense and defense contractors."

Rivers, a South Carolina Democrat, said he considered this a personal condemnation.

"Under the circumstances, I have no alternative but to invite you to appear before the committee to present whatever evidence you may have to substantiate your allegations," Rivers wrote.

Moorhead agreed to appear before the committee — preferably in open session — late next week, committee sources said.

Rivers was said to have been angered by this statement by Moorhead on the CBS evening news: I regret to say I think some members of Congress have dealt so long with the military and with defense contractors that they begin to think they (the military and contractors) are without fault and obviously people do make mistakes — there are faults."

Pentagon Asks for C-5A Review

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department issued formal orders Friday for a review of the entire C-5A transport plane program, whose costs are running an estimated $2.1 billion higher than forecast four years ago.

Acting on Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird's request of April 30, Air Force Secretary Robert C. Seamans Jr. told subordinates that cost increases should be given high priority.

He also said the study sould include a review of requirements for the big jet, capable of carrying 345 troops; the contracting method; the plane's performance, and program management by the Air Force and Lockheed, the builder.

A team of Air Force experts has been at the Lockheed plant in Marietta, Ga., since May 5 to carry out Laird's review, a Pentagon spokesman said.

Post War Budget Cuts Unlikely, Says Laird

CHICAGO (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird told the nation Friday night not to expect drastic cuts in military spending after the Vietnam war because "a drastically reduced defense budget will not provide adequate national security in the world in which we live."

"Even if we eliminate cost over-runs, improve our cost estimates, cut out the unnecessary items and keep our systems simple, we are not going to come up with a low defense budget," Laird said.

"No, even if we are successful in eliminating the war in Vietnam — our highest priority — we are still not going to come up with a drastically reduced defense budget . . . under presently foreseeable circumstances.

Laird made the comments in an Armed Forces Day speech delivered to the Military Order of the World Wars.

* * * *

AT THE SAME time, the Pentagon chief defended the military services against what he called irresponsible attacks.

Such criticism, he said, "frightens me because it is symptomatic of a frame of mind which can have grave consequences for the security of our country."

The secretary said his department needs "all the constructive help we can get" in attempts to reduce costs and eliminate waste.

"Let me hasten to add that not all the help we have been offered . . . has been constructive," Laird said.

* * * *

HIS SPEECH carried out a theme which other top civilian and military officials have been stressing during the past week of Armed Forces Day appearances around the nation.

Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard, who went to the Pentagon from the upper echelons of the electronics industry, described as "a bunch of nonsense" allegations that the level of military spending is determined by a military-industrial complex.

Battle Expected Over Proposed Spending Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon Administration headed Friday for a collision with House Democratic committe chairmen by rejecting a proposed $192.9-billion ceiling on federal spending.

Budget Director Robert P. Mayo told the Senate Appropriations Committee he is opposed to the ceiling voted Thursday by the House Appropriations Committe, even though it is the same as the budget submitted to Congress last month by President Nixon.

He testified the administration thinks a limitation unnecessary in view of its action in cutting $4 billion from the budget of the Johnson administration.

And he said also the measure does not provide sufficient flexibility to deal with unpredictable changes in spending on Vietnam and for uncontrollable items such as farm price payments, veterans and Social Security benefits and interest on the national debt.

While Mayo was received politely by the five committee members present, he may get a wholly different reception next Tuesday when he appears before the House Ways and Means Committee.

* * * *

ITS CHAIRMAN, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., had made it clear he wants a spending ceiling in exchange for congressional approval of President Nixon's request that the 10 per cent income tax surcharge be extended.

In addition, Mayo's stand vuts him in opposition to Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., the Appropriations Committee chariman.

Mills said in an interview he cannot conceive of any emergency that might come up that could not be handled under the flexible ceiling arrangement.

"This is much better than what we did last year for handling what might develop in an emergency," he said.

He indicated he thinks the Administration does not understand the new proposal and said it will be discussed extensively when Mayo and other officials appear before the Ways and Means Committee.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said he still favors the ceiling proposal. He said Nixon at a White House conference with Republican congressional leaders had accepted the idea in principle, although details had not been discussed.

Actually, the new spending limit is somewhat more flexible than the one passed by Congress last year as its price for passage of the tax surcharge. That provided exceptions for Vietnam and uncontrollable items.

The new proposal provides that, if Congress revises pending appropriations bills or refuses to provide new revenues such as the Administration requested in raised postal rates, the ceiling would be revised.

Thus, if Congress cut the appropriation for an agency by $100 million, the ceiling would drop to $192.8 billion.

* * * *

THE PROBLEM, Mayo pointed out, is that if extra funds are required for such uncontrollable programs as farm price support payments or Vietnam, the Administraion would have to juggle funds from other programs to stay within the limit until Congress provided the extra funds and adjusted the ceiling.

If a limit is needed, he said it should contain last year's exceptions.

Inflation Pace Seen Subsiding

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several economic indicators churned out by government agencies Friday suggested the economy has begun running at a less inflationary pace, but economists cautioned against making too much of the apparent slowdown.

"This isn't a turning point," one analyst said, "the economy has been bumping against the ceiling and this may just be temporary. Next month it may bump again."

But it's too easy to get burned, he said, by crowing about favorable data. Administration economic strategists for the time being will just keep their fingers crossed and hope the trend continues, he said.

The indicators released Friday reported:

— An April rise of 0.3 per cent in the industrial production index, second smallest increase in eight months and about half the size of the February and March rises.

— An increase in the nation's personal income last month only half as large as those in several preceding months.

AFL-CIO Rejects Farm Labor Offer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The AFL-CIO rejected as unacceptable Friday the Nixon Administration's farm labor proposals to permit farmers to unionize, bargain collectively and strike for their demands.

George Meany, the AFL-CIO president, told a Senate labor subcommittee that organized labor is pleased the Administration supports those principles but that "what is given with one hand is taken away with the other."

The proposals, he said, really amount to "a number of special rules and procedures to make it more difficult for farm workers to form unions and to secure recognition than for other workers."

Meany urged instead that migrant as well as resident farm hired hands be given the same rights and privileges under the National Labor Relations Act as those enjoyed by industrial workers.

NIXON ASKS PRAYER DAY ON MAY 30

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon Friday proclaimed May 30 as Memorial Day, and called for "a day of prayer for permanent peace."

He designated 11 a.m. as a time for uniting in prayer and directed that the flag be flown at half-staff all day at all federal government installations, instead of the customary forenoon period. He requested private citizens to do the same in displaying flags at their homes.

Killed by Train

VENTURA (UPI) — Lester J. Hale, 55, a construction worker, was killed instantly Friday when he was struck by the Southern Pacific Daylight passenger train eight miles north of here.

McGovern Asks War Profit Tax

By WARREN WEAVER JR.

WASHINGTON — A group of Democratic senators led by George S. McGovern of South Dakota is organizing to press for an excess profits tax on Vietnam war contractors as a substitute for the income tax surcharge.

McGovern has drafted a bill that he plans to introduce in about 10 days to apply to industries profiting from the present military effort the same sort of standards that prevailed during World War II and the Korean War.

"There is no reason why the profits growing out of the increase in prime military spending should be treated differently than excess profits during every previous war this century." McGovern wrote to colleagues whose support he is soliciting.

About 15 Democrats have agreed to co-sponsor the tax measure, including the majority leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana, Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and J. William Fulbright of Arkansas. Senator Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts has not yet decided whether to lend his name to the cause.

* * * *

WHILE IT is undeniably attractive as a matter of politics, the McGovern plan is likely to run into considerable opposition. For one thing, economists generally regard past attempts at an excess profits tax as administratively unmanageable, difficult to enforce and shot through with exceptions.

EXCLUSIVE
N.Y. Times Service

Ways and Means Committee, is believed to entertain serious doubts about the wisdom of any such apprpach, and his views would be likely to endanger any House approval.

The political profits that might be realized, however, from substituting an excess profits tax for the 6 per cent surcharge include:

—Relieving income taxpayers of about two-thirds of the $10 billion a year that the surcharge now produces; the rest is paid by corporations.

—Pleasing critics of the Vietnam war by reducing the possibility that its continuation was enriching anyone.

—Broadening the attack on the military-industuial complex that has moved forward with the campaign against the antiballistic missile program.

* * * *

AMONG THE other Democrats who have been attracted by the McGovern proposal are senators Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico, Frank Church of Idaho, Phillip A. Hart of Michigan, Gale W. McGee of Wyoming, Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota, Frank E. Moss of Utah, Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin, Ralph Yarborough of Texas and Stephen M. Young of Ohio.

Under the McGovern plan, corporations would pay in taxes 37 per cent of "that amount of income which is attributable to war-induced profit levels," but those profits would be exempt "which are a natural yield on capital and ingenuity."

Star's Kin Held on Escape Charge

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — John Sherman Garrett brother of Kansas City chief football star, Mike Garrett, Friday was ordered held to answer on charges of escaping twice from authorities.

Garrett, 30, was successful in his first escape April 30, eluding sheriff's deputies at the Hall of Justice where he was awaiting a hearing on a violation of probation. He was arrested one day later.

MOORHEAD ACCEPTS

Rivers Angered; Issues Challenge

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Armed Services Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, offended by allegations that his committee is soft on Pentagon spending waste, has challenged a fellow congressman to defend his views before the panel.

The object of Rivers' anger is Rep. William S. Moorhead, D-Pa., who has spotlighted cost increases for the C5A supertransport and contract details for the ill-starred F111 fighter-bomber.

Moorhead has charged both in speeches and on national television that Congress at present is incapable of keeping a tight rein on military spending.

Rivers watched a television news program Tuesday night and wrote Moorhead Wednesday, committee sources said.

They said Rivers accused Moorhead of making the "very serious" charge that members of the House Armed Services Committee have "become the handmaidens of the Department of Defense and defense contractors."

Rivers, a South Carolina Democrat, said he considered this a personal condemnation.

"Under the circumstances, I have no alternative but to invite you to appear before the committee to present whatever evidence you may have to substantiate your allegations," Rivers wrote.

Moorhead agreed to appear before the committee — preferably in open session — late next week, committee sources said.

Rivers was said to have been angered by this statement by Moorhead on the CBS evening news: I regret to say I think some members of Congress have dealt so long with the military and with defense contractors that they begin to think they (the military and contractors) are without fault and obviously people do make mistakes — there are faults."

Pentagon Asks for C-5A Review

WASHINGTON (UPI)— The Defense Department issued formal orders Friday for a review of the entire C-5A transport plane program, whose costs are running an estimated $2.1 billion higher than forecast four years ago.

Acting on Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird's request of April 30, Air Force Secretary Robert C. Seamans Jr. told subordinates that cost increases should be given high priority.

He also said the study sould include a review of requirements for the big jet, capable of carrying 345 troops; the contracting method; the plane's performance, and program management by the Air Force and Lockheed, the builder.

A team of Air Force experts has been at the Lockheed plant in Marietta, Ga., since May 5 to carry out Laird's review, a Pentagon spokesman said.

Post War Budget Cuts Unlikely, Says Laird

CHICAGO (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Larid told the nation Friday night not to expect drastic cuts in military spending after the Vietnam war because "a drastically reduced defense budget will not provide adequate national security in the world in which we live."

"Even if we eliminate cost over-runs, improve our cost estimates, cut out the unnecessary items and keep our systems simple, we are not going to come up with a low defense budget," Laird said.

"No, even if we are successful in eliminating the war in Vietnam — our highest priority — we are still not going to come up with a drastically reduced defense budget . . . under presently foreseeable circumstances."

Laird made the comments in an Armed Forces Day speech delivered to the Military Order of the World Wars.

* * * *

AT THE SAME time, the Pentagon chief defended the military services against what he called irresponsible attacks.

Such criticism, he said, "frightens me because it is symptomatic of a frame of mind which can have grave consequences for the security of our country."

The secretary said his department needs "all the constructive help we can get" in attempts to reduce costs and eliminate waste.

"Let me hasten to add that not all the help we have been offered . . . has been constructive," Laird said.

* * * *

HIS SPEECH carried out a theme which other top civilian and military officials have been stressing during the past week of Armed Forces Day appearances around the nation.

Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard, who went to the Pentagon from the upper echelons of the electronics industry, described as "a bunch of nonsense" allegations that the level of military spending is determined by a military-industrial complex.

$Million for Book Not Yet Written

By HENRY RAYMONT
New York Times Service

NEW YORK — A book Norman Mailer plans to start in July on man's first landing on the moon already has received close to $1 million in advance royalties, his literary agent has reported.

Scott Meredith, the agent, said he was "quite positive" the total publishing rights will exceed the $1 million figure by the time the book is published in January or February by Little, Brown & Company of Boston.

* * * *

IF FILM rights are sold, the agent estimated the total for Mailer, a candidate for mayor in New York City, could approach the $1.5 million paid for the memoirs of a former President, Lyndon B. Johnson.

In writing the book on the moon landing, the 46-year-old author will use the same reportorial techniques that characterized his last two books, "The Armies of the Night," and "Miami and the Siege of Chicago." He plans to visit Cape Kennedy during the launching of Apollo XI, interviewing the astronauts and describing the drama of the space center. He also plans a chapter on his reflections about the philosophical and technological implications of the moon landing.

In the publishing world, the unusually high figure for the still-to-be written story of the Apollo XI moon shot is being compared to the competition last year for "Twenty Letters to a Friend," by Svetlana Alliluyeva, Stalins daughter. The book is reported to have brought in more than $2.5 million through book rights and newspaper and magazine serialization here and abroad.

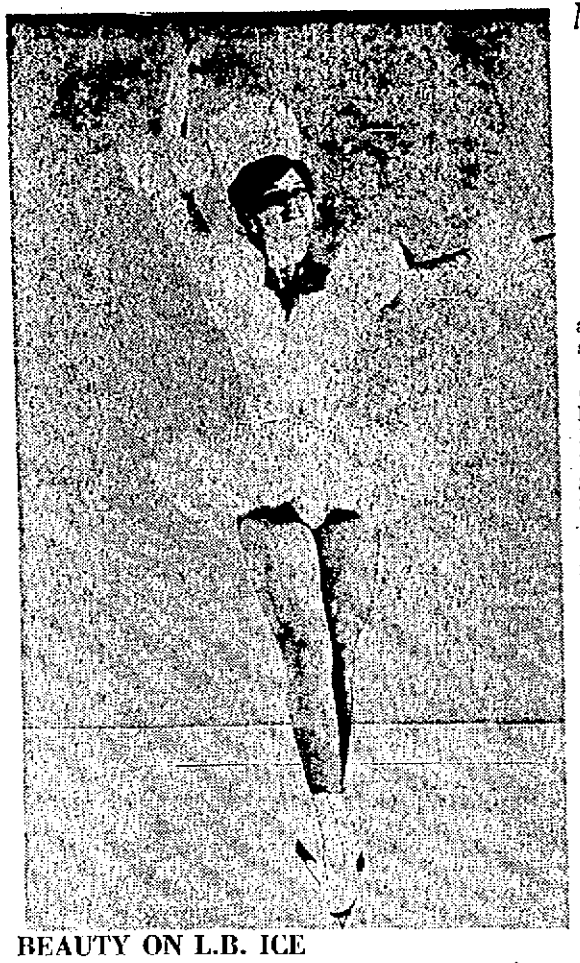

* * * *

IN AMERICAN book rights alone, however, the Mailer book received $150,000 from Little, Brown, about three times the advance Harper & Row paid for Mrs. Alliluyeva's book. New American Library is reported to have paid another $150,000 for the paperback rights and Life Magazine $100,000 for magazine serialization.

"We were not surprised over the interest of the American publishers," Meredith said. "But what did amaze us was the phenomenal competition among foreign publishers for book and magazine rights. There is no doubt that Mailer has become the most sought-after author in America today."

In Germany, the Droemersche Verlagsanstalt of Munich paid $50,000 for the German-language book rights. Other prominent European publishers who acquired the book included Weidenfeld & Nicolson of London and Robert Lafont of Paris.

Life Magazine plans to run the first of at least three excerpts of the book about two weeks after the Apollo XI launching, expected about July 20.

MARIAN BUCK-LEW

Recital Promises Pianist a Future

By DANIEL CARIAGA
Music Critic

Playing a public recital at the Long Beach Museum of Art Thursday night under the auspices of the Mu Phi Epsilon Foundation, Marian Buck-Lew demonstrated notable pianistic achievement, a good command of several musical styles, and a promising future. Too bad she played everything so fast.

Rachel Morton used to be fond of quoting one critic's line about a certain soprano — "Miss X gave her all, and it was too much." I am afraid the comment applies here.

* * * *

NOT THAT the young Iowa pianist — winner of Mu Phi's biennial national competition for members about to embark upon a professional career — gives an inarticulate or muddled performance. Her playing is usually clean and informed. But she has yet to learn to pace herself, and the music she plays, against the highest standards of timing, dynamics, and contrast.

And she needs also, I think, to give serious consideration to extramusical timing: the necessity of observing genuine breaks between groups, as well as full intermissions, for instance. Everything an artist does can contribute to, or detract from, his purely musical efficacy.

Miss Buck-Lew's program — a 90-minute event which she sailed through in just under 59 — looked good on paper: the A minor Partita of Bach; two sonatas by Haydn; Copland's historical Piano Variations; part of a suite by Howard Hanson; Ballades in A-flat and G minor by Chopin.

Her Bach was strong, her Haydn clean, but not very elegant, sometimes through a lack of characteristic accents, but usually because of precipitous tempi. In the C Major Sonata, she drove the opening Andante so hard, the following Presto was anticlimactic. And earlier, the Menuetto of the A Major Sonata might have been a Laendler for all its speed.

* * * *

COPLAND'S great Variations gained, rather than suffered, from the petite pianist's aggressiveness; her reading was all excitement, and quite convincing. But here, too, we missed the telling pauses, the speaking silences that give character and flesh to strong utterances.

Least satisfying were the Ballades, for, besides a general lack of clarity, one felt no structural cohesion in either work. And many details, especially those regarding pedalling and transitions, were wilful rather than reasoned.

The pianist's first encore was also Chopin — the C-sharp minor Etude, Opus 10, No. 4.

Probe Crafts' Discrimination

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The U.S. Justice Department is investigating charges that Negroes are systematically excluded from craftsmen's jobs in the movie industry, U.S. Atty. Matt Byrne says.

Byrne said Tuesday the U.S. Equal Opportunities commission in a three-day hearing in March found "clear evidence of a pattern of discrimination."

$Million for Book Not Yet Written

By HENRY RAYMONT
New York Times Service

NEW YORK — A book Norman Mailer plans to start in July on man's first landing on the moon already has received close to $1 million in advance royalties, his literary agent has reported.

Scott Meredith, the agent, said he was "quite positive" the total publishing rights will exceed the $1 million figure by the time the book is published in January or February by Little, Brown & Company of Boston.

* * * *

IF FILM rights are sold, the agent estimated the total for Mailer, a candidate for mayor in New York City, could approach the $1.5 million paid for the memoirs of a former President, Lyndon B. Johnson.

In writing the book on the moon landing, the 46-year-old author will use the same reportorial techniques that characterized his last two books, "The Armies of the Night," and "Miami and the Siege of Chicago." He plans to visit Cape Kennedy during the launching of Apollo XI, interviewing the astronauts and describing the drama of the space center.

He also plans a chapter on his reflections about the philosophical and technological implications of the moon landing.

In the publishing world, the unusually high figure for the still-to-be written story of the Apollo XI moon shot is being compared to the competition last year for "Twenty Letters to a Friend," by Svetlana Alliluyeva, Stalins daughter. The book is reported to have brought in more than $2.5 million through book rights and newspaper and magazine serialization here and abroad.

* * * *

IN AMERICAN book rights alone, however, the Mailer book received $150,000 from Little, Brown, about three times the advance Harper & Row paid for Mrs. Alliluyeva's book. New American Library is reported to have paid another $150,000 for the paperback rights and Life Magazine $100,000 for magazine serialization.

"We were not surprised over the interest of the American publishers," Meredith said. "But what did amaze us was the phenomenal competition among foreign publishers for book and magazine rights. There is no doubt that Mailer has become the most sought-after author in America today."

In Germany, the Droemersche Verlagsanstalt of Munich paid $50,000 for the German-language book rights. Other prominent European publishers who acquired the book included Weidenfeld & Nicolson of London and Robert Lafont of Paris.

Life Magazine plans to run the first of at least three excerpts of the book about two weeks after the Apollo XI launching, expected about July 20.

GONE WITH THE WIND — A re-release of the David O. Selznick production that won 10 Academy Awards and starred Clark Gable, Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia de Havilland.

BULLIT — Steve McQueen provides top action in a law and order thriller set in San Francisco. (M)

THE BIG BOUNCE — Ryan O'Neal, a young drifter, becomes involved with free-wheeling, sophisticated Leigh Taylor-Young in a romance that ends with a shattering climax. (M)

RATINGS:

G — Recommended for general audiences of all ages.

M — Suggested for mature audiences, adults and young people.

MARIAN BUCK-LEW

Recital Promises Pianist a Future

By DANIEL CARIAGA
Music Critic

Playing a public recital at the Long Beach Museum of Art Thursday night under the auspices of the Mu Phi Epsilon Foundation, Marian Buck-Lew demonstrated notable pianistic achievement, a good command of several musical styles, and a promising future. Too bad she played everything so fast.

Rachel Morton used to be fond of quoting one critic's line about a certain soprano — "Miss X gave her all, and it was too much." I am afraid the comment applies here.

* * * *

NOT THAT the young Iowa pianist — winner of Mu Phi's biennial national competition for members about to embark upon a professional career — gives an inarticulate or muddled performance. Her playing is usually clean and informed. But she has yet to learn to pace herself, and the music she plays, against the highest standards of timing, dynamics, and contrast.

And she needs also, I think, to give serious consideration to extramusical timing: the necessity of observing genuine breaks between groups, as well as full intermissions, for instance. Everything an artist does can contribute to, or detract from, his purely musical efficacy.

Miss Buck-Lew's program — a 90-minute event which she sailed through in just under 59 — looked good on paper: the A minor Partita of Bach; two sonatas by Haydn; Copland's historical Piano Variations; part of a suite by Howard Hanson; Ballades in A-flat and G minor by Chopin.

Her Bach was strong, her Haydn clean, but not very elegant, sometimes through a lack of characteristic accents, but usually because of precipitous tempi. In the C Major Sonata, she drove the opening Andante so hard, the following Presto was anticlimactic. And earlier, the Menuetto of the A Major Sonata might have been a Laendler for all its speed.

* * * *

COPLAND'S great Variations gained, rather than suffered, from the petite pianist's aggressiveness; her reading was all excitement, and quite convincing. But here, too, we missed the telling pauses, the speaking silences that give character and flesh to strong utterances.

Least satisfying were the Ballades, for, besides a general lack of clarity, one felt no structural cohesion in either work. And many details, especially those regarding pedalling and transitions, were wilful rather than reasoned.

The pianist's first encore was also Chopin — the C-sharp minor Etude, Opus 10, No. 4.

Probe Crafts' Discrimination

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The U.S. Justice Department is investigating charges that Negroes are systematically excluded from craftsmen's jobs in the movie industry, U.S. Atty. Matt Byrne says.

Byrne said Tuesday the U.S. Equal Opportunities commission in a three-day hearing in March found "clear evidence of a pattern of discrimination."

Carson Street to Use New Type Signals

By BILL MAYER
From Our L.A. Bureau

A prospective improvement of 223rd St. in Carson for about a half-mile will include a new kind of traffic actuating device designed to more effectively control the flow of automobiles.

The traffic detector, as county road department officials call it will be installed at two crossings, Meyler and Vermont avenues.

Meyler will have a new signal, since there is none there now, and the one at Vermont will be modified.

The detectors not only trip signal lights when cars pass over them, but may be set to change lights from red to green, and vice versa, to prevent traffic congestion.

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS fixed June 10 as the date for opening bids for the project, which will see 223rd widened between Normandie and Vermont Avenues.

The contractor will transform 223rd into a four-lane highway, with parking lanes, curbs and gutter.

Officials said all efforts will be made to keep traffic flowing unimpeded during the construction period, which is expected to run from the end of June to October, however, there will be some inconvenience.

On 223rd one lane in each direction will be maintained throughout. Meyler may be closed at 223rd during excavation and paving work, and Vermont may be closed near 223rd while a sewer is built. The sewer job will be done at the same time as the road work.

The officials suggested that Normandie would be a good street to use during the construction period. They said all traffic lanes will be kept open at all times.

'OIL STRIKE' IN LONG BEACH

Approximately 150 barrels of heavy, tar-like oil bubbled to the surface and flowed into gutters when an underground pipeline ruptured Friday at DeForest Avenue and 27th Street. City crews acted quickly to quell the minigusher and suck up the sticky fluid with vacuum equipment, with steam-cleaning of gutters the final task. The Shell Oil Co. line was being used by Ring-Free Oil Co. Inc. to pump low grade petroleum to a Phillips 66 Products Co. facility in the Port of Long Beach.

BAY SUSPECT HELD

Allen Bitner, 26, suspected by police of being the "South Bay bandit" — responsible for 13 holdups in the last three years — was arraigned Friday on federal bank robbery charges.

Bitner, of 16625 Crenshaw Blvd., Torrance, was arraigned before a U.S. Commissioner, who ordered him held in lieu of $10,000 bail pending a preliminary hearing on charges he robbed the Crocker-Citizens National Bank branch at Wilmington, of $1,377 April 17.

Detective Sgts. Francis Wheeling and Henry Seret arrested Bitner at Ocean Boulevard and Tribune Court after Long Beach police spotted his car parked near there.

A total of $23,530 was taken by a two-gun bandit who pulled the 13 holdups, starting in 1966.

LAUNDRY WORKERS RETURN

Laundry workers at Harbor General Hospital returned to work Friday following a one-day "sick-in" which idled 54 of 74 employes.

But 130 laundry workers at the County-USC Medical Center, giving advance warning by taking sick slips Thursday, failed to show for work Friday.

Workers in laundries at both locations are protesting scheduled pay increases, demanding higher wages. The laundry workers now receive $385 monthly and a 5.5 per cent pay hike due July 1 would make their monthly salaries $406.

Orange Freeway Section to Open

A two-mile, eight-lane section of the Orange Freeway — Route 57 — is expected to be open to traffic early next week.

The section extends from the Riverside Freeway in Anaheim to Placentia and Nutwood avenue in Fullerton.

Dedication ceremonies for the $8.7-million section were held Friday on the Placentia Avenue Bridge.

When the freeway is completed — in the mid-1970s — it will connect the Riverside Freeway to the Santa Ana Freeway at the Garden Grove Freeway interchange.

State Sen. Alan Short, chairman of the Senate Transportation Committee, was principal speaker at the dedication and California State College at Fullerton executive dean, Stuart McComb was master of ceremonies.

Construction on the new section began in early 1967.

County Will Pay $156,698 For Kennel

From Our L.A. Bureau

The county will pay $156,698 for a new kennel building at its Downey shelter that will make it possible to board 120 additional animals.

The facility is one of two the county maintains for pets and other four-legged strays south of the city of Los Angeles. The other is in Gardena.

Calkins and Calkins Construction Inc., of Hawthorne, which submitted the lowest of eight bids, will build the 2,200 square-foot kennel building.

The firm also will put up a service building with a dispatch area, a veterinarian room, a cat quarantine room, a wash area and storage and maintenance facilities.

Construction to Start Soon at Carson Park

From Our L.A. Bureau

Construction will start in the next few days on a community building at Stevenson County Park near Carson.

County supervisors have engaged Anco Construction Company of Montrose to do the job for $30,487.

LBSC Grant

WASHINGTON — Long Beach State College Friday was allotted $1 million by HEW toward construction of a general classroom and faculty building. Construction of the building is slated to begin late this year and be completed in 1971.

Pair Guilty of Narcotic Violations

Federal action has been taken against a Long Beach longshoreman and a Compton man for vinlation of narcotics control laws, federal agents said Friday.

Juan C. Villa, 41, the longshoreman, was convicted on charges of possession and sale of cocaine. He will be sentenced July 7 in the U.S. District Court of Judge Francis C. Whelan, Los Angeles.

In Compton, Silverie Diaz was arrested on charges of possession and sale of heroin after a purchase of eight ounces of uncut heroin on a Compton street.

Police and federal agents said the heroin is worth as much as $60,000.

Look at the

Bixby Green

aparts

There's one thing about apartment hunting: you shop long enough, and pretty soon they all begin to look alike. Not quite enough room. Not quite enough privacy. Not quite right.

Bixby Green is a European idea. You've probably seen pictures of suburban town house colonies outside such cities as Stockholm, Paris and Amsterdam. Well, that gives you a good idea of what Bixby Green is like. Picture it:

Handsome structures within six acres of landscaped beauty. In effect, a village insulated from the rest of the community. Tree-lined walkways lead to the pool, the putting green and the other little out-of-the-way places that make a village a village. And you'll have two parking spaces. Both will probably be in the underground parking area. (At Bixby Green, cars are out of sight. Literally.)

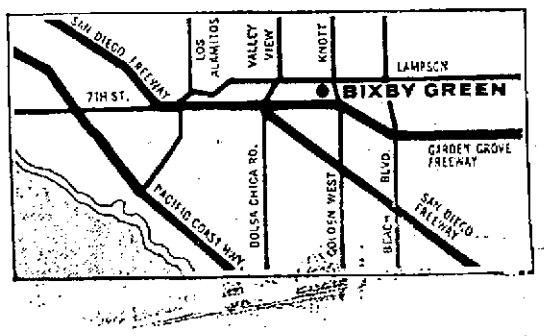

The suites are worthy of the name. Each is a two-story plan, with as many as three bedrooms upstairs. The master bedroom, with its separate bath and dressing area, would put any apartment to shame. The downstairs plan goes from entry-hallway to step-down living room to private garden patio. The all-electric kitchen opens to the dining room. Central air-conditioning, luxurious carpeting, floor-to-ceiling drapes, total sound proofing and your own washer-dryer are just some of Bixby Green's features. Don't expect to find them in other apartments.

Another thing: Bixby Green is an adult community. And for families with children 16 years and older. It's quiet here. Yet you're moments from the beaches, marinas, golf courses and other fun places of Orange County.

You could say that Bixby Green is altogether apart.

And you will, when you see it.

The contractor will transform 223rd into a four-lane highway, with parking lanes, curbs and gutter.

Officials said all efforts will be made to keep traffic flowing unimpeded during the construction period, which is expected to run from the end of June to October, however, there will be some inconvenience.

On 223rd one lane in each direction will be maintained throughout. Meyler may be closed at 223rd during excavation and paving work, and Vermont may be closed near 223rd while a sewer is built. The sewer job will be done at the same time as the road work.

The officials suggested that Normandie would be a good street to use during the construction period. They said all traffic lanes will be kept open at all times.

'OIL STRIKE' IN LONG BEACH

Approximately 150 barrels of heavy, tar-like oil bubbled to the surface and flowed into gutters when an underground pipeline ruptured Friday at DeForest Avenue and 27th Street. City crews acted quickly to quell the minigusher and suck up the sticky fluid with vacuum equipment, with steam-cleaning of gutters the final task. The Shell Oil Co. line was being used by Ring-Free Oil Co. Inc. to pump low grade petroleum to a Phillips 66 Products Co. facility in the Port of Long Beach.

LAUNDRY WORKERS RETURN

Laundry workers at Harbor General Hospital returned to work Friday following a one-day "sick-in" which idled 54 of 74 employes.

Workers in laundries at both locations are protesting scheduled pay increases, demanding higher wages. The laundry workers now receive $385 monthly and a 5.5 per cent pay hike due July 1 would make their monthly salaries $406.

BAY SUSPECT HELD

Allen Bitner, 26, suspected by police of being the "South Bay handit" — responsible for 13 holdups in the last three years — was arraigned Friday on federal bank robbery charges.

Bitner, of 16625 Crenshaw Blvd., Torrance, was arraigned before a U.S. Commissioner, who ordered him held in lieu of $10,000 bail pending a preliminary hearing on charges he robbed the Crocker-Citizens National Bank branch at Wilmington, of $1,377 April 17.

Detective Sgts. Francis Wheeling and Henry Seret arrested Bitner at Ocean Boulevard and Tribune Court after Long Beach police spotted his car parked near there.

A total of $23,530 was taken by a two-gun handit who pulled the 13 holdups, starting in 1966.

Orange Freeway Section to Open

A two-mile, eight-lane section of the Orange Freeway — Route 57 — is expected to be open to traffic early next week.

The section extends from the Riverside Freeway in Anaheim to Placentia and Nutwood avenue in Fullerton.

Dedication ceremonies for the $8.7-million section were held Friday on the Placentia Avenue Bridge.

When the freeway is completed — in the mid-1970s — it will connect the Riverside Freeway to the Santa Ana Freeway at the Garden Grove Freeway interchange.

State Sen. Alan Short, chairman of the Senate Transportation Committee, was principal speaker at the dedication and California State College at Fullerton executive dean, Stuart McComb was master of ceremonies.

Construction on the new section began in early 1967.

County Will Pay $156,698 For Kennel

From Our L.A. Bureau

The county will pay $156,698 for a new kennel building at its Downey shelter that will make it possible to board 120 additional animals.

The facility is one of two the county maintains for pets and other four-legged strays south of the city of Los Angeles. The other is in Gardena.

Calkins and Calkins Construction Inc. of Hawthorne, which submitted the lowest of eight bids, will build the 2,200 square-foot kennel building.

The firm also will put up a service building with a dispatch area, a veterinarian room, a cat quarantine room, a wash area and storage and maintenance facilities.

Construction to Start Soon at Carson Park

From Our L.A. Bureau

Construction will start in the next few days on a community building at Stevenson County Park near Carson.

County supervisors have engaged Anco Construction Company of Montrose to do the job for $30,487.

LBSC Grant

WASHINGTON — Long Beach State College Friday was allotted $1 million by HEW toward construction of a general classroom and faculty building. Construction of the building is slated to begin late this year and be completed in 1971.

Pair Guilty of Narcotic Violations

Federal action has been taken against a Long Beach longshoreman and a Compton man for violation of narcotics control laws, federal agents said Friday.

Juan C. Villa, 41, the longshoreman, was convicted on charges of possession and sale of cocaine. He will be sentenced July 7 in the U.S. District Court of Judge Francis C. Whelan, Los Angeles.

In Compton, Silverie Diaz was arrested on charges of possession and sale of heroin after a purchase of eight ounces of uncut heroin on a Compton street.

Police and federal agents said the heroin is worth as much as $60,000.

Look at the

Bixby Green

aparts

There's one thing about apartment hunting; you shop long enough, and pretty soon they all begin to look alike. Not quite enough room. Not quite enough privacy. Not quite right.

Bixby Green is a European idea. You've probably seen pictures of suburban town house colonies outside such cities as Stockholm, Paris and Amsterdam. Well, that gives you a good idea of what Bixby Green is like. Picture it:

Handsome structures within six acres of landscaped beauty. In effect, a village insulated from the rest of the community. Tree-lined walkways lead to the pool, the putting green and the other little out-of-the-way places that make a village a village. And you'll have two parking spaces. Both will probably be in the underground parking area. (At Bixby Green, cars are out of sight. Literally.)

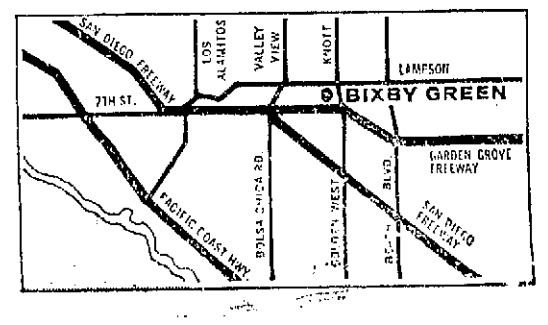

The suites are worthy of the name. Each is a two-story plan, with as many as three bedrooms upstairs. The master bedroom, with its separate bath and dressing area, would put any apartment to shame. The downstairs plan goes from entry-hallway to step-down living room to private garden patio. The all-electric kitchen opens to the dining room. Central air-conditioning, luxurious carpeting, floor-to-ceiling drapes, total sound proofing and your own washer-dryer are just some of Bixby Green's features. Don't expect to find them in other apartments.

Another thing: Bixby Green is an adult community. And for families with children 16 years and older. It's quiet here. Yet you're moments from the beaches, marinas, golf courses and other fun places of Orange County.

You could say that Bixby Green is altogether apart.

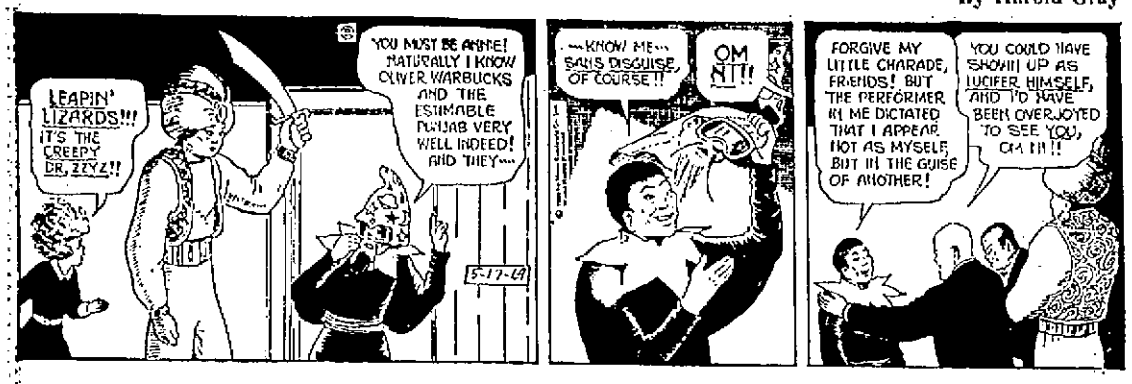

And you will, when you see it.

YOUR HOROSCOPE by JEANE DIXON

Forecast for Sunday

Your birthday today: A generally expansive trend marks the year beginning now. More initiative comes into your hands, so that you are freer to make choices and take new directions. Sentimental and romantic interests run along generally turbulent courses. Creative efforts are promised satisfying rewards. Today's natives are dependable and honest, though often impractical. This coming year the impractical side shows.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): It is really a chore to concentrate on the several courses available. Decide early what you want to do this day and get busy. The larger circle may be most attractive.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): The desire for self expression drives you to make the distinction between your mental and your emotional impulses. You have the chance now to reflect on the coming year and the places you may be able to visit. The urge to travel is strong.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Quietly [illegible] family and associates through. A temporary phase of confusion and restlessness. People in authority tend to express their tension. If you must travel, keep to well-known ways [illegible].

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Your home area is the most desirable place to be this Sunday. Take your share of the community's expression of faith. Avoid forcing any issues which may be in dispute. Not the time to organize proposals.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Carry on with your dignity, but make a special effort to listen to details. Social plans run into unexpected changes. Some people near you present emotional situations.

VIGRO (Aug. 22-Sept. 23): Look beneath the surfaces of human behaviour this Sunday for more dependable information. Remember that most people lack your ability to hold to a decision — have patience.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You will feel well satisfied later if you conserve energy and money, today. A good time to catch up on hobbies in solitude. Study would be even more productive.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Be aware of what is going on. Move directly to protect the interests most important to you. Keep some distance between yourself and people you know as restless or troubled.

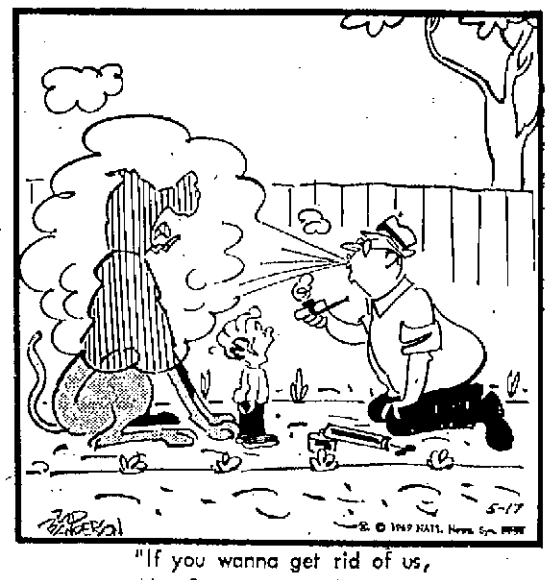

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Opportunity exists for beginning important social contacts. Changing conditions amongst friends and neighbors require great tact. Emotional involvements are somewhat confusing.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Take advantage of the quiet of Sunday to reflect on your health and its maintenance. Social activities are not favored today. People tend to misunderstand you and each other.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Leave business out of your Sunday program. Amusements turn out to be more expensive than you bought, so concentrate on the simpler pleasures of life.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Today continues yesterday's pattern. There is interest and perhaps excitement in watching the interplay between people with diverse points of view.

MONTEZUMA ROSE . . . Splendor of Aztec Color

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

As it is with any champions, whether in sports or other kinds of competition, so it is with All-America Rose Selection award winners: some continue to be popular, while others gradually fade away in popularity.

Montezuma Rose a former AARS winner still continues to be popular, without a doubt due to its ruggedness and toughness of growth. Perhaps more important is its continuing capability of producing lovely, orange-scarlet big buds and long-lasting large flowers of sheer rose perfection! We counted as many as 16 showy flowers and buds on Montezuma rose just nine days before last Christmas.

* * * *

MONTEZUMA roses and many other varieties of colorful roses are available at nurseries. In your garden they would provide color and furnish beautiful blossoms for cut flowers. Early in the year your nurseryman planted quality roses in containers, which are well established to set out in your garden. Check on them while they're in bloom and select the ones you like. Replace some of the old ones you thought would stagger through this year, but haven't produced the flowers they should. Dig them out and replant with new fresh ones.

Rose blooms on new hybrid tea roses should be cut this year. Cut to the first good node (bud) below the flower. This helps the bushes develop longer branch growth.

* * * *

OLD HYBRID tea bushes roses should be cut about three buds above the previous cuts. Sometimes there are several buds clustered close together on the new branch. In such case, count the cluster of buds as one unit. If you count them as individual buds and cut that branch, you'll leave a short stub. New growth from it may grow only three or four inches long before blooming. This means you won't have any long branch growth with the flower.

Sometimes the new growth on the older roses, following the first spring crop of beautiful blossoms, becomes limp. The tender top growth topples over. This means a flying bug pierced the stem several inches below the tip, and deposited an egg which soon hatches in the rose stem. It quickly becomes a stem borer, feeds on the soft growth within the stem as it bores downward. Spraying for the rose pest is useless because the spray doesn't reach the pest. Cut back the wilted branch several inches below the scar which you'll notice.

* * * *

APHIDS AND THRIPS are the most bothersome rose pests. They harm other plants too. Add a "sticker" (wetting agent) to the conventional liquid insecticide spray to make the bug spray stickier and more effective.

One of the spray time-savers eliminating frequent spraying is the use of a systemic insecticide spray. Such "systemic" spray is absorved into the plant sap stream and lasts four to six weeks. As the pests pierce the leaf or stem deep enouch to suck the insecticide impregnated sap, the pest is killed. Another time saver is to use a granular form of systemic which is gradually absorbed by the roots into the plant sapstream. Handiest time saver of all is rose food containing the granular systemic. As roses are fed, gradually the systemic is absorbed through the roots into the plant. Such fertilized food may be used for other plants too, but not for growing fruits or vegetables.

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

Q — The enclosed weed or flower which I have been unable to identify through a few contacts with nurseries, started growing in my yard approximately 18 months ago. Curiosity caused me to allow it to grow. It started blooming about a month ago with white flowers which have a pleasant odor and which drop off but are constantly replaced. The blossoms open in the evening and night but are closed in the day time. The plant now is five feet tall and rather bushy and covered with hundreds of blossoms. What is it?

A — If those fragrant white color blossoms are tubular or funnel shaped, then no doubt it is the tobacco plant, (not the one used for smoking.)

Q — My liquidambar just planted has many yellow leaves. A tall Burford holly has more and more yellow leaves which drop. Looks bad. Could it be too much or too little water?

A — Newly planted liquidambar tree into a clay-heavy soil in the lawn can be watered too much. The tall Burford holly yellow leaf drop can be a natural condition this time of the year as it is with many camellias if — IF the remaining old leaves and new foliage are a natural green color. Sickly looking remaining leaves can mean too much water or too superficial and shallow a level. To correct such a problem water plant deeply and less frequently — then use iron sulphate, one of the "irons," or one of the soil-rinse conditioners.

Q — Recently I planted water cress and parsley. Suddenly the water cress is yellowing (enclosed are some of the leaves). The parsley is beginning to yellow on the top. Is this caused by a blight or overwatering? If a blight what do I spray with?

A — I doubt whether you'll have success growing watercress because it is adapted to shallow stream of fresh water or spring, and it is more palatable in cool weather. Parsley can be watered too much.

LONG BEACH AREA CLUB NOTES

The regular meeting of the Dominguez Lincoln Village Garden Club is slated Monday at 21256 Sante Fe Ave. There will be an open discussion on plants and flowers.

The Paramount branch of the California Fuchsia Society will meet Thursday at 7 p.m. at 14410 Paramount Blvd., Paramount. Clarence Eastwood, past president of the California National Fuchsia Society. Visitors are welcome, but are requested to bring their own table service, hot dish, etc. for pot luck dinner.

Herbs on display in- of the month in May at South Coast Botanic Garden. An exhibit prepared by Mrs. Jack Newton of Palos Verdes and Mrs. Henry Rado of Hermosa Beach, volunteers from the Garden's Foundation, features medicianl and kitchen herbs.

Kitchen herbs on exhibit are the ingredients of gourmet cooking and are an answer to the monotony of that smae old chicken or hamburger four times a week.

Herbs can be grown as potted plants, in an old fashioned kitheen garden, or scattered throughout flower bed. Many require minimum care. Landscape gardeners often recommend using herbs as hillside plantings, between stepping stones, or even as hedges. Herbs can fill a large or very small area. Most grow in full sun; a few like shade.

South Coast Botanic Garden is now open to the public on Thursday and Friday, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., and on Saturdays and Sundays, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The Garden is located at 26701 Rolling Hills Road, Palos Verdes Peninsula. There is no admission charge for visiting and touring the Gardens.

JOBS TO DO NOW

CAMELLIA cuttings properly started now callus easily then develop string-like white roots. The rooted plants are set out in pots in well-prepared soil. Later, the pot-filled rooted plants are planted in the shade garden or into larger size containers.

Plant Amaranthus "tricolor," or "Joseph's Coat," or "Molten Fire" variety in a sunny flower bed, preferably near a wall to emphasize the vivid flaming colors foliage.

Snap off marble size fruit of peach and nectarine, spacing the fruit four to six inches apart, apricot about three inches apart, and apples about four to six inches apart. The remaining fruit develops much better.

Topdress dichondra lawn with five sacks of fine organic spread mulch material to 1000 square feet. It encourages thicker growth, and saves on frequency of watering as hot weather sets in. Grass lawns too improve from the topdressing.

MONTEZUMA ROSE . . . Splendor of Aztec Color

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

As it is with any champions, whether in sports or other kinds of competition, so it is with All-America Rose Selection award winners: some continue to be popular, while others gradually fade away in popularity.

Montezuma Rose a former AARS winner still continues to be popular, without a doubt due to its ruggedness and toughness of growth. Perhaps more important is its continuing capability of producing lovely, orange-scarlet big buds and long-lasting large flowers of sheer rose perfection! We counted as many as 16 showy flowers and buds on Montezuma rose just nine days before last Christmas.

* * * *

MONTEZUMA roses and many other varieties of colorful roses are available at nurseries. In your garden they would provide color and furnish beautiful blossoms for cut flowers. Early in the year your nurseryman planted quality roses in containers, which are well established to set out in your garden. Check on them while they're in bloom and select the ones you like. Replace some of the old ones you thought would stagger through this year, but haven't produced the flowers they should. Dig them out and replant with new fresh ones.

Rose blooms on new hybrid tea roses should be cut this year. Cut to the first good node (bud) below the flower. This helps the bushes develop longer branch growth.

* * * *

OLD HYBRID tea bushes roses should be cut about three buds above the previous cuts. Sometimes there are several buds clustered close together on the new branch. In such case, count the cluster of buds as one unit. If you count them as individual buds and cut that branch, you'll leave a short stub. New growth from it may grow only three or four inches long before blooming. This means you won'thave any long branch growth with the flower.

Sometimes the new growth on the older roses, following the first spring crop of beautiful blossoms, becomes limp. The tender top growth topples over. This means a flying bug pierced the stem several inches below the tip, and deposited an egg which soon hatches in the rose stem. It quickly becomes a stem borer, feeds on the soft growth within the stem as it bores downward. Spraying for the rose pest is useless because the spray doesn't reach the pest. Cut back the wilted branch several inches below the scar which you'll notice.

APHIDS AND THRIPS are the most bothersome rose pests. They harm other plants too. Add a "sticker" (wetting agent) to the conventional liquid insecticide spray to make the bug spray stickier and more effective.

One of the spray time-savers eliminating frequent spraying is the use of a systemic insecticide spray. Such "systemic" spray is absorved into the plant sap stream and lasts four to six weeks. As the pests pierce the leaf or stem deep enouch to suck the insecticide impregnated sap, the pest is killed. Another time saver is to use a granular form of systemic which is gradually absorbed by the roots into the plant sapstream. Handiest time saver of all is rose food containing the granular systemic. As ruses are fed, gradually the systemic is absorbed through the roots into the plant. Such fertilized food may be used for other plants too, but not for growing fruits or vegetables.

Q — The enclosed weed or flower which I have been unable to identify through a few contacts with nurseries, started growing in my yard approximately 18 months ago. Curiosity caused me to allow it to grow. It started blooming about a month ago with white flowers which have a pleasant odor and which drop off but are constantly replaced. The blossoms open in the evening and night but are closed in the day time. The plant now is five feet tall and rather bushy and covered with hundreds of blossoms. What is it?

A — If those fragrant white color blossoms are tubular or funnel shaped, then no doubt it is the tobacco plant, (not the one used for smoking.)

Q — My liquidambar just planted has many yellow leaves. A tall Burford holly has more and more yellow leaves which drop. Looks bad. Could it be too much or too little water?

A — Newly planted liquidambar tree into a clay-heavy soil in the lawn can be watered too much. The tall Burford holly yellow leaf drop can be a natural condition this time of the year as it is with many camellias if — IF the remaining old leaves and new foliage are a natural green color. Sickly looking remaining leaves can mean too much water or too superficial and shallow a level. To correct such a problem water plant deeply and less frequently — then use iron sulphate, one of the "irons," or one of the soil-rinse conditioners.

Q — Recently I planted water cress and parsley. Suddenly the water cress is yellowing (enclosed are some of the leaves). The parsley is beginning to yellow on the top. Is this caused by a blight or overwatering? If a blight what do I spray with?

A — I doubt whether you'll have success growing watercress because it is adapted to shallow stream of fresh water or spring, and it is more palatable in cool weather. Parsley can be watered too much.

LONG BEACH AREA CLUB NOTES

The regular meeting of the Dominguez Lincoln Village Garden Club is slated Monday at 21256 Sante Fe Ave. There will be an open discussion on plants and flowers.

The Paramount branch of the California Fuchsia Society will meet Thursday at 7 p.m. at 14410 Paramount Blvd., Paramount. Clarence Eastwood, past president of the California National Fuchsia Society. Visitors are welcome, but are requested to bring their own table service, hot dish, etc. for pot luck dinner.

Herbs on display in- of the month in May at South Coast Botanic Garden. An exhibit prepared by Mrs. Jack Newton of Palos Verdes and Mrs. Henry Rado of Hermosa Beach, volunteers from the Garden's Foundation, features mediciant and kitchen herbs.

Kitchen herbs on exhibit are the ingredients of gourmet cooking and are an answer to the monotony of that smae old chicken or hamburger four times a week.

Herbs can be grown as potted plants, in an old fashioned kithcen garden, or scattered throughout flower bed. Many require minimum care. Landscape gardeners often recommend using herbs as hillside plantings, between stepping stones, or even as hedges. Herbs can fill a large or very small area. Most grow in full sun; a few like shade.

South Coast Botanic Garden is now open to the public on Thursday and Friday, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., and on Saturdays and Sundays, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The Garden is located at 26701 Rolling Hills Road, Palos Verdes Peninsula. There is no admission charge for visiting and touring the Gardens.

JOBS TO DO NOW

CAMELLIA cuttings properly started now callus easily then develop string-like white roots. The rooted plants are set out in pots in well-prepared soil. Later, the pot-filled rooted plants are planted in the shade garden or into larger size containers.

Plant Amaranthus "tricolor," or "Joseph's Coat," or "Molten Fire" variety in a sunny flower bed, preferably near a wall to emphasize the vivid flaming colors foliage.

Snap off marble size fruit of peach and nectarine, spacing the fruit four to six inches apart, apricot about three inches apart, and apples about four to six inches apart. The remaining fruit develops much better.

Topdress dichondra lawn with five sacks of fine organic spread mulch material to 1000 square feet. It encourages thicker growth, and saves on frequency of watering as hot weather sets in. Grass lawns too improve from the topdressing.

Week's Wall Street Trend

By PHIL THOMAS
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned in another winning performance the past week, with analysts attributing much of the activity to President Nixon's speech on Vietnam peace prospects.

After the speech was announced early in the week, they said, many investors started buying in the apparent hope that the President might say something that would stimulate the market.

"It was anticipation buying," said Kenneth Troy, a Filor Bullard & Smyth technical analyst, and it enabled the market to shake off the moderate loss it showed Monday and post good gains the next two days, gains that enabled the Dow Jones industrial average to reach a new high for the year of 968.85 onWednesday. The previous high for the year of 963.68 was set May 8.

But after the President outlined his peace proposalso Wednesday night, Troy said, "a lot of these buyers apparently were disappointed that he didn't go further than he did, and they sold out the following day."

The market slid to a moderate loss Thursday but came back somewhat in the closing session to turn in what Troy called "a fairly, steady session."

The market was hit by periodic profit taking during the week as investors sought to cash in on the gains they had run up during the market's recent advances, and Troy said he thought the trend would continue.

"We're looking for a minor downside consolidation in the next few weeks," he said, "because the market seems to be in a minor overboard condition. The chances for reward seem to be lessening while the risk seems to be higher."

Troy added, however, that "even if the Dow industrial falls 20 or 30 points, it would be a healthy downside consolidation."

The Dow industrial closed the week with a gain of 5.69 points to 967.30. The week previous it gained 4.44 points.

For the week, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 2.4 to 343.5, compared with a gain of 2.1 the previous week.

STANDARD & Poor's 500-stock index advanced .89 to 105.94, compared with a gain of 1.05 the week before.

Technical Analyst With Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis

Bullish sentiment still prevails despite the generally overbought position of the shorter term market. The lack of more significant resistance and profit-taking at current levels suggest that further gains are possible. In fact the recent advance to a new recovery high removed any real resistance below the 980-985 level. However, another rally in prices, not preceded by any real consolidation or correction, would place the shorter term market in a very vulnerable technical position. Recent backing and filling has established the 955 level as a point to watch on the downside. Above this level, the shorter term trend will remain more positive than negative.

THE INTERMEDIATE term outlook is positive but less dynamic. The market has rallied nearly 70 points from its March low of 900 — and 60 points recently without even a minor term correction. A typical intermediate rally results in a gain of between 5 to 10 pct. Thus, the current advance is in a mature phase. In addition, the major market averages are now within a few points of their record highs. Without some base of consolidation at current levels, significant upside resistance would be expected at slightly higher levels. Therefore even though further strength could develop, a less aggressive trading stance is recommended.

Continued support of the institutions has provided a major prop during recent market activity. It should continue to prevent any real downturn over the shorter term. However, there are signs of a more neutral stance. Declining interest in this area over the shorter term could result in at least a minor reaction. Among the stocks under large scale accumulation last week which are regarded favorably on a technical basis are: Ampex, Ashland Oil, Brunswick, Parke Davis.

MARKET LEADERSHIP has started to fade, as recent interest has rotated from group to group on a much more selective basis. Without a more definite concentration of interest, much narrower gains are likely. Some groups look a little high on a shorter term basis and due for some corrective activity, i.e., Building Issues, Computers, Papers. These areas were among the strongest — and therefore only limited reactions are expected, which would be considered general buying opportunities. Nevertheless, more aggressive trading accounts may prefer to take at least some profits until a more dynamic outlook is evident.

International Industries up 2¼ points, McDonalds' Corp. up 3½ points . . . This very dynamic franchise area continues to out perform the market. Recent gains have carried many of these stocks up above near term trading counts. Some consolidation or correction would be expected and needed to predict higher levels over the near term. Because of the wide swinging and volatile nature of these issues, a normal correction can result in a fairly sharp reaction. This would suggest taking some trading profits on any upside sluggishness in an attempt re-establish the position after a period of consolidation or a low volume correction provided the basis for another trading opportunity. Longer term, the stocks all look higher and should be held.

Week's Wall Street Trend

AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned in another winning performance the past week, with analysts attributing much of the activity to President Nixon's speech on Vietnam peace prospects.

After the speech was announced early in the week, they said, many investors started buying in the apparent hope that the President might say something that would stimulate the market.

"It was anticipation buying," said Kenneth Troy, a Filor Bullard & Smyth technical analyst, and it enabled the market to shake off the moderate loss it showed Monday and post good gains the next two days, gains that enabled the Dow Jones industrial average to reach a new high for the year of 968.85 onWednesday. The previous high for the year of 963.68 was set May 8.

But after the President outlined his peace propusals Wednesday night, Troy said, "a lot of these buyers apparently were disappointed that he didn't go further than he did, and they sold out the following day."

The market slid to a moderate loss Thursday but came back somewhat in the closing session to turn in what Troy called "a fairly, steady session."

The market was hit by periodic profit taking during the week as investors sought to cash in on the gains they had run up during the market's recent advances, and Troy said he thought the trend would continue.

"We're looking for a minor downside consolidation in the next few weeks," he said, "because the market seems to be in a minor overboard condition. The chances for reward seem to be lessening while the risk seems to be higher."

Troy added, however, that "even if the Dow industrial falls 20 or 30 points, it would be a healthy downside consolidation."

The Dow industrial closed the week with a gain of 5.69 points to 967.30. The week previous it gained 4.44 points.

For the week, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 2.4 to 343.5, compared with a gain of 2.1 the previous week.

STANDARD & Poor's 500-stock index advanced .89 to 105.94, compared with a gain of 1.05 the week before.

By GEOFFREY PARKINSON
Technical Analyst With Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis

Bullish sentiment still prevails despite the generally overbought position of the shorter term market. The lack of more significant resistance and profit-taking at current levels suggest that further gains are possible. In fact the recent advance to a new recovery high removed any real resistance below the 980-985 level. However, another rally in prices, not preceded by any real consolidation or correction, would place the shorter term market in a very vulnerable technical position. Recent backing and filling has established the 955 level as a point to watch on the downside. Above this level, the shorter term trend will remain more positive than negative.

THE INTERMEDIATE term outlook is positive but less dynamic. The market has rallied nearly 70 points from its March low of 900 — and 60 points recently without even a minor term correction. A typical intermediate rally results in a gain of between 5 to 10 pct. Thus, the current advance is in a mature phase. In addition, the major market averages are now within a few points of their record highs. Without some base of consolidation at current levels, significant upside resistance would be expected at slightly higher levels. Therefore even though further strength could develop, a less aggressive trading stance is recommended.

Continued support of the institutions has provided a major prop during recent market activity. It should continue to prevent any real downturn over the shorter term. However, there are signs of a more neutral stance. Declining interest in this area over the shorter term could result in at least a minor reaction. Among the stocks under large scale accumulation last week which are regarded favorably on a technical basis are: Ampex, Ashland Oil, Brunswick, Parke Davis.

MARKET LEADERSHIP has started to fade, as recent interest has rotated from group to group on a much more selective basis. Without a more definite concentration of interest, much narrower gains are likely. Some groups look a little high on a shorter term basis and due for some corrective activity, i.e., Building Issues, Computers, Papers. These areas were among the strongest — and therefore only limited reactions are expected, which would be considered general buying opportunities. Nevertheless, more aggressive trading accounts may prefer to take at least some profits until a more dynamic outlook is evident.

International Industries up 2¼ points, McDonalds Corp. up 3½ points . . . This very dynamic franchise area continues to out perform the market. Recent gains have carried many of these stocks up above near term trading counts. Some consolidation or correction would be expected and needed to predict higher levels over the near term. Because of the wide swinging and volatile nature of these issues, a normal correction can result in a fairly sharp reaction. This would suggest taking some trading profits on any upside sluggishness in an attempt re-establish the position after a period of consolidation or a low volume correction provided the basis for another trading opportunity. Longer term, the stocks all look higher and should be held.

SUPREME COURT VACANCIES

Nixon Under Pressure to Appoint Republicans

New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — With the Abe Fortas controversy fading into the background, President Nixon came under subtle pressure Friday to "think Republican" when he names two new members to the Supreme Court.

Rep. Rogers C. R. B. Morton of Maryland, the Republican national chairman, said at news conference that it would be appropriate for Nixon to name Republicans to replace Fortas, who announced his resignation, and Chief Justice Earl Warren, who plans to retire next month.

"That's the name of the game," Morton said. "This is our opportunity, and we ought to take it."

* * * *

BUT HE SAID he doesn't expect Nixon to consult him on the matter and conceded that ability, experience and wisdom will come before party affiliation when the decisions are made.

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the assistant Senate Republican leader, threw out the names of two southern federal judges and two leaders in the American Bar Association — all Republicans.

In remarks to reporters, the Republican whip mentioned as Supreme Court timber two southern judges who were named to the bench during the Eisenhower Administration, John Minor Wisdom of the Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit and Frank Johnson, a district court judge in Alabama.

He also suggested Bernard G. Segal of Philadelphia, the president-elect of the A.B.A., and Albert F. Jenner Jr. of Chicago, who has headed the Bar Association's committee that helps evaluate the fitness of judicial appointees. Both are Republicans.

Ronald L. Ziegler, the White House press secretary, said Friday that there was a possibility that Nixon would submit both nominations to the Senate at the same time, but he added that "I don't think these appointments will be made hastily."

* * * *

SOME HIGH Justice Department officials feel some urgency about the nomination for chief justice, as Warren has indicated that he will retire next month, at the end of the present term, whether or not his successor is confirmed.

Ziegler said, however, that Nixon does not consider himself "under deadline" on the nomination, which he considers "one of the most important appointments he will make as President."

On Capitol Hill three senators called upon the Nixon Administration to make full disclosure of the information in the government's files of the incident that led to Fortas's resignation. One of them, Albert Gore, said the word "blackmail" was being used by some persons to describe the pressures that were exerted to persuade Fortas to step down.

* * * *

THE ASSOCIATE justice resigned in the face of a possible impeachment proceeding after it became known in official circles that he had arranged to receive a $20,000 annual stipend from the family foundation of Louis E. Wolfson. Fortas received one $20,000 installment and later returned it. Wolfson was subsequently sent to prison for illegal securities sales.

"Unless such a public disclosure is forthcoming, I call upon the judiciary committee of the Senate to conduct a searching inquiry to clear the air of doubts and suspicion," Gore said. Gore, a Democrat from Fortas's native state of Tennessee, supported him actively last summer when he sought unsuccessfully to be confirmed as chief justice by the Senate.

Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., agreed that the inquiry into the Wolfson fee should not be dropped merely because Fortas had stepped down.

Treasury Chief Urged to Resign

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., said Friday that Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy should consider resigning, charging that the case against him seems much more serious than that against former Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas.

Patman, chairman of the House Banking Committee, said in an interview that Kennedy appears to have violated three specific conflict-of-interest statutes through financial ties with Continental-Illinois Bank of Chicago.

Kennedy was board chairman and chief executive officer of the bank before he joined the cabinet. Patman has threatened possible impeachment proceedings against Kennedy for his alleged financial ties to the bank.

YOU'LL NEED COMPUTER TO TRACK SAN JOSE'S POINTS

L.B. Sprint Capital Today

By JOHN DIXON
Staff Writer

If it rains today, San Diego State will be first track and field champion of the Pacific Coast Athletic Assn.

But if the weather is as perfect as it was Friday, you'll need a computer to track San Jose State's points.

Achievements worthy of international note will occur in almost every one of the 18 events today—because nothing less will win.

Today's menu at Veterans Saldium calls for eliminations commencing at 10 a.m. in the 440-yard dash, 100, 880 and 220.

Field event finals will start at 2:15 p.m., and they'll be off to the races at 3 p.m.

The sprints—owned lock, stock and record by San Jose—will be spotlighted.

The 100 matches Olympic Games relay gold medalist Ronnie Ray Smith (9.4 this year) of San Jose, temmate Sam Davis (9.4), Bob Wilson of U. Pacific (9.5), and Jack Morrison of Pacific (9.5).

The 220 looms as a photo finish—and San Jose sweep. John Carlos (20.3) is favored, but not by much against teammates Davis (20.9), Lee Evans (20.6) and Smith (20.8).

No one has ever travelled 440 yards as rapidly as Evans. Al Carlson of Cal State Long Beach looks best in the "second race" — the race for runnerup.

The highest flyers are Erkki Mustakari of Finland and Fresno (17-4), Chris Papanicolaou of Greece and San Jose (16-6), and Sam Caruthers of San Jose (16-6).

Friday's premiere, the six-mile, was a five-man game of tag for four miles.

Then Byron Lowry, San Jose, and Roger Friend, San Diego, broke it open as quickly as though they had used a meat cleaver.

Lowry led the acceleration, but Friend was within arm's reach.

At four and one-half miles Friend led by five yards, after 4¾ he was in front by 25, and that was that.

Mile leaders were Juan Hernandez, San Diego, 4:54.3; Lowry, 9:54.2; Lowry, 15:01.6; Hernandez, 20:12.5, and Friend, 25:04.2.

Friend's time of 30:01.8 bettered the San Diego school record by three seconds. Lowry was second at 30:15.4, Joe Dunbar of Fresno nipped Ron Kurrle of Cal State Long Beach in a furious sprint for third place, 30:22.2 to 30:22.4. Kurrle shattered the 49er record by 20 seconds while contending most of the way.

Perspring as though he were emersed in a shower, Friend huffed, "I was watching Lowry all the way. He went out, I went with him. I saw he was breathing hard, so I figured I better take him while I could."

Friend shook off early-week flu as well as the clock. He improved his lifetime best by 117 seconds. A squadman Friday morning, at 5:31 p.m. he became a letterman.

Six-mile — Friend (San Diego) 30:01.8, Lowry (San Jose) 30:15.4, Dunbar (Fresno) 30:22.2, Kurrle (Long Beach) 30:22.4, Hernandez (San Diego) 31:03.6, Foote (Los Angeles) 32:12.6, Blemker (Santa Barbara) 32:31.8, Reese (Pacific) 33:25.0, Jeffers (Santa Barbara) 34:20.6. Scoring — San Diego 12, San Jose 3, Fresno 6, Long Beach 4, Los Angeles 1, Santa Barbara 0, Pacific 0.

Vikes Top Mounties, Near SoCal Crown

WALNUT (Special) — Long Beach City College successfully opened defense of its Southern California Junior College baseball championship Friday with a 4-2 win over Mt. San Antonio College.

The Vikings host Mt. SAC today at Blair Field to conclude the best-of-three series. Game time is set for noon and if Mt. SAC wins, a second game will follow. KLON-FM (88.1) will broadcast the action.

Lefthander Tim Brady gave up 12 hits, but smooth fielding by the Vikings kept him out of trouble most of the game.

"He was out of gas in the fifth inning," LBCC coach Joe Hicks said, "and pitched on guts alone. He wouldn't quit, even though we had Tim Murray warming up in the bullpen.

The Mounties, who swept through the Eastern Conference with a 19-0 record, dropped to 29-3 overall while LBCC, co-champion of the Metropolitan Conference, boosted its mark to 22-11 on the year.

Mt. SAC took a 2-0 lead in the fourth when Ron Opatkiewicz opened with a ground rule double.

With one out, Steve Wagner singled, driving Opatkiewicz home and moved to second on the throw to the plate. He scored when Mike Sykora singled.

Hicks, whose Vikings swept two consecutive games from EC champ Chaffey last year, saw LBCC get four runs in the top of the fifth to take the lead and the game.

Ray Colin provided the big blast of the inning as LBCC pounded out five of its nine hits.

Brady opened the frame with a single and Jim Martinez was safe on a bunt single. Colin blasted the first pitch to him down the left field line to score both runners and tie the game.

The Viking co-captain took third on a passed ball and freshman Glenn Berberet, who along with Colin and Jay Morrison got two hits, singled him home.

Mountie pitcher Doug Bird, who lost his first game of the year and is now 5-1, ran the count to 3-0 on Ed Crosby and reliefer John Jackson put him on. Morrison then singled Berberet home.

Brady, who pitched LBCC's final win for the state championship last year over Sacramento City College, is now 7-5 on the year and threw only 114 pitches despite the 12 hits. He didn't walk a batter.

He gave up at least a hit an inning, including back-to-back singles with no out in the eighth, but worked his way out of trouble each time. He forced eight infield pop-ups for easy outs and only two outs were recorded by outfielders.

Hicks' teams have now won nine consecutive championship playoff games in the past two years and could wrap up the SoCal title with No. 10.

Either Ray Brown (10-1) or Dennis Benson (1-1) will start for LBCC today, hoping to play only one game.

By FRED CLAIRE
Staff Writer

The reporters appeared to be slightly speechless so Willie Davis asked the question.

"Did he hit that ball or didn't he," inquired Davis.

There really was no need for an answer.

Willie Crawford had hit the baseball as well as a man can hit a baseball.

Crawford blasted a pitch by Pittsburgh's Ron Kline into the centerfield bleachers in the bottom of the ninth inning Friday night to give the Dodgers a 4-3 victory over the Pirates.

Crawford's two-run homer saved the Dodgers after they had played eight innings of great baseball and then apparently tossed it all away in the top of the ninth when the Pirates scored three times.

It was a night when the Dodgers changed form in unbelievable fashion.

For eight innings Don Sutton had pitched a two-hitter and the Dodger defense had been fantastic with Davis making three great catches. Shortstop Ted Sizemore and first baseman Wes Parker also had contributed outstanding defensive plays.

Then it all turned around in the Pirates' half of the ninth.

Sutton retired Richie Hebner to open the ninth but Roberto Clemente punched a single into right field. "It looked as though Sutton was tiring," Dodger manager Walt Alston said later.

Jim Brewer got the call in the bullpen but he gave up a single to Willie Stargell. Al Oliver then sent a smasher back to the mound, and Brewer made a wild throw to first base and it resulted in Clemente and Stargell both scoring.

This brought up Crawford, who ran the count of 3-0 on Kline and then took two strikes. Kline came in with a high fast ball and Crawford slammed it into the centerfield bleachers.

"That pitch was a ball but I didn't want to take a chance," said Crawford.

DODGER OF DAY

WILLIE CRAWFORD's two-run homer in the ninth inning defeated Pittsburgh, 4-3.

"I've never played in a more exciting game," said Parker.

"Man, do you believe that?" said Sizemore. "It was a thrill a minute. If the fans didn't like this one they won't like anything. It was a thrill just to be part of this one."

The Dodgers scored a run in the first inning after two outs on consecutive singles by Davis, Andy Kosco and Tom Haller.

The one run appeared to be enough the way Sutton was pitching and the Dodgers increased their lead to 2-0 in the eighth on Davis' double, an infield single by Kosco and a sacrifice bunt by Parker.

It added up to a 2-0 lead entering the ninth, when the Pirates suddenly came alive.

"I was terrible out there," said Brewer." It was just awful. Maybe these things even out. I didn't feel I deserved this win, but I'll take it."

SHOWCASE 49ER GRID PROGRAM

Beneath its P.T. Barnum exterior, tonight's Cal State Long Beach spring football game at Veterans Stadium (8 o'clock) is the most significant in the school's history.

Although the game has taken on the appearance of a beer garden musical with the luring of Hank Hollingworth and other assorted I, P-T staffers as coaches and of Ben and Larry Agajanian, Jim Snow, Mike Battle and Pat Cashman as players, 49er head coach Jim Stangeland has a few surprises planned.

As soon as everyone has paid $1 to get into the carnival, Stangeland is going to turn it into a revival meeting.

Tonight's game will introduce several athletes who could become as good as any Cal State has ever had.

The list of the futures includes the entire first-team offensive line, tight end John Turner, tackles Bill Perry and Steve Worley or Tim Smith, guards Brodie Dunn and Jeff Roop and center Austin Linsley.

It also includes quarterback Shawn McKinney and running backs Sam Redd and Jeff Riggen.

Defensively, the future stars include tackle John Kahler, linebackers Pat Brown and Bob Lannon, defensive backs Brian Shaw, Willie Norwood, Tony Moore, Randy Scott and Tyrone Perry.

Maybe there will be a "laugher" at Veterans Stadium tonight after all.

PREAKNESS RECORD IN JEOPARDY

Will Prince Repeat Run for Roses?

By MARTIN KIVEL

BALTIMORE, Md. — The two major points of interest here at Pimlico on the eve of the 94th Preakness were the lightning condition of the race track and the speed potential of that fastest son-of-a-gun in the West, Majestic Prince.

Never before have horses worked as fast as the big three—The Prince, Arts and Letters and Top Knight—have worked for today's mile-and-three-sixteenths test, and it had the experts jumping to all kinds of conclusions.

"This used to be a slow-snd-safe race strip with a deep cushion," said one, "but it's a speedway now."

Another said, "It could turn out that all three left their races on the track this week because those fast works had to take something out of these horses."

A third predicted a new record for Majestic Prince. "He's a sure thing to bust Nashua's record (1:54 3-5, set in 1955). Even trainer Johnny Longden doesn't know how fast that big guy of his can run because he never had really let him out.

Longden let his unbeaten Kentucky Derby winner out a little Thursday morning, and the result was a half-mile in an eye-popping 45-seconds flat which stunned the clockers, some of whom caught him in 44-and-change and promptly checked their watches for malfunction.

If that was a stunner, so was the "work" Ray Metcalf threw into Top Knight, the big disappointment in the roses run two weeks ago. The little trainer had thought to send the Florida-bred colt a half in 48 and got 45 2-5 instead, to his own and everybody else's amazement.

And also this week, Arts and Letters, whose great stretch duel with The Prince made the 95th Derby one to remember, turned off six furlongs in a flashy 1:11. Trainer Elliott Burch wasn't disturbed by the Virginia-bred's big move so close to the Preakness but he did admit it was a little out of the ordinary.

If it rains today, San Diego State will be first track and field champion of the Pacific Coast Athletic Assn.

Today's menu at Veterans Satdium calls for eliminations commencing at 10 a.m. in the 440-yard dash, 100, 880 and 220.

Field event finals will start at 2:15 p.m., and they'll be off to the races at 3 p.m.

The 100 matches Olympic Games relay gold medalist Ronnie Ray Smith (9.4 this year) of San Jose, temmate Sam Davis (9.4), Bob Wilson of U. Pacific (9.5), and Jack Morrison of Pacific (9.5).

The 220 looms as a photo finish—and San Jose sweep. John Carlos (20.3) is favored, but not by much against teammates Davis (20.9), Lee Evans (20.6) and Smith (20.8).

No one has ever travelled 440 yards as rapidly as Evans. Al Carlson of Cal State Long Beach looks best in the "second race" — the race for runnerup.

The highest flyers are Erkki Mustakari of Finland and Fresno (17-4), Chris Papanicolaou of Greece and San Jose (16-6), and Sam Caruthers of San Jose (16-6).

Friday's premiere, the six-mile, was a five-man game of tag for four miles.

Then Byron Lowry, San Jose, and Roger Friend, San Diego, broke it open as quickly as though they had used a meat cleaver.

Lowry led the acceleration, but Friend was within arm's reach.

At four and one-half miles Friend led by five yards, after 4¾ he was in front by 25, and that was that.

Mile leaders were Juan Hernandez, San Diego, 4:54.3; Lowry, 9:54.2; Lowry, 15:01.6; Hernandez, 20:12.5, and Friend, 25:04.2.

Friend's time of 30:01.8 bettered the San Diego school record by three seconds. Kurrle shattered the 49er record by 20 seconds while contending most of the way.

Perspring as though he were emersed in a shower, Friend huffed, "I was watching Lowry all the way. He went out, I went with him. I saw he was breathing hard, so I figured I better take him while I could."

Friend shook off early-week flu as well as the clock. He improved his lifetime best by 117 seconds. A squadman Friday morning, at 5:31 p.m. he became a letterman.

By FRED CLAIRE
Staff Writer

The reporters appeared to be slightly speechless so Willie Davis asked the question.

"Did he hit that ball or didn't he," inquired Davis.

There really was no need for an answer.

Willie Crawford had hit the baseball as well as a man can hit a baseball.

Crawford blasted a pitch by Pittsburgh's Ron Kline into the centerfield bleachers in the bottom of the ninth inning Friday night to give the Dodgers a 4-3 victory over the Pirates.

Crawford's two-run homer saved the Dodgers after they had played eight innings of great baseball and then apparently tossed it all away in the top of the ninth when the Pirates scored three times.

It was a night when the Dodgers changed form in unbelievable fashion.

For eight innings Don Sutton had pitched a two-hitter and the Dodger defense had been fantastic with Davis making three great catches. Shortstop Ted Sizemore and first baseman Wes Parker also had contributed outstanding defensive plays.

Then it all turned around in the Pirates' half of the ninth.

Sutton retired Richie Hebner to open the ninth but Roberto Clemente punched a single into right field. "It looked as though Sutton was tiring," Dodger manager Walt Alston said later.

Jim Brewer got the call in the bullpen but he gave up a single to Willie Stargell. Al Oliver then sent a smasher back to the mound, and Brewer made a wild throw to first base and it resulted in Clemente and Stargell both scoring.

This brought up Crawford, who ran the count of 3-0 on Kline and then took two strikes. Kline came in with a high fast ball and Crawford slammed it into the centerfield bleachers.

"That pitch was a ball but I didn't want to take a chance," said Crawford.

DODGER OF DAY

WILLIE CRAWFORD'S two-run homer in the ninth inning defeated Pittsburgh, 4-3.

"I've never played in a more exciting game," said Parker.

"Man, do you believe that?" said Sizemore. "It was a thrill a minute. If the fans didn't like this one they won't like anything. It was a thrill just to be part of this one."

The Dodgers scored a run in the first inning after two outs on consecutive singles by Davis, Andy Kosco and Tom Haller.

The one run appeared to be enough the way Sutton was pitching and the Dodgers increased their lead to 2-0 in the eighth on Davis' double, an infield single by Kosco and a sacrifice bunt by Parker.

It added up to a 2-0 lead entering the ninth, when the Pirates suddenly came alive.

"I was terrible out there," said Brewer." It was just awful. Maybe these things even out. I didn't feel I deserved this win, but I'll take it."

Vikes Top Mounties, Near SoCal Crown

WALNUT (Special) — Long Beach City College successfully opened defense of its Southern California Junior College baseball championship Friday with a 4-2 win over Mt. San Antonio College.

The Vikings host Mt. SAC today at Blair Field to conclude the best-of-three series. Game time is set for noon and if Mt. SAC wins, a second game will follow. KLON-FM (88.1) will broadcast the action.

Lefthander Tim Brady gave up 12 hits, but smooth fielding by the Vikings kept him out of trouble most of the game.

"He was out of gas in the fifth inning," LBCC coach Joe Hicks said, "and pitched on guts alone. He wouldn't quit, even though we had Tim Murray warming up in the bullpen.

The Mounties, who swept through the Eastern Conference with a 19-0 record, dropped to 29-3 overall while LBCC, co-champion of the Metropolitan Conference, boosted its mark to 22-11 on the year.

Mt. SAC took a 2-0 lead in the fourth when Ron Opatkiewicz opened with a ground rule double.

With one out, Steve Wagner singled, driving Opatkiewicz home and moved to second on the throw to the plate. He scored when Mike Sykora singled.

Hicks, whose Vikings swept two consecutive games from EC champ Chaffey last year, saw LBCC get four runs in the top of the fifth to take the lead and the game.

Ray Colin provided the big blast of the inning as LBCC pounded out five of its nine hits.

Brady opened the frame with a single and Jim Martinez was safe on a bunt single. Colin blasted the first pitch to him down the left field line to score both runners and tie the game.

The Viking co-captain took third on a passed ball and freshman Glenn Berberet, who along with Colin and Jay Morrison got two hits, singled him home.

Mountie pitcher Doug Bird, who lost his first game of the year and is now 5-1, ran the count to 3-0 on Ed Crosby and reliefer John Jackson put him on. Morrison then singled Berberet home.

Brady, who pitched LBCC's final win for the state championship last year over Sacramento City College, is now 7-5 on the year and threw only 114 pitches despite the 12 hits. He didn't walk a batter.

He gave up at least a hit an innning, including back-to-back singles with no out in the eighth, but worked his way out of trouble each time. He forced eight infield pop-ups for easy outs and only two outs were recorded by outfielders.

Hicks' teams have now won nine consecutive championship playoff games in the past two years and could wrap up the SoCal title with No. 10.

Either Ray Brown (10-1) or Dennis Benson (1-1) will start for LBCC today, hoping to play only one game.

SHOWCASE 49ER GRID PROGRAM

Beneath its P.T. Barnum exterior, tonight's Cal State Long Beach spring football game at Veterans Stadium (8 o'clock) is the most significant in the school's history.

Although the game has taken on the appearance of a beer garden musical with the luring of Hank Hollingworth and other assorted I, P-T staffers as coaches and of Ben and Larry Agajanian, Jim Snow, Mike Battle and Pat Cashman as players, 49er head coach Jim Stangeland has a few surprises planned.

As soon as everyone has paid $1 to get into the carnival, Stangeland is going to turn it into a revival meeting.

Tonight's game will introduce several athletes who could become as good as any Cal State has ever had.

The list of the futures includes the entire first-team offensive line, tight end John Turner, tackles Bill Perry and Steve Worley or Tim Smith, guards Brodie Dunn and Jeff Roop and center Austin Linsley.

It also includes quarterback Shawn McKinney and running backs Sam Redd and Jeff Riggen.

Defensively, the future stars include tackle John Kahler, linebackers Pat Brown and Bob Lannon, defensive backs Brian Shaw, Willie Norwood, Tony Moore, Randy Scott and Tyrone Perry.

Maybe there will be a "laugher" at Veterans Stadium tonight after all.

PREAKNESS RECORD IN JEOPARDY

Will Prince Repeat Run for Roses?

By MARTIN KIVEL

BALTIMORE, Md. — The two major points of interest here at Pimlico on the eve of the 94th Preakness were the lightning condition of the race track and the speed potential of that fastest son-of-a-gun in the West, Majestic Prince.

Never before have horses worked as fast as the big three—The Prince, Arts and Letters and Top Knight—have worked for today's mile-and-three-sixteenths test, and it had the experts jumping to all kinds of conclusions.

"This used to be a slow-snd-safe race strip with a deep cushion," said one, "but it's a speedway now."

Another said, "It could turn out that all three left their races on the track this week because those fast works had to take something out of these horses."

A third predicted a new record for Majestic Prince. "He's a sure thing to bust Nashua's record (1:54 3-5, set in 1955). Even trainer Johnny Longden doesn't know how fast that big guy of his can run because he never had really let him out.

Longden let his unbeaten Kentucky Derby winner out a little Thursday morning, and the result was a half-mile in an eye-popping 45-seconds flat which stunned the clockers, some of whom caught him in 44-and-change and promptly checked their watches for malfunction.

If that was a stunner, so was the "work" Ray Metcalf threw into Top Knight, the big disappointment in the roses run two weeks ago. The little trainer had thought to send the Florida-bred colt a half in 48 and got 45 2-5 instead, to his own and everybody else's amazement.

And also this week, Arts and Letters, whose great stretch duel with The Prince made the 95th Derby one to remember, turned off six furlongs in a flashy 1:11. Trainer Elliott Burch wasn't disturbed by the Virginia-bred's big move so close to the Preakness but he did admit it was a little out of the ordinary.

CIF Getting Great Mileage From Spikers

By KEN PIVERNETZ
Staff Writer

There seems to be no end to the almost unlimited quality and quantity of milers and two-milers in the CIF Southern Section this year.

In Friday night's semi-final meet at Cerritos College it took a 4:20.7 or better mile and a 9:20.0 or lower two-mile to even qualify for the finals, also at Cerritos, next Friday.

The semi-final headliner was junior Dave White of El Modena High after a strong 9:02.8 eight-lap effort lowered the CIF record from 9:03.8 and was the second fastest in the country this year.

White held off little Johnny Mendez (9:04.2) of Artesia in an all-alone finish. Poly's Jim Chaffin, after setting the early pace, was a distant third in 9:14.8 — a personal best by five seconds.

Defending state champion Ruben Chappins (Excelsior) tried to make up a 30-yard deficit on Salesian's Fred Ritcherson in the second heat and fell short by three strides.

Ritcherson moved out on the sixth lap away from Chappins and won in 9:08.8. Chappins' own season best was 9:08.8 while Ron Johnson from West Torrance, who has gone 9:02.9, was third at 9:10.6.

Three heat races in the mile were almost as exciting.

First five men in the first heat were under 4:19.2 and only three qualified.

Terry Lamb (Bolsa Grande) was a fast winner at 4:12.8, followed by Art Manjarrez (Redondo) 4:13.1, Steve Hungerford (Channel Islands) 4:14.5 and Glenn Bernard (El Rancho) 4:15.6.

Bernard's pace-setting 2:04.5 half-mile seemed to take too much out of the Moore League champion.

Lakewood's Bob Somesan ran his best mile (4:16.0) of the season when he had to and was a strong second to Decker Underwood of South Torrance (4:15.8) in the third heat.

Compton and Santa Ana's failure to qualify relay teams in the 440 because of dropped batons threw the varsity division team race into a wide-open battle.

Compton still led the way with eight qualifying places. Poly was a surprising second with 6, while Santa Ana Valley (5) and Centennial (5) followed.

The Ram senior won his half-mile heat in 1:57.3 and then came back 1 hour and 20 minutes later to run a strong 440 in 48.2.

Angels' Attack on Fritz as Yanks Rally for 2-1 Win

By GORDON VERRELL
Staff Writer

NEW YORK—It's getting so that when New York's Fritz Peterson walks out to the mound against the Angels he simply KNOWS he's going to win.

But even Peterson, who's now piled up seven wins in a row over the Angels, admits he had a few second thoughts about Friday night's tussle at Yankee Stadium which the Yanks won in the ninth inning, 2-1.

"I've been awfully lucky against the Angels," Fritz admitted in the Yanks' clubhouse afterward, "but, I just couldn't believe winning that one."

ANGEL OF DAY
RUDY MAY hurled one-hitter for eight innings only to lose to New York, 2-1.

What Fritz couldn't believe was the Yankees, on Bobby Murcer's double, shoving across two runs in the last inning against the Angels' snake-bitten Rudy May.

Rudy, who lost to the Yankees and Peterson a week ago at Anaheim by the same score, had collared New York on one hit through eight innings.

It was the best game he's ever pitched. Bill Rigney, the Angels' manager said so. And May thought so, too.

So did Murcer, the man who won the game with a hit to right that barely fell fair and went for two bases, "That was the best curve ball I've seen," Murcer, the newest Yankee phenom said after the game. "It broke so much I couldn't believe it."

May had sailed through 15 consecutive Yankees after Horace Clarke had singled in the third. But Bill Robinson opened the ninth with a single.

Still, Rudy managed to nail the next two batters. But Tom Tresh singled to left. And when Lou Johnson's throw went to third base trying to nail Robinson, Tresh slid into second.

"That was the ball game as far as I'm concerned," Murcer said. "Tresh has really been playing great lately. And when he saw the opening he took it."

Murcer followed with his hit, a ball that fell just inside the right-field line. It was the third time he's won a game for Peterson. He won one in Anaheim with a two-run single.

"I was shaving when Bobby got that base hit," Peterson explained. "I was really excited. I don't know. Did I even finish shaving?"

Peterson thus became the 10th lefthander to nail the Angels. The Anaheims haven't whipped a lefty yet this year.

Like the Angels, the Yankees have been having their troubles. Until Friday's win they'd dropped 15 out of their last 17 starts. "It's the first time all season we've had a big break like that," Murcer, the boy wonder, the young reliable, as he's called, pointed out. "I just hope maybe we're finally on our way."

Peterson, who's 5-4 now, has been on his way for some time against the Rigneys. He's 8-1 against Anaheim for his career which goes back to 1966.

"I just know I'm going to win against the Angels" he smiled. "And usually by one run. I wish I had the same kind of luck against the rest of the league."

The luck has been going just the other way for May.

He got a run in the first inning, an unearned one, when Bubba Morton singled to center to score Jay Johnstone. But after that Peterson blew past the Angels, at one stretch clipping 19 in a row. He finished with a three-hitter.

Even so, May had the edge, 1-0, until the disastrous ninth.

It was a big game for May just as it was for the Angels. The Halos hadn't won two games in a row for three weeks. And May, though he's pitched well, had only one win to show for it.

And, too, Rudy had a little personal grudge to settle. On the way to the park a radio announcer was giving the starting pitchers for the game. "Starting for New York tonight will be Fritz Peterson," the radio blared, "and for California, Rudy May . . . whoever he is."

"I'll show 'em," Rudy snapped. "I'll show 'em who I am."

He did, too, for eight innings.

Cubs Rock Dome for 10 Runs in 7th, Holtzman Breezes

HOUSTON (UPI) — Southpaw Ken Holtzman pitched a three-hitter and the Chicago Cubs set an Astrodome record by exploding for 10 runs in the seventh inning Friday night en route to an 11-0 victory over the Houston Astros.

Glenn Beckert, Ron Santo, Randy Hundley and Don Young each drove in two runs in the big inning when the Cubs put together nine hits and three intentional walks to break open a 1-0 pitching duel between Holtzman and Larry Dierker.

Holtzman boosting his record to 6-1, struck out seven and walked only two in pitching his fifth complete game. The only Astro hits were singles by John Edwards in the third, Dennis Menke in the seventh and Joe Morgan in the ninth.

200,000 Expected for Today's Trials at Indy

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Mario Andretti, who seems to have a private path around the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, will be a heavy favorite today to win the pole position for the 53rd Indianapolis 500 on Memorial Day.

The qualifications will cut a field of 84 entries, second-largest in the history of the race, to 33 starters May 30. Only 72 of the entries were at the track Friday.

Unusually large but uncounted crowds have poured into the 60-year-old speedway the last two days to watch practice runs. Today's attendance for the opening time trials may push 200,000.

Andretti, driving a new four-wheel-drive British Lotus with a turbocharged Ford engine, has been consistently fastest in practice with speeds up to 171.789 mph. The one-lap record, set last year by Joe Leonard in a Lotus-Pratt & Whitney turbine, is 171.953.

Tigers Fining Horton $340 Per Day

The suspension came after Horton failed to board a chartered flight in Detroit for Minneapolis-St. Paul, where the Tigers are playing the Twins in a three-game set.

A Detroit sportscaster, Al Ackerman, said that Horton was "tired of the treatment from the front office" and added that

CIF Getting Great Mileage From Spikers

By KEN PIVERNETZ
Staff Writer

There seems to be no end to the almost unlimited quality and quantity of milers and two-milers in the CIF Southern Section this year.

In Friday night's semi-final meet at Cerritos College it took a 4:20.7 or better mile and a 9:20.0 or lower two-mile to even qualify for the finals, also at Cerritos, next Friday.

The semi-final headliner was junior Dave White of El Modena High after a strong 9:02.8 eight-lap effort lowered the CIF record from 9:03.8 and was the second fastest in the country this year.

White held off little Johnny Mendez (9:04.2) of Artesia in an all-alone finish. Poly's Jim Chaffin, after setting the early pace, was a distant third in 9:14.8 — a personal best by five seconds.

Defending state champion Ruben Chappins (Excelsior) tried to make up a 30-yard deficit on Salesian's Fred Ritcherson in the second heat and fell short by three strides.

Ritcherson moved out on the sixth lap away from Chappins and won in 9:08.8. Chappins' own season best was 9:08.8 while Ron Johnson from West Torrance, who has gone 9:02.9, was third at 9:10.6.

Three heat races in the mile were almost as exciting.

First five men in the first heat were under 4:19.2 and only three qualified.

Terry Lamb (Bolsa Grande) was a fast winner at 4:12.8, followed by Art Manjarrez (Redondo) 4:13.1, Steve Hungerford (Channel Islands) 4:14.5 and Glenn Bernard (El Rancho) 4:15.6.

Bernard's pace-setting 2:04.5 half-mile seemed to take too much out of the Moore League champion.

Lakewood's Bob Somesan ran his best mile (4:16.0) of the season when he had to and was a strong second to Decker Underwood of South Torrance (4:15.8) in the third heat.

Compton and Santa Ana's failure to qualify relay teams in the 440 because of dropped batons threw the varsity division team race into a wide-open battle.

Compton still led the way with eight qualifying places. Poly was a surprising second with 6, while Santa Ana Valley (5) and Centennial (5) followed.

The Ram senior won his half-mile heat in 1:57.3 and then came back 1 hour and 20 minutes later to run a strong 440 in 48.2.

FRITZ PETERSON
Retires Last 19 Halos

Angels' Attack on Fritz as Yanks Rally for 2-1 Win

By GORDON VERRELL
Staff Writer

NEW YORK—It's getting so that when New York's Fritz Peterson walks out to the mound against the Angels he simply KNOWS he's going to win.

But even Peterson, who's now piled up seven wins in a row over the Angels, admits he had a few second thoughts about Friday night's tussle at Yankee Stadium which the Yanks won in the ninth inning, 2-1.

"I've been awfully lucky against the Angels," Fritz admitted in the Yanks' clubhouse afterward, "but I just couldn't believe winning that one."

ANGEL OF DAY
RUDY MAY hurled one-hitter for eight innings only to lose to New York, 2-1.

What Fritz couldn't believe was the Yankees, on Bobby Murcer's double, shoving across two runs in the last inning against the Angels' snake-bitten Rudy May.

Rudy, who lost to the Yankees and Peterson a week ago at Anaheim by the same score, had collared New York on one hit through eight innings.

It was the best game he's ever pitched. Bill Rigney, the Angels' manager said so. And May thought so, too.

So did Murcer, the man who won the game with a hit to right that barely fell fair and went for two bases, "That was the best curve ball I've seen," Murcer, the newest Yankee phenom said after the game. "It broke so much I couldn't believe it."

May had sailed through 15 consecutive Yankees after Horace Clarke had singled in the third. But Bill Robinson opened the ninth with a single.

Still, Rudy managed to nail the next two batters. But Tom Tresh singled to left. And when Lou Johnson's throw went to third base trying to nail Robinson, Tresh slid into second.

"That was the ball game as far as I'm concerned," Murcer said. "Tresh has really been playing great lately. And when he saw the opening he took it."

Murcer followed with his hit, a ball that fell just inside the right-field line. It was the third time he's won a game for Peterson. He won one in Anaheim with a two-run single.

"I was shaving when Bobby got that base hit," Peterson explained. "I was really excited. I don't know. Did I even finish shaving?"

Peterson thus became the 10th lefthander to nail the Angels. The Anaheims haven't whipped a lefty yet this year.

Like the Angels, the Yankees have been having their troubles. Until Friday's win they'd dropped 15 out of their last 17 starts. "It's the first time all season we've had a big break like that," Murcer, the boy wonder, the young reliable, as he's called, pointed out. "I just hope maybe we're finally on our way."

Peterson, who's 5-4 now, has been on his way for some time against the Rigneys. He's 8-1 against Anaheim for his career which goes back to 1966.

"I just know I'm going to win against the Angels" he smiled. "And usually by one run. I wish I had the same kind of luck against the rest of the league."

The luck has been going just the other way for May.

He got a run in the first inning, an unearned one, when Bubba Morton singled to center to score Jay Johnstone. But after that Peterson blew past the Angels, at one stretch clipping 19 in a row. He finished with a three-hitter.

Even so, May had the edge, 1-0, until the disastrous ninth.

It was a big game for May just as it was for the Angels. The Halos hadn't won two games in a row for three weeks. And May, though he's pitched well, had only one win to show for it.

And, too, Rudy had a little personal grudge to settle. On the way to the park a radio announcer was giving the starting pitchers for the game. "Starting for New York tonight will be Fritz Peterson," the radio blared, "and for California, Rudy May . . . whoever he is."

"I'll show 'em," Rudy snapped. "I'll show 'em who I am."

He did, too, for eight innings.

White Sox Snare Home Run Derby; Epstein Socks 3

CHICAGO (AP) — Mike Epstein hit three home runs in a high-powered slugging duel Friday night, but the Chicago White Sox overcame them and two other Washington homers to beat the Senators 7-6 on rookie Carlos May's 10th home run in the seventh inning.

There were seven homers in the game, including Frank Howard's 14th and Brandt Alyea's third for the Senators and Buddy Bradford's fifth for the White Sox. Epstein, who hit two of his blasts off Sammy Ellis and one off Wilbur Wood, now has eight for the season.

Danny Osinski, who finaly put down a three-run onslaught in the seventh, emerged as winning pitcher, and Casey Cox, the fourth Washington hurler, was tagged with the defeat.

Bobby Knoop, acquired from the Angels was hitless in four trips in his first start for the White Sox.

Cubs Rock Dome for 10 Runs in 7th, Holtzman Breezes

HOUSTON (UPI) — Southpaw Ken Holtzman pitched a three-hitter and the Chicago Cubs set an Astrodome record by exploding for 10 runs in the seventh inning Friday night en route to an 11-0 victory over the Houston Astros.

Glenn Beckert, Ron Santo, Randy Hundley and Don Young each drove in two runs in the big inning when the Cubs put together nine hits and three intentional walks to break open a 1-0 pitching duel between Holtzman and Larry Dierker.

Holtzman boosting his record to 6-1, struck out seven and walked only two in pitching his fifth complete game. The only Astro hits were singles by John Edwards in the third, Dennis Menke in the seventh and Joe Morgan in the ninth.

200,000 Expected for Today's Trials at Indy

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Mario Andretti, who seems to have a private path around the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, will be a heavy favorite today to win the pole position for the 53rd Indianapolis 500 on Memorial Day.

The qualifications will cut a field of 84 entries, second-largest in the history of the race, to 33 starters May 30. Only 72 of the entries were at the track Friday.

Unusually large but uncounted crowds have poured into the 60-year-old speedway the last two days to watch practice runs. Today's attendance for the opening time trials may push 200,000.

Andretti, driving a new four-wheel-drive British Lotus with a turbocharged Ford engine, has been consistently fastest in practice with speeds up to 171.789 mph. The one-lap record, set last year by Joe Leonard in a Lotus-Pratt & Whitney turbine, is 171.953.

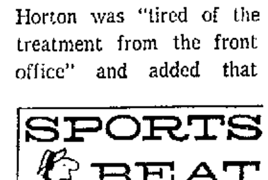

Tigers Fining Horton $340 Per Day

The suspension came after Horton failed to board a chartered flight in Detroit for Minneapolis-St. Paul, where the Tigers are playing the Twins in a three-game set.

A Detroit sportscaster, Al Ackerman, said that Horton was "tired of the treatment from the front office" and added that

Rams, Lancers Capture CIF Openers

Ruddell Pitches Shutout

By JUDY PETERSON

Mike Ruddell limited host Montebello to one hit and struck out 12 Friday afternoon as Lakewood High School opened the "AAAA" CIF baseball playoffs with a 2-0 victory.

In the seven-inning game, Montebello, champion of the Whitmont League, had only two other baserunners, on an error and a walk.

The shutout lowered Ruddell's already spectacular ERA to 0.58 and improved his season record to 11-3.

Clint Myers figured in the scoring of both runs for the Moore League co-champion Lancers.

In the fifth, Myers doubled and moved to third on a single by Craig Stevens. Myers then scored the game's initial run on a base hit by Eric Shiffer.

In the seventh inning, Mike Rae reached safely on an error, stole second and moved on to third when Eschenbeck's throw sailed into centerfield.

Tuesday, the Lancers will meet Palos Verdes, runnerup in the Bay League and a 4-2 victor over Santa Monica Friday, at a site to be determined.

Millikan Scores 12 in Rout

Millikan High offered its own version of the St. Valentine's Day Massacre Friday hammering out 14 hits in a 12-0 victory over Santa Barbara in a first-round CIF baseball playoff game at Blair Field.

The Rams touched Santa Barbara starting pitcher Monty Clemens for six runs on five hits, and two walks in the second inning before relief pitcher Doug Brown was ushered in to end the inning.

Clemens walked Rand Rasmussen to start the parade of nine batters in the inning. Danny Peters then singled Rasmussen to third. After Steve Derian walked to load the bases, Craig Toy beat out an infield hit with Rasmussen scoring. Rich Bailey lined a sharp single for two more runs and was followed by Phil Pence with a run-scoring single. Dave Chorley capped the inning with the fifth one-bagger, a two-run shot to left.

The Rams upped the count to 7-0 in the third inning as Rasmussen tripled and scored on a single by Peters.

After four innings the verdict was 9-0 as Bailey and Pence scored after a spectacular double steal.

Three Millikan pitchers scattered three hits as the Rams increased their season record to 17-6. Starter Dave Chorley allowed only one hit in his three inning stint, walking one and striking out four. He was relieved by Dave Frost, who was equally adept, giving up the last two hits. Craig Bush mopped up in the seventh inning.

FINESSE, NOT MUSCLE KEY IN CITY TEE

By DOUG IVES
Staff Writer

The emphasis will be on finesse over muscle as a record field of more than 200 golfers attempts to qualify for the 45th Long Beach City Golf Championship today and Sunday at a toughened Skylinks course.

Scores of 153 and 154 made the 64-man lineup the last two years, but with grass from two to four inches lining the fairways, many golfers think even-par will win the medal and 12-over will qualify.

There are 216 signed up, 12 more than the record entry in 1964, and that means there will be action from dawn to dusk. First tee off time is 6:45 a.m., the last 1:30 p.m.

The low 63 shooters will join defending champion Mountie Bedford in match play competition starting next weekend and continuing through the three-day Memorial Day weekend. The survior will have to win five matches.

Dick Mortensen, the reigning Masters champ, and Bill McCormick, the 1966 city titlist when it was last played at Skylinks, are the heavy favorites. Skylinks is their home course, and Bedford showed last year at Recreation Park that "local knowledge" can win titles.

Two late entries, Ron Moore of Los Angeles and Virginia CC champ Tom Green, also must rate some attention, especially Moore, who qualified third last year behind Wishon (138) and Gary Sanders (140) with a 71-71—142.

After shooting two-under-par, the former Cal State Los Angeles star announced to one and all that he would, or should, win the tournament. He lost in the third round to a CSLA teammate, Bob Clark.

The straight hitter will last the longest because of the grass. Most of the quality golfers are saying you have to lose one stroke every two times you hit in the rough.

CRACK GYMNASTS VIE TONIGHT IN L.B. INVITATIONAL MEET

The finest gymnasts that this city has produced converge in the Long Beach City College gymnasium tonight at 7:30 for the first Long Beach Invitational meet sponsored by the Century Club.

Heading the list is Long Beach City College's state championship team plus the outstanding Long Beach high school seniors and gymnasts from Cal State Long Beach.

Viking coach John Draghi, who built LBCC's team from eight to 24 top performers in three years, is meet director and will see two of his own individual state champions perform.

That would be Jim Jennings, who won the coveted all-around title in the state JC championships last week by performing excellently in all six events, and Gary Albitz.

Albitz won the 1969 state title on the rings, which came as a mild surprise when LBCC performers finished 1-2-3 in that event. In 1968, Albitz, then a freshman, won the state crown on the parrallel bars.

Jennings was voted outstanding gymnast in the tough Metropolitan Conference, which included four of the top five teams in the final state standings.

Another Viking performing for the final time this season is Dale Fage, a free exercise man who gave LBCC 14 valuable points in the final event of the state championship to secure the Vikings' first title ever.

Pasadena had won the past nine state championship and LBCC is the only team to beat the Lancers, which they did on four occasions this season.

Three high schools—Lakewood, Wilson and Millikan—all finished in the first five in the recent CIF finals. Lakewood was defending champion, but dropped to second behind powerful Westminster. Wilson was third and Millikan fifth.

Admission is $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Fuel Hydroplanes Go Today, Sunday

Nine blown-fuel hydros will tangle today and Sunday when the National Drag Boat Assn. persents its Long Beach spring championships at Marine Stadium.

The boat turned 192 mph on a single run at Oakland earlier this year but was unable to run within 2 per cent of that speed on a backup run. It was left to the late Jerry Gleason and Mr. Ed to set the world record of 190.26 in February.

Mr. Ed, now driven by Larry Hill, and Miss British Columbia will provide the major competition for Bale.

A top field of flatbottom blown-fuel-burning engines and under-100 mph classes go through qualifying and elimination runs Saturday morning while the over-100 run from mid-afternoon to shutdown time.

Sunday, starting at noon, are the elimination runs in the blown and unblown, gas and fuel flatbottoms and hydro categories.

Tickets are priced at $2.50 each day, youngsters under 10 are free when accompanied by an adult.

NICKLAUS IN PURSUIT

Yancey Surges to Lead in Colonial

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Bert Yancey surged two strokes out front at the halfway point of the $125,000 Colonial National Invitation golf tournament Friday with a course-record tying 32-33—65 that left him at four-under-par 136.

The 30-year-old former West Pointer and one-time national pee wee champion played what he called "as rewarding a round as I've ever had" with six birdies and a lone bogey over the 7,100-yard, par 35-35—70 Colonial Country Club Course.

The field was tightly bunched in pursuit with such menacing challengers as Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player among four players at two-under-par 138 along with Billy Maxwell and hometowner Jack Montgomery.

Bruce Crampton, Charles Coody and Gardner Dickinson were at 139 and first-day leader Chuck Courtney, who faded from at 66 to a 36-38—74 Friday, was at even par 140 along with Don Bies.

Enroute to his record-equalling 65, first shot by Ben Hogan and matched by seven other players, Yancey birdied the first hole and bounced out and sixth from four feet, the seventh from six feet, the eighth with a sensational 40-footer, the 12th with a 25- footer and the 15th from six feet.

His only bogey came on No. 3, the only green he missed during the steamy afternoon, when his drive caught a tree.

He narrowly missed another birdie on No. 17 when a 20-footer hit the hole and bounced out and he had makeable birdie putts of 6, 8 and 15 feet which also just missed their mark.

Yancey, who has finished no better than third so far this year while winning $25,000, said he was "proud" of his round.

Hawks Host Jaycees

By CHUCK MEDICK

A busy weekend is in prospect for the Long Beach Nitehawks. They begin it all by hosting the Bakersfield Jaycees in a Western Softball Congress doubleheader at Park Ave. Field tonight at 8 o'clock.

Sunday, the league-leading Hawks travel to Colonia Park in Oxnard for a 2 p.m. twin bill with the second-place Kings.

Last week's journey to deliciously warm Bakersfield was not a particularly satisfying one to Red Meairs' Hawks. They were indeed fortunate to get out of town with a split Sunday, thanks to the tape-measure drive off the bat of relief artist Sherm McInnis. The Jaycees are a new team, a young team and a forward looking one. Manager Bob Paaren says of his Bakersfield squad "We don't figure to win the WSC this year, we haven't faced the caliber of competition you guys have down there."

Rams, Lancers Capture CIF Openers

By JUDY PETERSON

Mike Ruddell limited host Montebello to one hit and struck out 12 Friday afternoon as Lakewood High School opened the "AAAA" CIF baseball playoffs with a 2-0 victory.

In the seven-inning game, Montebello, champion of the Whitmont League, had only two other baserunners, on an error and a walk.

The shutout lowered Ruddell's already spectacular ERA to 0.58 and improved his season record to 11-3.

Clint Myers figured in the scoring of both runs for the Moore League co-champion Lancers.

In the fifth, Myers doubled and moved to third on a single by Craig Stevens. Myers then scored the game's initial run on a base hit by Eric Shiffer.

In the seventh inning, Mike Rae reached safely on an error, stole second and moved on to third when Eschenbeck's throw sailed into centerfield.

Tuesday, the Lancers will meet Palos Verdes, runnerup in the Bay League and a 4-2 victor over Santa Monica Friday, at a site to be determined.

Millikan Scores 12 in Rout

Millikan High offered its own version of the St. Valentine's Day Massacre Friday hammering out 14 hits in a 12-0 victory over Santa Barbara in a first-round CIF baseball playoff game at Blair Field.

The Rams touched Santa Barbara starting pitcher Monty Clemens for six runs on five hits, and two walks in the second inning before relief pitcher Doug Brown was ushered in to end the inning.

Clemens walked Rand Rasmussen to start the parade of nine batters in the inning. Danny Peters then singled Rasmussen to third. After Steve Derian walked to load the bases, Craig Toy beat out an infield hit with Rasmussen scoring. Rich Bailey lined a sharp single for two more runs and was followed by Phil Pence with a run-scoring single. Dave Chorley capped the inning with the fifth one-bagger, a two-run shot to left.

The Rams upped the count to 7-0 in the third inning as Rasmussen tripled and scored on a single by Peters.

After four innings the verdict was 9-0 as Bailey and Pence scored after a spectacular double steal.

Three Millikan pitchers scattered three hits as the Rams increased their season record to 17-6. Starter Dave Chorley allowed only one hit in his three inning stint, walking one and striking out four. He was relieved by Dave Frost, who was equally adept, giving up the last two hits. Craig Bush mopped up in the seventh inning.

FINESSE, NOT MUSCLE KEY IN CITY TEE

By DOUG IVES
Staff Writer

The emphasis will be on finesse over muscle as a record field of more than 200 golfers attempts to qualify for the 45th Long Beach City Golf Championship today and Sunday at a toughened Skylinks course.

Scores of 153 and 154 made the 64-man lineup the last two years, but with grass from two to four inches lining the fairways, many golfers think even-par will win the medal and 12-over will qualify.

There are 216 signed up, 12 more than the record entry in 1964, and that means there will be action from dawn to dusk. First tee off time is 6:45 a.m., the last 1:30 p.m.

The low 63 shooters will join defending champion Mountie Bedford in match play competition starting next weekend and continuing through the three-day Memorial Day weekend. The survior will have to win five matches.

Dick Mortensen, the reigning Masters champ, and Bill McCormick, the 1966 city titlist when it was last played at Skylinks, are the heavy favorites. Skylinks is their home course, and Bedford showed last year at Recreation Park that "local knowledge" can win titles.

Two late entries, Ron Moore of Los Angeles and Virginia CC champ Tom Green, also must rate some attention, especially Moore, who qualified third last year behind Wishon (138) and Gary Sanders (140) with a 71-71—142.

After shooting two-under-par, the former Cal State Los Angeles star announced to one and all that he would, or should, win the tournament. He lost in the third round to a CSLA teammate, Bob Clark.

The straight hitter will last the longest because of the grass. Most of the quality golfers are saying you have to lose one stroke every two times you hit in the rough.

CRACK GYMNASTS VIE TONIGHT IN L.B. INVITATIONAL MEET

The finest gymnasts that this city has produced converge in the Long Beach City College gymnasium tonight at 7:30 for the first Long Beach Invitational meet sponsored by the Century Club.

Heading the list is Long Beach City College's state chamionship team plus the outstanding Long Beach high school seniors and gymnasts from Cal State Long Beach.

Viking coach John Draghi, who built LBCC's team from eight to 24 top performers in three years, is meet director and will see two of his own individual state champions perform.

That would be Jim Jennings, who won the coveted all-around title in the state JC championships last week by performing excellently in all six events, and Gary Albitz.

Albitz won the 1969 state title on the rings, which came as a mild surprise when LBCC performers finished 1-2-3 in that event. In 1968, Albitz, then a freshman, won the state crown on the parrallel bars.

Jennings was voted outstanding gymnast in the tough Metropolitan Conference, which included four of the top five teams in the final state standings.

Another Viking performing for the final time this season is Dale Fage, a free exercise man who gave LBCC 14 valuable points in the final event of the state championship to secure the Vikings' first title ever.

Pasadena had won the past nine state championship and LBCC is the only team to beat the Lancers, which they did on four occasions this season.

Three high schools—Lakewood, Wilson and Millikan—all finished in the first five in the recent CIF finals. Lakewood was defending champion, but dropped to second behind powerful Westminster. Wilson was third and Millikan fifth.

Admission is $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Fuel Hydroplanes Go Today, Sunday

Nine blown-fuel hydros will tangle today and Sunday when the National Drag Boat Assn. persents its Long Beach spring championships at Marine Stadium.

The boat turned 192 mph un a single run at Oakland earlier this year but was unable to run within 2 per cent of that speed on a backup run. It was left to the late Jerry Gleason and Mr. Ed to set the world record of 190.26 in February.

Mr. Ed, now driven by Larry Hill, and Miss British Columbia will provide the major competition for Bale.

A top field of flatbottom blown-fuel-burning engines and under-100 mph classes go through qualifying and elimination runs Saturday morning while the over-100 run from mid-afternoon to shutdown time.

Sunday, starting at noon, are the elimination runs in the blown and unblown, gas and fuel flatbottoms and hydro categories.

Tickets are priced at $2.50 each day, youngsters under 10 are free when accompanied by an adult.

SAINTS SIGN TIGHT END BOB MILLER

USC tight end Bob Miller, who played on three Rose Bowl teams, has signed a three-year contract with the New Orleans Saints of the National Football League, this newspaper learned Friday.

Miller, 6-5 and 245, was a sixth-round draft choice of the Saints. He alternated at tight end with Rob Klein, first-round choice of the Rams.

Terms were not disclosed. Miller was represented in bargaining by Select Pro, Bill Cosby's player representative organization.

Dallas halfback Les Shy, formerly of Cal State Long Beach, also has signed with Select Pro.

NICKLAUS IN PURSUIT

Yancey Surges to Lead in Colonial

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Bert Yancey surged two strokes out front at the halfway point of the $125,000 Colonial National Invitation golf tournament Friday with a course-record tying 32-33—65 that left him at four-under-par 136.

The 30-year-old former West Pointer and one-time national pee wee champion played what he called "as rewarding a round as I've ever had" with six birdies and a lone bogey over the 7,100-yard, par 35-35—70 Colonial Country Club Course.

The field was tightly bunched in pursuit with such menacing challengers as Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player among four players at two-under-par 138 along with Billy Maxwell and hometowner Jack Montgomery.

Bruce Crampton, Charles Coody and Gardner Dickinson were at 139 and first-day leader Chuck Courtney, who faded from a 66 to a 36-38—74 Friday, was at even par 140 along with Don Bies.

Enroute to his record-equalling 65, first shot by Ben Hogan and matched by seven other players, Yancey birdied the first hole and bounced out and sixth from four feet, the seventh from six feet, the eighth with a sensational 40-footer, the 12th with a 25- footer and the 15th from six feet.

His only bogey came on No. 3, the only green he missed during the steamy afternoon, when his drive caught a tree.

He narrowly missed another birdie on No. 17 when a 20-footer hit the hole and bounced out and he had makeable birdie putts of 6, 8 and 15 feet which also just missed their mark.

Yancey, who has finished no better than third so far this year while winning $25,000, said he was "proud" of his round.

Hawks Host Jaycees

By CHUCK MEDICK

A busy weekend is in prospect for the Long Beach Nitehawks. They begin it all by hosting the Bakersfield Jaycees in a Western Softball Congress doubleheader at Park Ave. Field tonight at 8 o'clock.

Sunday, the league-leading Hawks travel to Colonia Park in Oxnard for a 2 p.m. twin hill with the second-place Kings.

Last week's journey to deliciously warm Bakersfield was not a particularly satisfying one to Red Meairs' Hawks. They were indeed fortunate to get out of town with a split Sunday, thanks to the tape-measure drive off the bat of relief artist Sherm McInnis. The Jaycees are a new team, a young team and a forward looking one. Manager Bob Paaren says of his Bakersfield squad "We don't figure to win the WSC this year, we haven't faced the caliber of competition you guys have down there."

Nodouble, Gamely Head Hollypark's Rich Californian

Nodouble packs top weight of 127 pounds today in the 16th running of the $120,000-added Californian Handicap, the first of five hundred-granders at Hollywood Park this season.

The Californian at a mile and a sixteenth drew a field of 14 including Gamely, runnerup to Nodouble in the 1969 Santa Anita 'Cap.

Eddie Belmonte will fly from the East to ride Nodouble, owned by Verna Lea Farms. Wayne Harris has the mount on Gamely and the filly carries 119. No distaffer has ever won the Californian.

Dewan, carrying 115 pounds and jockey Alvaro Pineda, runs as A. J. Maloney trained entry with Gamely.

Other entries with jockeys and weights: Mr. Right, 124, Miguel Yanez, Indulto, 121, John Rotz; Poleax, 121, Don Pierce; Rising Market, 121, Howard Grant; Most Host, 118, Bill Harmatz; Glory Hallelujah, 115, Rudy Rosales; Prince Pablo, 112, William Mahorney; Quilche, 112, John Sellers; London Jet, 112, Fernando Alvarez; Title Game, 112, Jerry Lambert; Don B., 115, Mario Valenzuela.

Merlin Volzke has more than a quarter of a century of riding experience behind him, but one of his early lessons — the shortest route home is the fastest — proved most valuable Friday.

Slipping through along the rail all the way from the half-mile pole, Volzke booted Dagmar's Boy to a thrilling head victory in the featured $10,000 Montecito Country Club Purse.

O'SULLIVAN BEST IN STATE —WHEN HE DOESN'T RELAX

By JIM McCORMACK
Staff Writer

GARY O'SULLIVAN . . . Rags to Riches

"Never look behind you," the venerable Satchel Paige once warned. "Someone may be gaining on you."

A timely example of Satch's warning is Compton College muscleman Gary O'Sullivan.

"That's the truth," O'Sullivan says. "there's always someone waiting to beat you. Wednesday, for example, I wasn't ready to put out and I only qualified fourth in the discus."

O'Sullivan was speaking of the Southern California prelims at East L.A. and an event where he ranks, by 19-feet, 9-inches, as the best discus thrower in Southern California.

"That's the first time all year I've tried to rest on my laurels," O'Sullivan joked, "And I got stuck. You can bet I'll be ready for the finals Saturday night. I won't make the same mistake."

If O'Sullivan has a few shaky moments in his role as the best junior college shotputter (55-3) and discus thrower (174-1) in the state, it can be understood.

One year ago his best in the shot was 49-4 and his lone fling in the discus was a paltry 93 feet.

"In all of my coaching," Compton track coach Al Zimmerman admits, "I've never seen anyone improve as much as Gary. "This is his first full year with a discus and he's throwing 170 feet. That's got to be the greatest improvement possible."

How did he do it?

"My first semester here," O'Sullivan says, "I went out for football, but after a couple of games, I lost my desire. I think I went out for track to compensate for quitting football.

"Then, last summer I decided to work on my shotputting and the discus. My goal was the state championship. My ultimate aim is to bring together my best effort in both and win two state championships."

Has competing on a track team that didn't win a meet been a handicap?

"No, track is an individual sport. I set my own goals and I have to reach them. Man is a competitive animal, or at least I feel that I am, so I have set my goals. Now it is up to me to achieve them," said Gary.

"And, I think I will," he went on. "I like to compete. My best put of the year (55-3) was at the Fresno Relays and it came right after Ernie Cathcart (Chaffey- had thrown 55-2. It is a great feeling to come through like that."

At 6-foot-1, 215 pounds, O'Sullivan isn't big for a weightman, but he compensates with quickness.

"You have to be explosive in the ring," says the young man who has had recruiting letters from nearly all southland colleges. "I want to get bigger, if I can, but I don't want to lose any speed.

"Actually," the quiet giant says, "the only thing I'm thinking about now is the Southern California meet Saturday night (tonight) and the State meet in Modesto next weekend."

Savanna, Bielanski Trip Bears

A two-run single by John Brooklier after two were out broke up a pitching duel between Savanna's Andy Bielanski and Warren's Tom King.

The Rebels collected 11 hits and the Bears 10, but both hurlers were tough in the clutch. Warren stranded eight runners, Savanna six.

Bielanski, CIF player of the year in 1968, did not allow an earned run in four playoff games last year in hurling the Rebels to the title.

Normally a catcher, Bielanski only pitches "when the chips are down," says coach Jim Reach.

ARGOS NOTCH 2-0 WIN, BUT SANTIAGO BEATEN

Garden Grove's Duane Shaffer tossed a two-hitter and Santiago's Bert Blyleven hurled a four-hitter Friday, but only the Argos will carry the Garden Grove League banner into second-round CIF playoff action.

Shaffer's gem was good enough for a 2-0 win over Charter Oak, but Blyleven was beaten 1-0 by Corona Del Mar on Don Snider's fourth-inning single and Chris Thompson's pitching.

The fourth inning also was decisive for Garden Grove. Dave Maurer and Shaffer drove in the runs and Shaffer survived six walks, three in the first inning.

Neff Blanks Magnolia; Lennox Stops Artesia

Neff High won its first CIF baseball playoff game in the school's short history Friday as it scored a 2-0 win over Irvine League runnerup Magnolia.

Suburban League runnerup Artesia didn't fare as well, losing a 10-inning heartbreaker to Lennox, 1-0. Doug Oliver lost the game to Sparky Davison as both tossed five-hitters.

Paul Pelz of Neff and Doug Omer of Magnolia threw matching three-hitters, but the Trojans won it with single runs in the second and fourth innings.

Tony Banuelos tripled and scored on a passed ball for the first Neff run, and Jon Wilson drove in Chris Daniel, who had doubled, with the second marker.

Two of the three hits off Pelz came to lead off the seventh inning, but the next three batters flied out.

Unbeaten Raich Pitches, Bats Dons to 3-2 Victory

Big Eric Raich, who hasn't lost a game in two seasons, pitched and batted Dominguez to a 3-2 win over Hueneme Friday, but it wasn't easy.

Raich, a 6-foot-3, 235-pound righthander, hurled a five-hitter and delivered the game-winning hit, a single, that drove in Steve Douglas.

The victory was the 17th in a row over two seasons for Raich, who didn't allow a hit the final five innings. He struck out 10 and walked only two in living up to his award and the MVP in the Coast League.

The Dons, who waltzed through the league with a 14-1 record, meet La Puente in the second round Tuesday.

WESTERN HANDED 8-5 LOSS

Pacific League co-champion Arcadia pounded four Western hurlers for 14 hits Friday and knocked the Pioneers out of the CIF playoffs, 8-5.

Spartans, Sea Kings Triumph

Palos Verdes and South Torrance salvaged a split for their league Friday as both scored 4-2 victories in a Bay-Sky confrontation.

The Sea Kings, co-champions of the Sky, whipped Santa Monica, the Bay titlist, while South, runnerup in the Bay, got even by ousting Morningside, which had shared first place with Palos Verdes.

Robby Andrews drove in the tying and winning runs for South and Dennis Rector hurled a six-hitter. Mike Hrehor tallied three times and collected two hits.

Palos Verdes won on a three-run fourth inning that included two errors, and the pitching of Tim Coffin.

Chiefs Roll to 6-0 Win; Bucs Upset

The San Gabriel Valley League lost its champion, Bellflower, but runnerup Santa Fe advanced Friday in the first round of the CIF playoffs.

Whittier scored four times in the seventh inning — three on an error — to dump Bellflower, 7-6, and negate a 4-0 lead the Bucs held through four innings.

Ron Clark hurled a three-hitter as Santa Fe routed Newport, 6-0, earning the Chiefs the right to meet top-seeded Kennedy in the second round Tuesday.

Clark had won only one game in six decisions. The Chiefs' top pitcher was injured in a car accident after the sixth game of the season. Santa Fe broke the game open with a four-run third inning. Mike Snapp singled in the first run, John Connolly tripled in a pair, and Larry Myers drove home the fourth.

Nodouble, Gamely Head Hollypark's Rich Californian

Nodouble packs top weight of 127 pounds today in the 16th running of the $120,000-added Californian Handicap, the first of five hundred-granders at Hollywood Park this season.

The Californian at a mile and a sixteenth drew a field of 14 including Gamely, runnerup to Nodouble in the 1969 Santa Anita 'Cap.

Eddie Belmonte will fly from the East to ride Nodouble, owned by Verna Lea Farms. Wayne Harris has the mount on Gamely and the filly carries 119. No distaffer has ever won the Californian.

Dewan, carrying 115 pounds and jockey Alvaro Pineda, runs as A. J. Maloney trained entry with Gamely.

Other entries with jockeys and weights: Mr. Right, 124, Miguel Yanez, Indulto, 121, John Rotz; Poleax, 121, Don Pierce; Rising Market, 121, Howard Grant; Most Host, 118, Bill Harmatz; Glory Hallelujah, 115, Rudy Rosales; Prince Pablo, 112, William Mahorney; Quilche, 112, John Sellers; London Jet, 112, Fernando Alvarez; Title Game, 112, Jerry Lambert; Don B., 115, Mario Valenzuela.

Merlin Volzke has more than a quarter of a century of riding experience behind him, but one of his early lessons — the shortest route home is the fastest — proved most valuable Friday.

Slipping through along the rail all the way from the half-mile pole, Volzke booted Dagmar's Boy to a thrilling head victory in the featured $10,000 Montecito Country Club Purse.

O'SULLIVAN BEST IN STATE —WHEN HE DOESN'T RELAX

By JIM McCORMACK
Staff Writer

GARY O'SULLIVAN . . . Rags to Riches

"Never look behind you," the venerable Satchel Paige once warned. "Someone may be gaining on you."

A timely example of Satch's warning is Compton College muscleman Gary O'Sullivan.

"That's the truth," O'Sullivan says. "there's always someone waiting to beat you. Wednesday, for example, I wasn't ready to put out and I only qualified fourth in the discus."

O'Sullivan was speaking of the Southern California prelims at East L.A. and an event where he ranks, by 19-feet, 9-inches, as the best discus thrower in Southern California.

"That's the first time all year I've tried to rest on my laurels," O'Sullivan joked. "And I got stuck. You can bet I'll be ready for the finals Saturday night. I won't make the same mistake."

If O'Sullivan has a few shaky moments in his role as the best junior college shotputter (55-3) and discus thrower (174-1) in the state, it can be understood.

One year ago his best in the shot was 49-4 and his lone fling in the discus was a paltry 93 feet.

"In all of my coaching," Compton track coach Al Zimmerman admits, "I've never seen anyone improve as much as Gary. "This is his first full year with a discus and he's throwing 170 feet. That's got to be the greatest improvement possible."

How did he do it?

"My first semester here," O'Sullivan says, "I went out for football, but after a couple of games, I lost my desire. I think I went out for track to compensate for quitting football.

"Then, last summer I decided to work on my shotputting and the discus. My goal was the state championship. My ultimate aim is to bring together my best effort in both and win two state championships."

Has competing on a track team that didn't win a meet been a handicap?

"No, track is an individual sport. I set my own goals and I have to reach them. Man is a competitive animal, or at least I feel that I am, so I have set my goals. Now it is up to me to achieve them," said Gary.

"And, I think I will," he went on. "I like to compete. My best put of the year (55-3) was at the Fresno Relays and it came right after Ernie Cathcart (Chaffey- had thrown 55-2. It is a great feeling to come through like that."

At 6-foot-1, 215 pounds, O'Sullivan isn't big for a weightman, but he compensates with quickness.

"You have to be explosive in the ring," says the young man who has had recruiting letters from nearly all southland colleges. "I want to get bigger, if I can, but I don't want to lose any speed.

"Actually," the quiet giant says, "the only thing I'm thinking about now is the Southern California meet Saturday night (tonight) and the State meet in Modesto next weekend."

Savanna, Bielanski Trip Bears

A two-run single by John Brooklier after two were out broke up a pitching duel between Savanna's Andy Bielanski and Warren's Tom King.

The Rebels collected 11 hits and the Bears 10, but both hurlers were tough in the clutch. Warren stranded eight runners, Savanna six.

Bielanski, CIF player of the year in 1968, did not allow an earned run in four playoff games last year in hurling the Rebels to the title.

Normally a catcher, Bielanski only pitches "when the chips are down," says coach Jim Reach.

ARGOS NOTCH 2-0 WIN, BUT SANTIAGO BEATEN

Garden Grove's Duane Shaffer tossed a two-hitter and Santiago's Bert Blyleven hurled a four-hitter Friday, but only the Argos will carry the Garden Grove League banner into second-round CIF playoff action.

Shaffer's gem was good enough for a 2-0 win over Charter Oak, but Blyleven was beaten 1-0 by Corona Del Mar on Don Snider's fourth-inning single and Chris Thompson's pitching.

The fourth inning also was decisive for Garden Grove. Dave Maurer and Shaffer drove in the runs and Shaffer survived six walks, three in the first inning.

Neff Blanks Magnolia; Lennox Stops Artesia

Neff High won its first CIF baseball playoff game in the school's short history Friday as it scored a 2-0 win over Irvine League runnerup Magnolia.

Suburban League runnerup Artesia didn't fare as well, losing a 10-inning heartbreaker to Lennox, 1-0. Doug Oliver lost the game to Sparky Davison as both tossed five-hitters.

Paul Pelz of Neff and Doug Omer of Magnolia threw matching three-hitters, but the Trojans won it with single runs in the second and fourth innings.

Tony Banuelos tripled and scored on a passed ball for the first Neff run, and Jon Wilson drove in Chris Daniel, who had doubled, with the second marker.

Two of the three hits off Pelz came to lead off the seventh inning, but the next three batters flied out.

Unbeaten Raich Pitches, Bats Dons to 3-2 Victory

Big Eric Raich, who hasn't lost a game in two seasons, pitched and batted Dominguez to a 3-2 win over Hueneme Friday, but it wasn't easy.

Raich, a 6-foot-3, 235-pound righthander, hurled a five-hitter and delivered the game-winning hit, a single, that drove in Steve Douglas.

The victory was the 17th in a row over two seasons for Raich, who didn't allow a hit the final five innings. He struck out 10 and walked only two in living up to his award and the MVP in the Coast League.

The Dons, who waltzed through the league with a 14-1 record, meet La Puente in the second round Tuesday.

Dan Hanson collected three hits and Steve Provenghi drove in three runs for Western, the Sunset League champion which ended its season with a 16-7 record.

Spartans, Sea Kings Triumph

Palos Verdes and South Torrance salvaged a split for their league Friday as both scored 4-2 victories in a Bay-Sky confrontation.

The Sea Kings, co-champions of the Sky, whipped Santa Monica, the Bay titlist, while South, runnerup in the Bay, got even by ousting Morningside, which had shared first place with Palos Verdes.

Robby Andrews drove in the tying and winning runs for South and Dennis Rector hurled a six-hitter. Mike Hrehor tallied three times and collected two hits.

Palos Verdes won on a three-run fourth inning that included two errors, and the pitching of Tim Coffin.

Chiefs Roll to 6-0 Win; Bucs Upset

The San Gabriel Valley League lost its champion, Bellflower, but runnerup Santa Fe advanced Friday in the first round of the CIF playoffs.

Whittier scored four times in the seventh inning — three on an error — to dump Bellflower, 7-6, and negate a 4-0 lead the Bucs held through four innings.

Ron Clark hurled a three-hitter as Santa Fe routed Newport, 6-0, earning the Chiefs the right to meet top-seeded Kennedy in the second round Tuesday.

Clark had won only one game in six decisions. The Chiefs' top pitcher was injured in a car accident after the sixth game of the season. Santa Fe broke the game open with a four-run third inning. Mike Snapp singled in the first run, John Connolly tripled in a pair, and Larry Myers drove home the fourth.

BAND WELCOMES GRAPE MARCHERS

BRAWLEY (UPI) — A Mariachi band and a group of about 70 sympathizers welcomed about 75 supporters of the United Farm Workers organizing committee Friday as a 100-mile march to the Mexico border reached this community.

The California Highway Patrol said about 62 persons left Calipatria in the early morning, and their ranks were swelled during the day as local farmworkers joined the march.

The temperature was about 95 degrees in the Imperial Valley as the group trudged along the highway.

The group circulated through the eastern part of town in the late afternoon, accompanied by a loudspeaker truck, encouraging residents to attend a rally in Hidalgo Hall Friday evening.

Civil rights leader Rev. Ralph Abernathy spoke at a rally Friday night. Abernathy was to spend the night and march the first few miles today en route to El Centro.

The goal of the march is to encourage Mexican nationals, who hold "green card" permits allowing them to work in this country, to support the union, and to highlight the boycott against California table grapes.

BRIEFLY . . .

Where 40-Year Members Come From; Hail Forums

By LES RODNEY

Lots of things humming around town . . .

There are the searching series of May ecumenical forums on Mondays and Tuesdays (see details in story on next page) which, if a provincial note may be sounded, seem to be a pioneering step ahead of anything the churches are doing along those lines in that big nearby city. Pick a topic and drop in on one of the stimulating sessions, if you haven't already done so.

Over at 10th and Pine, First Baptist is fixing for the week's big doings in celebration of its 75th anniversary. Browsing over the church's long list of members of 40 years or longer who will be honored in the family homecoming dinner Wednesday night, the old curiosity of "where do they originally come from?" hit us. Out of a sampling of 87 readily available for checking (there are 133 members of better than 40 years standing, 27 of them over the 50-year-member mark!) we came up with a few surprises.

Iowa is no better than tied for fifth with three other states! Missouri is tops with 16. Second is . . . well how about that, California, with 13 native sons and daughters. Indiana and Colorado weigh in next with 7 each, then it's Iowa, Illinois, Texas, and Minnesota with 5. At 4 each are Kansas, Oklahoma, Washington State, Tennessee and Canada, followed by North Dakota with 3 each, New York, Georgia and Montana with 2 each, and a raft of others with one. Well, since you may be as interested in those things as I am, no fair keeping the rest of the birthplaces of First Baptist's old timers to myself. They are Arizona, Arkansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Nebraska, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Utah, Wisconsin, and, of all places, South Africa.

First Baptist's week will continue with a civic recognition banquet Friday night (reservations through the church still possible), which will feature notables from the county and city, and representatives of the many chuches historic "First" helped found. Then special services Sunday May 25, of which, more next Saturday.

OTHER DOINGS off the beaten path include a family campout tonight on the grounds of Christ Lutheran Church at 6500 Stearns, with camp meals, campfire songs, tents, sleeping bags and all, and regular services Sunday 8:30 a.m. for the campers, dressed "as they are."

On tap Monday from 10 a.m. to 2:15 p.m. at downtown First Congregational is an institute for the local clergy on the Holy Land, sponsored by the host church and the Board of Rabbis of the Harbor Area, with L.B.'s Rabbi Guthman sparking the event. Main talks will be by Moshe Yegar, consul for Israel to the Southland and, like almost all Israelis, an Army veteran, and Dr. Max Nussbaum, rabbi of Temple Israel of Hollywood, who will speak of Israel in a religious perspective. Discussion will follow.

YOUNG PEOPLE at All Saints' Episcopal are hard at work on an ambitious undertaking. On Sunday, May 25, they will present three performances of an old-fashioned melodrama and serve what they promise is a "real" Italian spaghetti dinner at three sittings, 4, 6 and 8 p.m. Tickets at $2 per adult, $1 per youngster may be reserved, with all profits going to a hard pressed Episcopal mission in Needles.

FRIVOLOUS NOTE — A Boston member of the Religious Newswriters Assn. has launched a move to change the name to Religion Newswriters, saying Education newswriters are not called Educated Newswriters. A brother from Detroit agreed, saying something about it being Pollution, not Polluted Newswriters.

CONGRESS will almost certainly move this year to close the loopholes which permits churches to own and operate, tax free, profit-making commercial enterprises having nothing to do with religion. Major religious organizations themselves have taken the initiative in ending this exemption, which allows tax-free competition with firms that must pay a 52 per cent income tax on their earnings. This church initiative allows heretofore timid lawmakers to go ahead without fear of being tabbed as foes of the churches.

Most startling cases which have come to attention involve independent churches, like the 2,200-member Cathedral of Tomorrow in Akron, Ohio, which owns the Real Form Girdle Co. of Brook-

ISRAELI consul Moshe Yegar will address Long Beach area clergy Monday in an informational session on the Holy Land at First Congregational Church.

BAND WELCOMES GRAPE MARCHERS

BRAWLEY (UPI) — A Mariachi band and a group of about 70 sympathizers welcomed about 75 supporters of the United Farm Workers organizing committee Friday as a 100-mile march to the Mexico border reached this community.

The temperature was about 95 degrees in the Imperial Valley as the group trudged along the highway.

The group circulated through the eastern part of town in the late afternoon, accompanied by a loudspeaker truck, encouraging residents to attend a rally in Hidalgo Hall Friday evening.

Civil rights leader Rev. Ralph Abernathy spoke at a rally Friday night. Abernathy was to spend the night and march the first few miles today en route to El Centro.

The goal of the march is to encourage Mexican nationals, who hold "green card" permits allowing them to work in this country, to support the union, and to highlight the boycott against California table grapes.

BRIEFLY . . .

Where 40-Year Members Come From; Hail Forums

By LES RODNEY

Lots of things humming around town . . .

There are the searching series of May ecumenical forums on Mondays and Tuesdays (see details in story on next page) which, if a provincial note may be sounded, seem to be a pioneering step ahead of anything the churches are doing along those lines in that big nearby city. Pick a topic and drop in on one of the stimulating sessions, if you haven't already done so.

Over at 10th and Pine, First Baptist is fixing for the week's big doings in celebration of its 75th anniversary. Browsing over the church's long list of members of 40 years or longer who will be honored in the family homecoming dinner Wednesday night, the old curiosity of "where do they originally come from?" hit us. Out of a sampling of 87 readily available for checking (there are 133 members of better than 40 years standing, 27 of them over the 50-year-member mark!) we came up with a few surprises.

Iowa is no better than tied for fifth with three other states! Missouri is tops with 16. Second is . . . well how about that, California, with 13 native sons and daughters. Indiana and Colorado weigh in next with 7 each, then it's Iowa, Illinois, Texas, and Minnesota with 5. At 4 each are Kansas, Oklahoma, Washington State, Tennessee and Canada, followed by North Dakota with 3 each, New York, Georgia and Montana with 2 each, and a raft of others with one. Well, since you may be as interested in those things as I am, no fair keeping the rest of the birthplaces of First Baptist's old timers to myself. They are Arizona, Arkansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Nebraska, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Utah, Wisconsin, and, of all places, South Africa.

First Baptist's week will continue with a civic recognition banquet Friday night (reservations through the church still possible), which will feature notables from the county and city, and representatives of the many churches historic "First" helped found. Then special services Sunday May 25, of which, more next Saturday.

OTHER DOINGS off the beaten path include a family campout tonight on the grounds of Christ Lutheran Church at 6500 Stearns, with camp meals, campfire songs, tents, sleeping bags and all, and regular services Sunday 8:30 a.m. for the campers, dressed "as they are."

On tap Monday from 10 a.m. to 2:15 p.m. at downtown First Congregational is an institute for the local clergy on the Holy Land, sponsored by the host church and the Board of Rabbis of the Harbor Area, with L.B.'s Rabbi Guthman sparking the event. Main talks will be by Moshe Yegar, consul for Israel to the Southland and, like almost all Israelis, an Army veteran, and Dr. Max Nussbaum, rabbi of Temple Israel of Hollywood, who will speak of Israel in a religious perspective. Discussion will follow.

YOUNG PEOPLE at All Saints' Episcopal are hard at work on an ambitious undertaking. On Sunday, May 25, they will present three performances of an old-fashioned melodrama and serve what they promise is a "real" Italian spaghetti dinner at three sittings, 4, 6 and 8 p.m. Tickets at $2 per adult, $1 per youngster may be reserved, with all profits going to a hard pressed Episcopal mission in Needles.

FRIVOLOUS NOTE — A Boston member of the Religious Newswriters Assn. has launched a move to change the name to Religion Newswriters, saying Education newswriters are not called Educated Newswriters. A brother from Detroit agreed, saying something about it being Pollution, not Polluted Newswriters.

INDEPENDENT PRESS-TELEGRAM
NEWS OF RELIGION

ISRAELI consul Moshe Yegar will address Long Beach area clergy Monday in an informational session on the Holy Land at First Congregational Church.

CONGRESS will almost certainly move this year to close the loopholes which permits churches to own and operate, tax free, profit-making commercial enterprises having nothing to do with religion. Major religious organizations themselves have taken the initiative in ending this exemption, which allows tax-free competition with firms that must pay a 52 per cent income tax on their earnings. This church initiative allows heretofore timid lawmakers to go ahead without fear of being tabbed as foes of the churches.

Most startling cases which have come to attention involve independent churches, like the 2,200-member Cathedral of Tomorrow in Akron, Ohio, which owns the Real Form Girdle Co. of Brook-

CHURCH'S RECORD CITED

Liberal Editor Blasts 'Reparations'

The irrational absurdity of James Forman and his black militants disrupting worship services and demanding "reparations" from the churches is highlighted by the history of New York's Riverside Church, the first one to be hit; says a noted liberal Christian editor.

"For decades Riverside has been the staging area for students and seminarians of all faiths who share the same turf of Morningside Heights. When the Poor People's Campaign stumbled along in Washington, again personnel and support flowed from the compassionate heart of a great religious fellowship.

"Only the fools or the ignorant would not know that Riverside has been an integrated congregation for decades — maybe 30 or 40 years. So long and so unnecessary to even mark the event! The professional staff has had Negroes and Puerto Ricans as full-time pastors for more than a dozen years. Every aspect of the church life, from youth groups to choirs to official boards, is filled with the racial mix of people from every branch of society. Here the black kids of Harlem play every day in exciting programs of sports and personal growth. Here foreign students learn English and theater groups work on plays, films and pageants.

"My response to the interruption of morning worship is swift and angry: Throw the intruders out. Freedom of speech and freedom of worship are what this country is all about. When the Klan or the SDS or the Young Nazis or the black militants want to break up these rights for their own brand of society, they have profaned the holy with their insolence.

"What this incident should reveal to us is the understanding that black racism is just as ugly as white and we within the Christian community should work overtime to resist both," Rev. Poling concluded.

LONG BEACH'S Dr. Emerson G. Hangen, who spent 17 distinguished years as pastor of First Congregational Church before retiring a year ago, was not long in his new position as interim pastor at the American Church in Paris before hitting the headlines.

You may have seen the

POLING

showing two Negro wompicture in Monday's I, P-T en, members of SNCC, reading an ultimatum demanding that the church pay the organization $5,000 as "a token advance" in line with the Riverside disruption in New York, and that at First Methodist of Los Angeles last Sunday.

According to the wire service story, Dr. Hangen asked protesting members of the congregation to hear the young women out, but when he then asked the women to remain and hear his reply to them, they walked out. He was quoted as saying that the demands were "blackmail" and would not be met.

We have sent a query to Dr. Hangen in Paris, inviting amplification and comment on the incident.

NEW YORK'S Mayor Lindsay, who has ample credentials as an advocate of equal rights for black Americans, has not temporized on the tactic.

"I want to remind all religious leaders of their rights, and indeed, their obligation to notify law enforcement officials should they have notice that this type of action is about to occur," the mayor said.

IN ALL of this, there is no question of the churches (and synagogues) being in a position to be complacently self-satisfied about their record. Thoughtful ministers, priests and rabbis will be the first to agree that despite modern prophetic leadership against bias from the world of religion, there remains much to be done to penitently close the gap between word and deed in the areas of true compassion and brotherhood.

Council Forums on Key Topics

The third week of the annual Ecumenical Forums, which have been received with high interest by those attending, will take place Monday and Tuesday evenings in several Long Beach churches.

"These forums are, it is generally agreed, reaching into areas which should stimulate and enrich the thinking and the church life of anyone," commented Charles C. Tingley, Christian Education Director at First Baptist Church, who is dean of the forums. "Each session is an entity in itself, so any persons who previously have not been able to attend will be welcomed."

MONDAY, ALL 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.:

Community Involvement Forum will meet at Christ Lutheran Church, 6500 Stearns St., dealing with "Housing in Long Beach," with representatives of the Fair Housing Foundation and Tenant's Union.

Youth Culture Forum will meet at Los Altos Methodist, Willow Street and Woodruff Avenue, with Rev. Dr. Richard Knowles leading a discussion on "Models for Youth Ministry." Dr. Knowles was the advising misister to the group of teens which last summer won special mention for a project of tutoring the Central City, and a Spotlight Award for one young person at the annual banquet.

TUESDAY, also 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Education Forum — at St. Luke's Episcopal, "Through the Week Curriculum," with public and Christian educators. For local church school teachers and interdenominational staff.

Inter-Faith Dialogues — at Unitarian Church, 5450 Atherton St., "City of the Future," led by Michael H. Salzman of the Los Angeles Planning Dept.

Lakewood Churches Launch Census

Thirteen churches of the Lakewood area sponsoring a house-to-house religious census and scripture distribution program starting Sunday afternoon and continuing through the following Sunday, May 25.

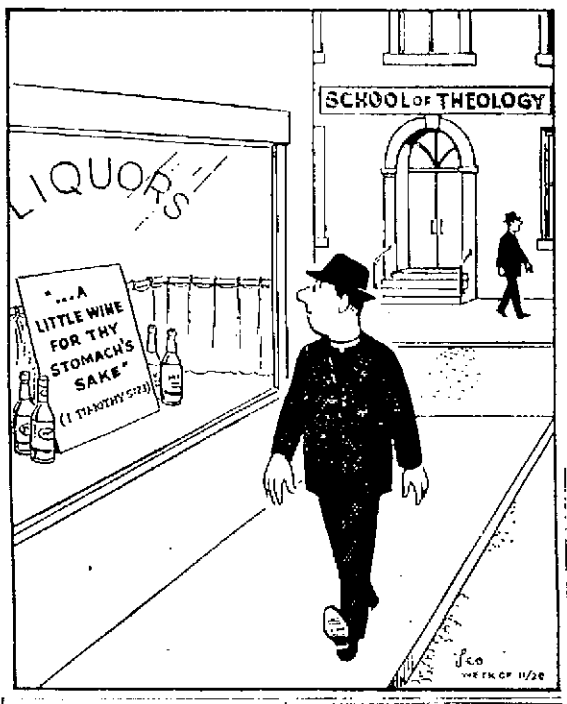

With the help of the American Bible Society, which is providing the non-denominational scripture packets of 16 Psalms, "Strength for Today," some 500 volunteers from the churches aim to visit 20,000 homes. In three-minute interviews they will find out the religious and church preferences, leave the packets, and also distribute church directories for the area.

The 13 churches providing both volunteers and financial support (for the directory) are: Bloomfield Community Free Methodist, Calvary Apostolic Tabernacle, Crossroads Community, Dutch Village Southern Baptist, First Assembly of God, First Christian, First Southern Baptist, Christ Presbyterian, Light and Life Free Methodist, Mt. Olivet Lutheran, Parkcrest Church of Christ, St. Timothy Lutheran, Trinity United Methodist.

Also helping with funds are the Lakewood Kiwanis and six other churches: First United Methodist Lakewood Village Community, St. Cyprian Catholic, St. Maria Goretti Catholic, St. Pancratius Catholic and St. Thomas Episcopal.

SIFNIFICANT STATISTIC? The so-called Black Manifesto demanding immediate cash "reparations" from the churches was adopted at the National Black Economic Development Conference in Detroit on April 26. While there were 700 registered delegates, the vote for the manifesto was 187 to 63. An unsual amount of abstentions?

REPLY TO S.T. — The reason you saw a guest's appearance in another church noted in "Goings On," while the very same guest's appearance at your church went unreported, is unfortunately simple. The other church let us know about it. Yours did not. We have no way of knowing these things for a religious news item unless someone tells us, and in time, which is by Thursday noon the latest. This is not meant to "scold," but to explain, and to make possible better coverage for your church.

ALC Meets

Approximately 600 lay and pastoral delegates will attend the ninth annual convention of the South Pacific District of The American Lutheran Church Tuesday through Friday at Disneyland Hotel. "Confidence for Crises in Christ" is the theme which will call together representatives of the District's 292 congregations in the six southwestern states, including Hawaii. Topics include the campus, urban crisis, and closer cooperation with the two other major Lutheran groups.

FROM THE PULPIT

Teddy Roosevelt once said that the secret to making friends is never to let them shake your hand. You shake theirs first. It is amazing how well this works. The world is waiting for someone who will show themselves to be friendly.

At Calvary we always try to shake your hand first. We want to show you that we are interested in you and always delighted that you honor us with your presence.

CHURCH'S RECORD CITED

Liberal Editor Blasts 'Reparations'

The irrational absurdity of James Forman and his black militants disrupting worship services and demanding "reparations" from the churches is highlighted by the history of New York's Riverside Church, the first one to be hit, says a noted liberal Christian editor.

Syndicated columnist Rev. David Poling, president of the ecumenical magazine Christian Herald, outraged by the militants' action, writes, "This religious fellowship (Riverside Church) has been in the front trenches of every social issue to hit the Christian community.

"When wars start to rumble and the military rides high, Riverside pulpit has been the first to challenge the assumptions of a warfare society," he continued.

"When Martin Luther King Jr. traveled north in search of aid and support for the civil rights strategy in the South, Riverside was first with money and manpower.

"For decades Riverside has been the staging area for students and seminarians of all faiths who share the same turf of Morningside Heights. When the Poor People's Campaign stumbled along in Washington, again personnel and support flowed from the compassionate heart of a great religious fellowship.

"Only the fools or the ignorant would not know that Riverside has been an integrated congregation for decades — maybe 30 or 40 years. So long and so unnecessary to even mark the event! The professional staff has had Negroes and Puerto Ricans as full-time pastors for more than a dozen years. Every aspect of the church life, from youth groups to choirs to official boards, is filled with the racial mix of people from every branch of society. Here the black kids of Harlem play every day in exciting programs of sports and personal growth. Here foreign students learn English and theater groups work on plays, films and pageants.

"My response to the interruption of morning worship is swift and angry: Throw the intruders out. Freedom of speech and freedom of worship are what this country is all about. When the Klan or the SDS or the Young Nazis or the black militants want to break up these rights for their own brand of society, they have profaned the holy with their insolence.

"What this incident should reveal to us is the understanding that black racism is just as ugly as white and we within the Christian community should work overtime to resist both," Rev. Poling concluded.

LONG BEACH'S Dr. Emerson G. Hangen, who spent 17 distinguished years as pastor of First Congregational Church before retiring a year ago, was not long in his new position as interim pastor at the American Church in Paris before hitting the headlines.

You may have seen the picture in Monday's L. A. Times showing two Negro women, members of SNCC, reading an ultimatum demanding that the church pay the organization $5,000 as "a token advance" in line with the Riverside disruption in New York, and that at First Methodist of Los Angeles last Sunday.

POLING
'Black Racism'

According to the wire service story, Dr. Hangen asked protesting members of the congregation to hear the young women out, but when he then asked the women to remain and hear his reply to them, they walked out. He was quoted as saying that the demands were "blackmail" and would not be met.

We have sent a query to Dr. Hangen in Paris, inviting amplifcation and comment on the incident.

NEW YORK'S Mayor Lindsay, who has ample credentials as an advocate of equal rights for black Americans, has not temporized on the tactic.

"I want to remind all religious leaders of their rights, and indeed, their obligation to notify law enforcement officials should they have notice that this type of action is about to occur," the mayor said.

* * * *

IN ALL of this, there is no question of the churches (and synagogues) being in a position to be complacently self-satisfied about their record. Thoughtful ministers, priests and rabbis will be the first to agree that despite modern prophetic leadership against bias from the world of religion, there remains much to be done to penitently close the gap between word and deed in the areas of true compassion and brotherhood.

But his is quite different — in fact, the opposite — from the indiscriminate, reverse racist, blackmail-like lunacy of disruption of churches and a threatening demand for "reparations."

OTHER VIEWS ON 'REPARATIONS'?

Differing views on the controversial question of church "reparations," by clergy or lay readers, will be welcomed by the religion pages.

Council Forums on Key Topics

The third week of the annual Ecumenical Forums, which have been received with high interest by those attending, will take place Monday and Tuesday evenings in several Long Beach churches.

"These forums are, it is generally agreed, reaching into areas which should stimulate and enrich the thinking and the church life of anyone," commented Charles C. Tingley, Christian Education Director at First Baptist Church, who is dean of the forums. "Each session is an entity in itself, so any persons who previously have not been able to attend will be welcomed."

Here is the schedule for the Monday and Tuesday night events:

MONDAY, ALL 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.:

Community Involvement Forum will meet at Christ Lutheran Church, 6500 Stearns St., dealing with "Housing in Long Beach," with representatives of the Fair Housing Foundation and Tenant's Union.

Small Group Experiences, led by Andy Allegretti and Rev. Dwight Hoelscher, at St. Luke's Episcopal, 7th Street and Atlantic Avenue.

Youth Culture Forum will meet at Los Altos Methodist, Willow Street and Woodruff Avenue, with Rev. Dr. Richard Knowles leading a discussion on "Models for Youth Ministry." Dr. Knowles was the advising misister to the group of teens which last summer won special mention for a project of tutoring the Central City, and a Spotlight Award for one young person at the annual banquet.

TUESDAY, also 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Education Forum — at St. Luke's Episcopal, "Through the Week Curriculum," with public and Christian educators. For local church school teachers and interdenominational staff.

Inter-Faith Dialogues — at Unitarian Church, 5450 Atherton St., "City of the Future," led by Michael H. Salzman of the Los Angeles Planning Dept.

Lakewood Churches Launch Census

Thirteen churches of the Lakewood area sponsoring a house-to-house religious census and scripture distribution program starting Sunday afternoon and continuing through the following Sunday, May 25.

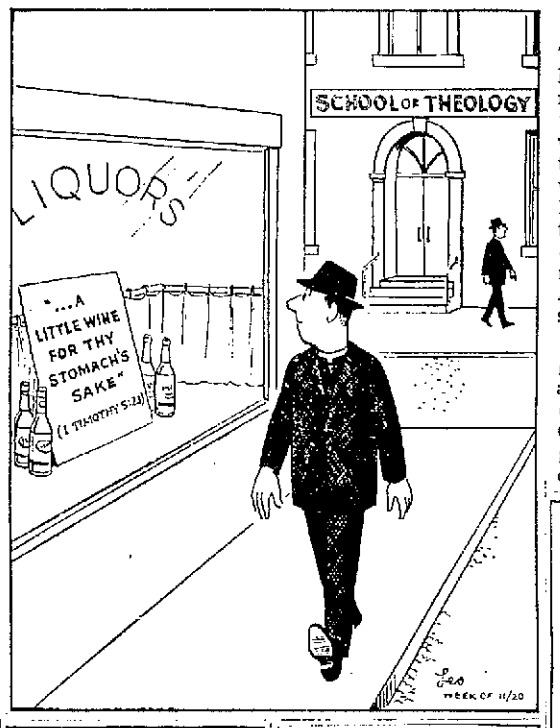

With the help of the American Bible Society, which is providing the non-denominational scripture packets of 16 Psalms, "Strength for Today," some 500 volunteers from the churches aim to visit 20,000 homes. In three-minute interviews they will find out the religious and church preferences, leave the packets, and also distribute church directories for the area.

Each volunteer will be provided with brief orientation and training in his own church before setting forth on the cooperative community project.

The 13 churches providing both volunteers and financial support (for the directory) are: Bloomfield Community Free Methodist, Calvary Apostolic Tabernacle, Crossroads Community, Dutch Village Southern Baptist, First Assembly of God, First Christian, First Southern Baptist, Christ Presbyterian, Light and Life Free Methodist, Mt. Olivet Lutheran, Parkcrest Church of Christ, St. Timothy Lutheran, Trinity United Methodist.

Also helping with funds are the Lakewood Kiwanis and six other churches: First United Methodist Lakewood Village Community, St. Cyprian Catholic, St. Maria Goretti Catholic, St. Pancratius Catholic and St. Thomas Episcopal.

SIFNIFICANT STATISTIC? The so-called Black Manifesto demanding immediate cash "reparations" from the churches was adopted at the National Black Economic Development Conference in Detroit on April 26. While there were 700 registered delegates, the vote for the manifesto was 187 to 63. An unsual amount of abstentions?

REPLY TO S.T. — The reason you saw a guest's appearance in another church noted in "Goings On," while the very same guest's appearance at your church went unreported, is unfortunately simple. The other church let us know about it. Yours did not. We have no way of knowing these things for a religious news item unless someone tells us, and in time, which is by Thursday noon the latest. This is not meant to "scold," but to explain, and to make possible better coverage for your church.

ALC Meets

Approximately 600 lay and pastoral delegates will attend the ninth annual convention of the South Pacific District of The American Lutheran Church Tuesday through Friday at Disneyland Hotel. "Confidence for Crises in Christ" is the theme which will call together representatives of the District's 292 congregations in the six southwestern states, including Hawaii. Topics include the campus, urban crisis, and closer cooperation with the two other major Lutheran groups.

GOOD STUDENTS IN RELEASED TIME STUDY

Some of the high score students who will be honored at the traditional Evangelical Released Time closing program Friday, 7:30 p.m. at Guiding Light Tabernacle, are shown with Mrs. G. McCleary, director for past 13 years. Her son Stephen, who usually played piano at the ceremonies, can't make it this year—he's in the Army in Vietnam. Several former students of Mrs. McCleary are studying for the ministry. Also winding up successful year are the Council of Churches and Roman Catholic sections of Long Beach's released time program. From left, Deborah and Ruth Mathis, David Kogok, fifth graders at Starr King School, Mrs. McCleary, Paula Dempsey and Kendell Morrison, fourth graders at Burnett School.

IN SPIRIT OF VATICAN II

Explains 'Updating of St. Mary's Nuns

The new Coordinator of Religious Personnel for the Sisters of Charity of the Incarnate Word — the Roman Catholic order which staffs St. Mary's Hospital — spent a day in Long Beach this week, and explained the reason for the new post.

"The position was created so we can have a very systematic evaluation of our religious personnel, from the point of view of their developing their potential to the fullest."

With that in view, Sister Mary Dolores is interviewing sisters of the order. A more scientific coordinated personnel approach, patterned after those found so useful by industry, will hopefully result in better placement of sisters according to their abilities, she noted.

Preferences in choice of work, within the context of the order's main tasks, can be expected to play some role.

However, it is not anticipated that there will be many switches from one field of endeavor to another.

"Once you prepare yourself in a particular professional field, you do not lightly change," the coordinator said. "That holds true in a religious order where professional skills are required, as well as in the secular world."

The thinking is more along the lines of evaluating individuals for possible advancement and further realization of talents within their acquired field of competence.

The Sisters of Charity are primarily concerned with the care of the sick, but have branched out recently into allied fields. A program designed to tap the full potential of individuals may find some going into supervising and managerial workshops, and into clinical work. Further education along these lines may be suggested. Sisters of the order have also participated in some cities in the field of inner-city work after their regular duties — all, emphasized Sister Mary Dolores, within a well organized program.

SISTER DOLORES
Scientific Approach

"Yes," she said, "the call is for renewal, interior renewal of the spirit, and also updating the apostolic work in which one is involved."

Sister Mary Dolores is visiting four missions on her current swing from the central headquarters in Houston, Tex. In addition to St. Mary's, and St. Bernardine's in San Bernardino, she is visiting a home for the aged and a school in Salt Lake City.

CONFIDENT LIVING

The Way to Skip Discouragement

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Do you get discouraged and downhearted? Well, I have news for you. You can overcome it. There is a way to skip discouragement.

A university dean wanted to discuss his problems. However, this man already had his main problem licked. He had won a tussle with discouragement. It has been a rough experience but he was elated with the outcome.

"By the time I was halfway though college," he told me, "I knew I wanted to be an educator. I love academic life. This was for me. So I went into teaching, worked hard, and in time became a full professor.

"Then later my university offered me the post of administrative dean. I wasn't too keen about administrative work. For one thing, I dislike dealing with disciplinary matters. However, it was an opportunity to handle a vitally important job.

* * * *

"BUT THEN came this rash of riots on university campuses. I was appalled at what went on. I would look out my window and see several lines of students marching around with picket signs, shouting obscenities. I saw stone-throwing, I saw bystanders get hurt, saw the police go into action.

"These conditions violated my life-long conception of an academic community as a place where violence was inconceivable, where free unhibited give-and-take of opinions and the cultivation of ideas were the rule of life. Why should I, a scholar, have to deal with problems posed by hate-motivated militancy? I was filled with resentment. There were moments when I felt like chucking the whole rotten business.

"But presently some new ideas began suggesting different considerations. 'I'm a thoughtful man,' I reflected. 'I'm to some degree a perceptive person. So why should I be spared a situation of this kind? And if I meet the challenge of this strange, sad situation on campus, giving it all I've got, with good will and understanding, I may even do some constructive good."

Such creative thought got him on top of things. Sound philosophy prevailed over negative emotions. He now takes administrative problems in his stride. "Don't get me wrong. I can be tough when necessary," he says, "but I think I'm establishing some rapport with students too. Anyway, I'm no longer discouraged by the problem."

Some years ago, following the publication of a book on positive thinking which I wrote, I found myself on the receiving end of many brickbats. They came especially from high echelons in the clergy. And under the impact of this hostility I grew despondent and discouraged.

One day, feeling particularly sorry for myself because of some new diatribe, I happened to encounter on the street a friend by the name of Herbert Clark. This man was an adventurer who had been through several revolutions in Mexico and elsewhere, a man years my senior. He was an indomitable sort of character. "What's the matter with you?" he asked. "You look down in the mouth. You're not your usual self."

He listened attentively, then exclaimed, "Congratulations! Why, when you stir up that must opposition, that's when you know you're really doing something! There's nothing in the world like a good fight! Stand up for what you believe in. You'll grown bigger doing it," And he hit me a clap on the back and proceeded on his way.

* * * *

I'VE GOT to admit that did me a lot more good than any amount of soft sympathy, "Oh, I'm so sorry you're having all this trouble," and that sort of talk. Clark had given me, in strong, terse language, just what I needed: a fast injection of philosophy. It jolted me into taking courage so I could say "the heck with it."

As the word itself indicates, discouragement means a discounting of courage. One thing is sure, the more courage you muster, the faster you snap out of discouragement.

To live successfully in this tough world you need a view of life that includes a philosophic attitude toward trouble. You are bound to have plenty of it, but it's for a purpose — to help develop your powers. Keep your thinking positive. Take difficulty as an opportunity to show yourself the real stuff you're made of. Handle it constructively. And in the process you will become a stronger person. You will feel really alive and happy.

Does Science Test Beliefs?

BORDERLANDS OF THEOLOGY AND OTHER ESSAYS. By Donald Mackinnon. Lippincott, $5.95.

Prof. Mackinnon of Cambridge University is an original thinker whose thoughts are shaped by an awareness that "it is in the laboratories of the molecular biological research unit and in the radio astronomical observatory rather than in the libraries and lecture rooms of the Divinity School that the frontiers of human knowledge are being pushed back."

He sees the new knowledge and discipline testing Christian belief and seeks to relate the philosophical, theological and ethical problems of today. He writes on the theology and philosophy of religion; the ethics, politics and philosophy of history; metaphysics and epistemology.—N.A.

GOOD STUDENTS IN RELEASED TIME STUDY

Some of the high score students who will be honored at the traditional Evangelical Released Time closing program Friday, 7:30 p.m. at Guiding Light Tabernacle, are shown with Mrs. G. McCleary, director for past 13 years. Her son Stephen, who usually played piano at the ceremonies, can't make it this year—he's in the Army in Vietnam. Several former students of Mrs. McCleary are studying for the ministry. Also winding up successful year are the Council of Churches and Roman Catholic sections of Long Beach's released time program. From left, Deborah and Ruth Mathis, David Kogok, fifth graders at Starr King School, Mrs. McCleary, Paula Dempsey and Kendell Morrison, fourth graders at Burnett School.

IN SPIRIT OF VATICAN II

Explains 'Updating of St. Mary's Nuns

The new Coordinator of Religious Personnel for the Sisters of Charity of the Incarnate Word — the Roman Catholic order which staffs St. Mary's Hospital — spent a day in Long Beach this week, and explained the reason for the new post.

"The position was created so we can have a very systematic evaluation of our religious personnel, from the point of view of their developing their potential to the fullest."

With that in view, Sister Mary Dolores is interviewing sisters of the order. A more scientific coordinated personnel approach, patterned after those found so useful by industry, will hopefully result in better placement of sisters according to their abilities, she noted.

Preferences in choice of work, within the context of the order's main tasks, can be expected to play some role.

However, it is not anticipated that there will be many switches from one field of endeavor to another.

"Once you prepare yourself in a particular professional field, you do not lightly change," the coordinator said. "That holds true in a religious order where professional skills are required, as well as in the secular world."

The thinking is more along the lines of evaluating individuals for possible advancement and further realization of talents within their acquired field of competence.

The Sisters of Charity are primarily concerned with the care of the sick, but have branched out recently into allied fields. A program designed to tap the full potential of individuals may find some going into supervising and managerial workshops, and into clinical work. Further education along these lines may be suggested. Sisters of the order have also participated in some cities in the field of inner-city work after their regular duties — all, emphasized Sister Mary Dolores, within a well organized program.

SISTER DOLORES
Scientific Approach

"Yes," she said, "the call is for renewal, interior renewal of the spirit, and also updating the apostolic work in which one is involved."

Reaction of the sisters has been favorable, she reports.

Sister Mary Dolores is visiting four missions on her current swing from the central headquarters in Houston, Tex. In addition to St. Mary's, and St. Bernardine's in San Bernardino, she is visiting a home for the aged and a school in Salt Lake City.

CONFIDENT LIVING

The Way to Skip Discouragement

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Do you get discouraged and downhearted? Well, I have news for you. You can overcome it. There is a way to skip discouragement.

A university dean wanted to discuss his problems. However, this man already had his main problem licked. He had won a tussle with discouragement. It has been a rough experience but he was elated with the outcome.

"By the time I was halfway though college," he told me, "I knew I wanted to be an educator. I love academic life. This was for me. So I went into teaching, worked hard, and in time became a full professor.

"Then later my university offered me the post of administrative dean. I wasn't too keen about admisitrative work. For one thing, I dislike dealing with disciplinary matters. However, it was an opportunity to handle a vitally important job.

* * * *

"BUT THEN came this rash of riots on universiiy campuses. I was appalled at what went on. I would look out my window and see several lines of students marching around with picket signs, shouting obscenities. I saw stone-throwing, I saw bystanders get hurt, saw the police go into action.

"These conditions violated my life-long conception of an academic community as a place where violence was inconceivable, where free unhibited give-and-take of opinions and the cultivation of ideas were the rule of life. Why should I, a scholar, have to deal with problems posed by hate-motivated militancy? I was filled with resentment. There were moments when I felt like chucking the whole rotten business.

"But presently some new ideas began suggesting different considerations. 'I'm a thoughtful man,' I reflected. 'I'm to some degree a perceptive person. So why should I be spared a situation of this kind? And if I meet the challenge of this strange, sad situation on campus, giving it all I've got, with good will and understanding, I may even do some constructive good."

Such creative thought got him on top of things. Sound philosophy prevailed over negative emotions. He now takes administrative problems in his stride. "Don't get me wrong. I can be tough when necessary," he says, "but I think I'm establishing some rapport with students too. Anyway, I'm no longer discouraged by the problem."

Some years ago, following the publication of a book on positive thinking which I wrote, I found myself on the receiving end of many brickbats. They came especially from high echelons in the clergy. And under the impact of this hostility I grew despondent and discouraged.

One day, feeling particularly sorry for myself because of some new diatribe, I happened to encounter on the street a friend by the name of Herbert Clark. This man was an adventurer who had been through several revolutions in Mexico and elsewhere, a man years my senior. He was an indomitable sort of character. "What's the matter with you?" he asked. "You look down in the mouth. You're not your usual self."

I heaved a sigh and told him some of the vituperative criticism I was getting.

He listened attentively, then exclaimed, "Congratulations! Why, when you stir up that must opposition, that's when you know you're really doing something! There's nothing in the world like a good fight! Stand up for what you believe in. You'll grown bigger doing it," And he hit me a clap on the back and proceeded on his way.

* * * *

I'VE GOT to admit that did me a lot more good than any amount of soft sympathy, "Oh, I'm so sorry you're having all this trouble," and that sort of talk. Clark had given me, in strong, terse language, just what I needed: a fast injection of philosophy. It jolted me into taking courage so I could say "the heck with it."

As the word itself indicates, discouragement means a discounting of courage. One thing is sure, the more courage you muster, the faster you snap out of discouragement.

To live successfully in this tough world you need a view of life that includes a philosophic attitude toward trouble. You are bound to have plenty of it, but it's for a purpose - to help develop your powers. Keep your thinking positive. Take difficulty as an opportunity to show yourself the real stuff you're made of. Handle it constructively. And in the process you will become a stronger person. You will feel really alive and happy.

TELE-VUES

Apollo Telecasts Begin on Sunday

By GEORGE ERES
TV-Radio Editor

If all goes as planned, TV networks will begin telecasting coverage of the eight-day moon flight of Apollo 10 Sunday morning, and, again, if everything functions correctly, the first live color television pictures of the moon will be beamed to earth from the spacecraft.

The liftoff for the eight-day flight is set for 9:45 a.m. from Cape Kennedy, Fla. CBS (Ch. 2) and NBC (Ch. 4) are scheduled to go on the air with prelaunch coverage at 8:30 a.m.; ABC (Ch. 7) is scheduled to start coverage at 9 a.m. All networks will have reports and coverage of the moon-flight daily through to the scheduled splash-down at about 9:50 a.m., May 26, in the Pacific Ocean.

Walter Cronkite, Bill Stout, Nelson Benton, Bruce Morton and David Schoumacher will be reporting for CBS. Chet Huntley, David Brinkley, Frank McGee, Peter Hackes, Dr. Frank Field and Roy Neal will report for NBC and the ABC team will be headed by Frank Reynolds and ABC science editor Jules Bergman.

LONG BEACH's Bobby Riha, 11, who scored a hit with Gene Kelly in "Jack and the Beanstalk" in 1967, has been signed as a regular on "The Debbie Reynolds Show," half-hour comedy series to begin next season on Ch. 4, Tuesday nights at 8. He'll play Miss Reynolds' nephew.

Bobby who has been studying singing and dancing since the age of 2 has appeared in guest roles on numerous TV shows and commercials. He was in Walt Disney's film "The Family Band," and will appear in "The Good Guys and the Bad Guys," with Robert Mitchum.

IN ADDITION to local talent, you may recognize some local scenes next season on television. Some of those "Mission: Impossible" scenes where Peter Graves furtively darts into a telephone booth or something to get recorded self-destruct assignments, will be shot in the harbor area. Graves will be filmed listening to messages on the Vincent Thomas bridge and in the Ports of Call area next week.

ANOTHER note of local interest: two UC Irvine professors, Ralph W. Gerard and Stuart Krassner, will be among panelists discussing "Educational Turmoil: Some Alternatives" on KCET (Ch. 28) at 10 p.m., May 21 and 28.

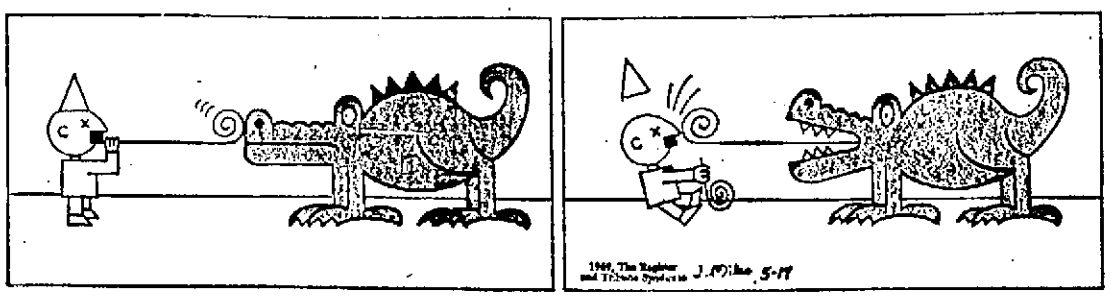

HERB ALPERT and The Tijuana Brass will star in their third network television special on NBC (Ch. 4), in October . . . "Black on Black," KNXT (Ch. 2) 90-minute study of life in South-Central Los Angeles, won the California Associated Press Television and Radio Association certificate of excellence in the documentary category. The station's "Big News" took a certificate for "best regularly scheduled news program", and sport and spot news coverage were cited . . . Differences between Tony Franciosa and Universal which produces "Name of the Game" have been resolved and Franciosa is back in the series.

Apollo Telecasts Begin on Sunday

By GEORGE ERES
TV-Radio Editor

If all goes as planned, TV networks will begin telecasting coverage of the eight-day moon flight of Apollo 10 Sunday morning, and, again, if everything functions correctly, the first live color television pictures of the moon will be beamed to earth from the spacecraft.

The liftoff for the eight-day flight is set for 9:45 a.m. from Cape Kennedy, Fla. CBS (Ch. 2) and NBC (Ch. 4) are scheduled to go on the air with prelaunch coverage at 8:30 a.m.; ABC (Ch. 7) is scheduled to start coverage at 9 a.m. All networks will have reports and coverage of the moon-flight daily through to the scheduled splash-down at about 9:50 a.m., May 26, in the Pacific Ocean.

Walter Cronkite, Bill Stout, Nelson Benton, Bruce Morton and David Schoumacher will be reporting for CBS. Chet Huntley, David Brinkley, Frank McGee, Peter Hackes, Dr. Frank Field and Roy Neal will report for NBC and the ABC team will be headed by Frank Reynolds and ABC science editor Jules Bergman.

Day to day schedules of reports will be found in the daily television logs.

LONG BEACH's Bobby Riha, 11, who scored a hit with Gene Kelly in "Jack and the Beanstalk" in 1967, has been signed as a regular on "The Debbie Reynolds Show," half-hour comedy series to begin next season on Ch. 4, Tuesday nights at 8. He'll play Miss Reynolds' nephew.

Bobby who has been studying singing and dancing since the age of 2 has appeared in guest roles on numerous TV shows and commercials. He was in Walt Disney's film "The Family Band," and will appear in "The Good Guys and the Bad Guys," with Robert Mitchum.

IN ADDITION to local talent, you may recognize some local scenes next season on television. Some of those "Mission: Impossible" scenes where Peter Graves furtively darts into a telephone booth or something to get recorded self-destruct assignments, will be shot in the harbor area. Graves will be filmed listening to messages on the Vincent Thomas bridge and in the Ports of Call area next week.

ANOTHER note of local interest: two UC Irvine professors, Ralph W. Gerard and Stuart Krassner, will be among panelists discussing "Educational Turmoil: Some Alternatives" on KCET (Ch. 28) at 10 p.m., May 21 and 28.

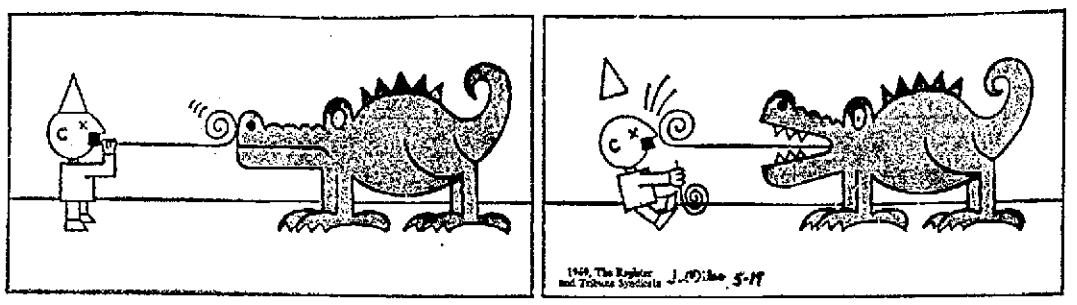

HERB ALPERT and The Tijuana Brass will star in their third network television special on NBC (Ch. 4), in October . . . "Black on Black," KNXT (Ch. 2) 90-minute study of life in South-Central Los Angeles, won the California Associated Press Television and Radio Association certificate of excellence in the documentary category. The station's "Big News" took a certificate for "best regularly scheduled news program", and sport and spot news coverage were cited . . . Differences between Tony Franciosa and Universal which produces "Name of the Game" have been resolved and Franciosa is back in the series.

Heart Valves Implanted in L.B.

By BEN ZINSER
Medical-Science Editor

In a spectacular surgical operation, doctors at St. Mary's Hospital in Long Beach have implanted three man-made valves into a single human heart.

The dramatic procedure is believed the first of its kind performed in the Greater Long Beach area.

The metal valve replacements are clicking away quietly in the heart of Mrs. Verna Sharrar, 60, of 6049 N. Adenmoor Ave., Lakewood.

Hospital spokesmen say she is doing well in the intensive-care unit, and if all goes well, she will be able to return home within a couple of weeks.

She was suffering severe heart failure — inability of the heart to pump adequately all the blood that returns — and as a consequence there was an accumulation of fluid in various parts of her body.

HER CONDITION WAS DESCRIBED as "going progressively downhill."

The villain was rheumatic fever at some time in the past — an infection that damaged three of the heart's four valves.

The mitral valve, two cups (points) between the left upper and lower chambers had become, medically speaking, "incompetent and insufficient"—the valve closed improperly, to admit a backflow of blood in the wrong direction.

The same situation also held for a third valve, the tricuspid — three cusps or triangular segments located between the right heart chambers.

The St. Mary's surgical team removed the three damaged valves — first the mitral or bicuspid, next the aortic and finally the tricuspid.

IN THEIR PLACE WENT THREE artificial valves of the type known as the Starr-Edwards, named for their developers, a surgeon and an engineer. This prosthetic valve consists of a metal cage, its struts covered with knitted Dacron to reduce likelihood of dangerous blood-clot formation, and inside is a hollow metal sphere.

During forward flow of blood, the little metal sphere moves to the apex of the cage, uncovering the valve opening. When forward flow ceases, the sphere seats on the orifice rim to prevent backflow.

But it was no simple matter putting those new valves in place.

For three and one-half hours, a device called a heart-lung machine served as a life-support system for Mrs. Sharrar, taking over temporarily the function of her natural heart and lungs. Hooked up to an artery and a vein, this device pumped oxygen-rich blood through her body while surgeons worked on the heart. Blood bypassed the natural heart and lungs entirely.

In addition, a device called a heat exchanger lowered body temperature from normal 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit to 86 degrees, to slow metabolic processes so body tissues would require less oxygen.

Also, cold blood was coursed around the heart itself, reducing heart temperature to as low as 50 degrees — cold enough to stop heart motion and give surgeons a quiet operative field.

For two hours the heart was kept cold while surgeons installed the new valves.

As the body began to warm toward the end of the valve insertions, the heart began to squirm in irregular contractions — but a single electric shock to the organ caused it to resume regular rhythm.

TOTAL OPERATIVE TIME — "SKIN TO SKIN" as the surgeons say — required seven hours.

At that time a short life was a certainty.

Mrs. Sharrar says she is looking forward most to visiting the mountains.

For years, she explained, she has been unable to travel to higher altitudes because of her heart condition.

Now, thanks to modern surgery, there is, once more, hope.

Indian Airlift Starts

By BILL HOMER
Staff Writer

Carrying a ton of food, clothing and other items, six planes piloted by Skylark Flying Club members will leave Long Beach Airport today on a weekend "helping hand" mission to two Arizona Indian reservations.

The flight, organized to assist Danny Davey, a United Parcel Service employe who has aided the Indians for the past 18 years, is expected to take off about 6 a.m.

Don Temple, vice president of the Skylarks, said the mission will cover about 1,200 air miles. First stop is Winslow, Ariz., where the group will meet Porter and Way.

The planes will leave Winslow for the Poloca Hopi reservation and the Shivley Navajo reservation before returning to Long Beach late Sunday.

Temple said the Skylarks have been helping Davey for the past three years, and now the Indian assistance project will become a permanent club project.

Davey, who received the Orange County Press Club's 1968 Headliners Award for Humanitarianism, maintains a Santa Ana warehouse, where he stockpiles about 20 tons of goods for annual distribution to the Indian families.

Items in Davey's warehouse — everything from food and clothing to baseball equipment are donated by interested citizens.

Council Hopeful Says Incumbent Violated Charter

By BOB HOUSER
Political Editor

Henry Schultz, who placed third in 9th District council balloting Tuesday, announced Friday he will ask the City Council to disqualify the district's incumbent Councilman R. E. (Pat) Corbett "for being in violation of Section 49 of the City Charter."

Schultz, a lawyer, said the charter mandates no person shall be eligible for election to any office "who on the date of his election shall be in litigation against the city."

Corbett won a $3,420 award under the California Workman's Compensation Law, claiming a heart condition was aggravated by his last three years of council service.

SCHULTZ CONTENDS IN A BRIEF he will present at next Tuesday's council meeting that at the time of the May 13 election Corbett was in litigation with the city because the May 14 deadline for the city to petition the Workman's Compensation Board for reconsideration had not passed.

"In the light of this charter violation," said Schultz' brief, "the results of the May 13 election affecting Mr. Corbett should be voided."

He cited cases showing the decision of the Workman's Compensation Appeals Board becomes final only on expiration of the 60-day review period of the Industrial Accident Commission.

Corbett and Russell Rubley were the two high vote getters in the May 13 primary, advancing to the June 3 runoff election. If Corbett should be disqualified, it is presumed Schultz, as third man in the race, would be eligible to runoff against Rubley.

Hayakawa Cites Need of Police

By TONY CILLO
Staff Writer

In a scene of orderly quiet — a sharp contrast to the San Francisco State College campus he heads — Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, Friday night again upheld the use of police to quell campus disorder.

Hayakawa told an attentive Long Beach crowd of 600 at the 85th birthday meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association of Greater Long Beach, "to hesitate to use police when necessary is to invite disaster."

BLACK MILITANTS, he charged, are being "used" by white revolutionaries who remain in the background. These whites, he said, help the dissident blacks with more than "words" — they furnish money, food, jobs and transportation.

"By these means," Hayakawa said again, "blacks are recruited to be cannon fodder . . ."

He said protestors declared their objective was to close the college. "I said they were not going to close down the campus," the acting president recalled.

AT THAT TIME, he said, "I did what I thought was the only sensible thing . . ."

He called in the police.

Later, he emphasized, ". . . If the situation calls for it, we have to call the police."

Just after Hayakawa rose to speak, he asked the house lights in the Lafayette Hotel's International Ballroom be brightened.

Also at the meeting selection of Erna "Jerry" Filinuk as "Y" Woman of the Year, and of Bruce Kerr as "Y" Man of the Year in reward for their service, was announced.

Woman Hunted for Embezzlement

Police said a warrant was issued for the arrest of Mrs. Mary B. Burnam, formerly of 2290 Canehill Ave., who was employed by the foundation from last December through March this year. Bond is set at $6,250.

Mrs. Helen Radloff and Mrs. Delores Guillon, foundation officials, said the wanted woman admitted a $197 shortage last month, but a final audit raised the total shortage to the $4,214 figure.

The mitral valve, two cups (points) between the left upper and lower chambers had become, medically speaking, "incompetent and insufficient"—the valve closed improperly, to admit a backflow of blood in the wrong direction.

The same situation also held for a third valve, the tricuspid — three cusps or triangular segments located between the right heart chambers.

The St. Mary's surgical team removed the three damaged valves — first the mitral or bicuspid, next the aortic and finally the tricuspid.

IN THEIR PLACE WENT THREE artificial valves of the type known as the Starr-Edwards, named for their developers, a surgeon and an engineer. This prosthetic valve consists of a metal cage, its struts covered with knitted Dacron to reduce likelihood of dangerous blood-clot formation, and inside is a hollow metal sphere.

During forward flow of blood, the little metal sphere moves to the apex of the cage, uncovering the valve opening. When forward flow ceases, the sphere seats on the orifice rim to prevent backflow.

But it was no simple matter putting those new valves in place.

For three and one-half hours, a device called a heart-lung machine served as a life-support system for Mrs. Sharrar, taking over temporarily the function of her natural heart and lungs. Hooked up to an artery and a vein, this device pumped oxygen-rich blood through her body while surgeons worked on the heart. Blood bypassed the natural heart and lungs entirely.

In addition, a device called a heat exchanger lowered body temperature from normal 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit to 86 degrees, to slow metabolic processes so body tissues would require less oxygen.

Also, cold blood was coursed around the heart itself, reducing heart temperature to as low as 50 degrees — cold enough to stop heart motion and give surgeons a quiet operative field.

For two hours the heart was kept cold while surgeons installed the new valves.

As the body began to warm toward the end of the valve insertions, the heart began to squirm in irregular contractions — but a single electric shock to the organ caused it to resume regular rhythm.

TOTAL OPERATIVE TIME — "SKIN TO SKIN" as the surgeons say — required seven hours.

Twenty medical personnel were involved in the operation, a St. Mary's spokesman said.

At that time a short life was a certainty.

Mrs. Sharrar says she is looking forward most to visiting the mountains.

"I love the mountains," she said during an interview.

For years, she explained, she has been unable to travel to higher altitudes because of her heart condition.

Now, thanks to modern surgery, there is, once more, hope.

Local USAF Pilot Wins Silver Star

Lt. Col. George H. Terry Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Terry of 2195 Pasadena Ave., was awarded the Silver Star Medal in a ceremony at the Pentagon.

The pin-up honors were performed by Maj. Gen. Sam J. Byerly, USAF deputy director of operations.

COL. TERRY'S ACCOMPANYING citation read, in part:

". . . While supporting a ground reconnaissance patrol (his) unit was attacked and although he was subjected to heavy ground fire (and) his plane was hit several times, he continued marking enemy positions so tactical aircraft could destroy the positions . . ."

Col. Terry earlier received the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service while an operations officer at 7th Air Force headquarters in Saigon.

A veteran of the Korean War, he was commissioned in 1952 under the Aviation Cadet program and currently is on Pentagon assignment.

Indian Airlift Starts

By BILL HOMER
Staff Writer

Carrying a ton of food, clothing and other items, six planes piloted by Skylark Flying Club members will leave Long Beach Airport today on a weekend "helping hand" mission to two Arizona Indian reservations.

The flight, organized to assist Danny Davey, a United Parcel Service employe who has aided the Indians for the past 18 years, is expected to take off about 6 a.m.

Don Temple, vice president of the Skylarks, said the mission will cover about 1,200 air miles. First stop is Winslow, Ariz., where the group will meet Porter and Way.

The planes will leave Winslow for the Poloca Hopi reservation and the Shivley Navajo reservation before returning to Long Beach late Sunday.

Temple said the Skylarks have been helping Davey for the past three years, and now the Indian assistance project will become a permanent club project.

Davey, who received the Orange County Press Club's 1968 Headliners Award for Humanitarianism, maintains a Santa Ana warehouse, where he stockpiles about 20 tons of goods for annual distribution to the Indian families.

Items in Davey's warehouse — everything from food and clothing to baseball equipment are donated by interested citizens.

Council Hopeful Says Incumbent Violated Charter

By BOB HOUSER
Political Editor

Henry Schultz, who placed third in 9th District council balloting Tuesday, announced Friday he will ask the City Council to disqualify the district's incumbent Councilman R. E. (Pat) Corbett "for being in violation of Section 49 of the City Charter."

Schultz, a lawyer, said the charter mandates no person shall be eligible for election to any office "who on the date of his election shall be in litigation against the city."

Corbett won a $3,420 award under the California Workman's Compensation Law, claiming a heart condition was aggravated by his last three years of council service.

SCHULTZ CONTENDS IN A BRIEF he will present at next Tuesday's council meeting that at the time of the May 13 election Corbett was in litigation with the city because the May 14 deadline for the city to petition the Workman's Compensation Board for reconsideration had not passed.

"In the light of this charter violation," said Schultz' brief, "the results of the May 13 election affecting Mr. Corbett should be voided."

Schultz contends also the litigation remains an open matter even beyond the June 3 city final election.

He cited cases showing the decision of the Workman's Compensation Appeals Board becomes final only on expiration of the 60-day review period of the Industrial Accident Commission.

Corbett and Russell Rubley were the two high vote getters in the May 13 primary, advancing to the June 3 runoff election. If Corbett should be disqualified, it is presumed Schultz, as third man in the race, would be eligible to runoff against Rubley.

Hayakawa Cites Need of Police

By TONY CILLO
Staff Writer

In a scene of orderly quiet — a sharp contrast to the San Francisco State College campus he heads — Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, Friday night again upheld the use of police to quell campus disorder.

Hayakawa told an attentive Long Beach crowd of 600 at the 85th birthday meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association of Greater Long Beach, "to hesitate to use police when necessary is to invite disaster."

The outspoken semanticist reiterated remarks about black militants he made earlier to Senate investigators in Washington.

BLACK MILITANTS, he charged, are being "used" by white revolutionaries who remain in the background. These whites, he said, help the dissident blacks with more than "words" — they furnish money, food, jobs and transportation.

"By these means," Hayakawa said again, "blacks are recruited to be cannon fodder . . ."

He said protestors declared their objective was to close the college. "I said they were not going to close down the campus," the acting president recalled.

AT THAT TIME, he said, "I did what I thought was the only sensible thing . . ."

He called in the police.

Later, he emphasized, ". . . If the situation calls for it, we have to call the police."

Just after Hayakawa rose to speak, he asked the house lights in the Lafayette Hotel's International Ballroom be brightened.

"That's so he can see anybody that takes a pot shot at him," whispered one grey-haired woman to an elderly companion.

Also at the meeting selection of Erna "Jerry" Filinuk as "Y" Woman of the Year, and of Bruce Kerr as "Y" Man of the Year in reward for their service, was announced.

Youth Work Project Gets $177,947

The Long Beach Commission on Economic Opportunities has approved a $177,947 Mayor's Youth Council summer program for wide-ranging activities from jobs to camping, partially funded by the federal government.

The council is composed of representatives from schools, youth clubs, teen centers, recreation centers and other groups.

Jobs for youth will be the prime objective of the effort, which also will provide for educational pursuits, cultural endeavors, recreation, camping and a teen achievement program.

In Los Angeles, the Economic and Youth Opportunities Agency previously approved almost a dozen summer projects costing $210,000 in federal anti-poverty funds for the harbor, Hawaiian Gardens and Avalon areas.

Woman Hunted for Embezzlement

A 38-year-old woman bookkeeper, charged with embezzling $4,214 from the Retarded Children's Foundation, was added Friday to the Long Beach police "wanted" list.

Police said a warrant was issued for the arrest of Mrs. Mary B. Burnam, formerly of 2290 Canehill Ave., who was employed by the foundation from last December through March this year. Bond is set at $6,250.

Mrs. Helen Radloff and Mrs. Delores Guillon, foundation officials, said the wanted woman admitted a $197 shortage last month, but a final audit raised the total shortage to the $4,214 figure.

EASY TO WIN ENTER

WIN $2000

DOWN PAYMENT ON THE HOUSE OR PROPERTY OF YOUR CHOICE

The winner of this contest will receive $2,000 down payment on the house or property of his choice. The winner will choose from the many listings of the Real Estate Broker whose ad is drawn on the lucky day.

CLIP-A-HOUSE

Each ad clipped must bear the official house illustration as it appears in this ad. Facsimiles of the ad are acceptable (including mechanical reproductions such as Xerox).

The entire classified ad must be clipped ... not just the house.

ATTACH EACH DAY'S AD(S) TO ONLY ONE COMPLETED BLANK. ENCLOSE IN A SINGLE ENVELOPE AND MAIL TO CLIP-A-HOUSE, INDEPENDENT, PRESS-TELEGRAM CLASSIFIED. DUPLICATE SEPARATE DAILY ENTRIES MUST BE UNDER SEPARATE COVER.

Enter as many times as you want. However, each entry blank submitted must be accompanied by any ad of your choice from each column of the Independent, Press-Telegram Classified Real Estate section for that day. Size of the ad clipped or the size of the house within these ads is not important. Winning entry will be decided by lucky drawing. Then one of the ads you submitted in the lucky envelope will be drawn to decide the winning advertiser.

The winner will be announced Wed., June 4.
Winner must be 18 years of age or older. Employees of the Independent, Press-Telegram and the Orange County Evening News are not eligible to participate in the Clip-a-House Classified Contest.

CLASSIFIED

EASY TO WIN ENTER

WIN $2000

DOWN PAYMENT ON THE HOUSE OR PROPERTY OF YOUR CHOICE

The winner of this contest will receive $2,000 down payment on the house or property of his choice. The winner will choose from the many listings of the Real Estate Broker whose ad is drawn on the lucky day.

CLIP-A-HOUSE

Each ad clipped must bear the official house illustration as it appears in this ad. Facsimiles of the ad are acceptable (including mechanical reproductions such as Xerox).

ATTACH EACH DAY'S AD(S) TO ONLY ONE COMPLETED BLANK. ENCLOSE IN A SINGLE ENVELOPE AND MAIL TO CLIP-A-HOUSE, INDEPENDENT, PRESS-TELEGRAM CLASSIFIED. DUPLICATE SEPARATE DAILY ENTRIES MUST BE UNDER SEPARATE COVER.
Enter as many times as you want. However, each entry blank submitted must be accompanied by any ad of your choice from each column of the Independent, Press-Telegram Classified Real Estate section for that day. Size of the ad clipped or the size of the house within these ads is not important. Winning entry will be decided by lucky drawing. Then one of the ads you submitted in the lucky envelope will be drawn to decide the winning advertiser.
The winner will be announced Wed., June 4.
Winner must be 18 years of age or older. Employees of the Independent, Press-Telegram and the Orange County Evening News are not eligible to participate in the Clip-a-House Classified Contest.
DEADLINE FOR ENTRY: Envelopes must be postmarked on or before midnight Sunday, May 25.
The contest winner will receive a $2,000 down payment in the form of a check made out to the winning Realtor. It is understood that the contest winner will select a property from the listings of the winning Realtor. A reasonable length of time should be allowed for proper consideration and choice of a property. The $2,000 down payment has no cash value and must be used entirely on property.
